The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

R. H. EDDY.

Special Notices.

One of Hunnewell's Preparations.

HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—To make a Cough Remedy thorough for all Throat and Lung Complaints, and to rid the mind of Climatic causes, when the great error has been the introducing of components which debilitate, and by such to restrain the greatest freedom of use, as the only true theory by which such complaints can be effectually cured, was the point made in this valuable preparation. To prevent asking attention to long stories of great cures, and to long descriptive technicalities, I would ask confidence which will be scored in COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, SORE THROAT BRONCHIAL AND ASTHMATIC COMPLAINTS, to all THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS, which, when neglected, end in CONSUMPTION, and to prove the declarations by true results.

Local.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, on Thursday evening, an application from the South Parish for a sidewalk west of the Stone Church, was referred to the committee on streets, with power to act: also, the application of Messrs. Fisher & Eldredge for sidewalk on Bow street.

The subject of paying the bounty of $300 to enlisted men at Fort Constitution who have been drafted into the service of the United States, was referred to Ald. Rider and Broughton.

The Chairman and the City Clerk were authorized to pay a bounty of $50 to four men at Fort Constitution.

A claim was presented by Mr. John Stokell for reimbursement for sheep destroyed by dogs on the night of Aug. 11.—Referred.

A preamble and resolutions in relation to alleged improper treatment of a citizen of Portsmouth by Maj. Wardwell, in command of the U. S. Invalid Corps, were passed. These resolutions rebuke the action of Maj. Wardwell in arresting and confining a young man in Jefferson Hall on Saturday evening last. They represent that on that evening, this young man, while conversing with friends on Market Square, chanced to glance at Maj. W., who was standing near the door of the hall, when the latter in an ungentlemanly manner asked whom he was looking at, to which he replied, in effect—"Are you too good to be looked at? If so, I did not know it."—Whereupon Maj. W. took him by the shoulder and pushed him into Jefferson Hall;—at length, after having kept him there by military force, releasing him without charge being preferred against him, or a trial before any tribunal. The resolutions characterise this act as in violation of our rights as a municipality, and as tending to bring disrepute upon the Invalid Corps, who have ever been treated in a courteous manner by our citizens—it being committed while members of the City Police were near by and fully able to punish any infringement of the laws, had there been such.—It was ordered that a copy of the resolutions be sent to Brig. Gen. Hinks, at Concord, calling his attention to the facts.

☞ The Mercantile Reading Room, which has been conducted for several years by the Portsmouth Mercantile Library Association, has been discontinued; and the Library of the Association is removed to the Hall above the room where recently located. In these days of multiplied newspapers, thrown into your door every hour or two, there is less call for public reading-rooms than formerly; and, for many years, the Mechanics, afterwards this Mercantile news room, has languished in inadequate support, and been a heavy tax on the Societies or parties which supported them, for the benefit of but very few real patrons.

And the most foolish, suicidal move of all was, when the Mercantile room was found to be in arrears,—instead of doubling the price of subscription, the Society actually voted to reduce it! Death soon followed such treatment, of course. If a dealer of any sort, don't appreciate his own wares, he will never find a purchaser who will.

DAN RICE'S GREAT SHOW.—This popular establishment, which is under the immediate control of Dan Rice, "the patriotic showman," is to visit this city on Thursday next, Sept. 17th. Dan has always been a lover of his country, and his patriotism was fully put to the test in the summer of 1861, when he ran the blockade at Memphis, Tenn., but was overtaken at Owensboro, Ky., and his property confiscated by the minions of Jeff. Davis! but not disheartened by these circumstances Dan made the tour of Ohio, addressing war meetings, and contributing liberally from his purse to aid the cause. Dan has now one of the best shows travelling, comprising among the many celebrities a full corps of acrobats, athletes, and gymnasts, and his funny mules Pete and Barney, and his wonderful blind talking horse Excelsior, Jr. This animal is unsurpassed for sagacity and intellect.—Besides, the veritable Dan is with the show, and we all know that he is considerable of a show himself, with his patriotic speeches, amusing and humorous sallies, local hits, and, in fact, his whole budget of fun. So remember Dan's patriotism; his desire and ability to please—also the date of his arrival—and give him a full canvass.

☞ About 300 drafted men and substitutes have been accepted by the Provost Marshal of this District, from Rockingham county alone, and sent to the rendezvous at Concord,—this number not including such as have been furloughed to procure substitutes.

SUNDAY SERVICES.—Mr. W. G. Nowell is to preach at the Unitarian Church tomorrow.

Rev. Mr. Damond will preach at the Court street Christain Church to-morrow.

☞ Rev. Dr. Rust, formerly of this city, has been recently elected President of the Wesleyan Female College at Cincinnati, Ohio, and succeeds President Allyn, who accepts the Presidency of McKendree College.

☞ There was a heavy frost in several of the towns in this vicinity, on Thursday night.

THE INSURANCE BUSINESS.—Few persons, unless they give the subject some attention, are aware what an important item in our commerce, the insurance business makes. Nor can they imagine what an immense amount of money is invested in it.—We have just seen the semi-annual reports of the Home Insurance Company of New York, and we are of the opinion that a more satisfactory statement to the directors, the stockholders, and to the insured, could not be desired. Let us look at some of the figures. The six months report, ending last January, showed the company's assets to be barely one million, seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and the liabilities, seventy-five thousand; while the half-yearly statement, recently made, shows the liabilities to be only sixty-nine thousand, and the assets sum up to more than two millions of dollars.

Farther comment, in this regard is, we think, unnecessary. The officers have lately changed their place of business to No. 135 Broadway, where they have built an immense and grand marble structure, the ground-floor of which is used for the company's office. While most insurance companies of New York are considered safe institutions, we venture the remark that one may feel sure when insured in the "Home"—a name, by the way, we have a liking for.—N. Y. Home Journal.

John S. Harvey, Esq., has for several years been the agent in Portsmouth of the Home Company; and the very large amount of business he has transacted, including the promptest possible payment of all losses, which have been many, and in the aggregate a very heavy amount—has been done to the complete satisfaction of the numerous policy holders, and we presume also to the full acceptance of that staunch Company for which among others, Mr. Harvey acts.

GRACE'S SALVE is acknowledged on all hands to be possessed of much grace to the healing of wounds and sores, &c. We have known it to be speedily and permanently beneficial, in various cases of acute suffering from wounds; and the enterprising proprietor is continually presenting to the public, ample testimony from various quarters, that the Salve has all the great virtue which he claims for it. See the advertisement on fourth page of this paper.

☞ It is stated that the wife of a contractor in Boston recently bought a dozen corrugated sugar spoons for tea spoons, thinking they were a new style!

☞ The Frenchmen are translating Mr. Lincoln's last letter. His "Uncle Sam's web-feet" puzzles them.

☞ See yon fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

"Be thou chaste as ice and as pure as snow, thou shalt not escape using unhealthy compounds in your food," was a true maxim, until Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus came to our relief. Since using it, we feel that there is one article in the way of Saleratus that all can use with healthy results. We have almost cured our dyspepsia, and thanks to the Gold Medal Saleratus for it. Try it, and you will say with us, that perfection has been obtained, and the inventor has immortalized his name forever. Most of the Merchants have it.

FACTS FOR SOLDIERS. — Throughout the Indian and Crimean campaigns, the only medicines which proved themselves able to cure the worst cases of Dysentery, Scurvy and Fever, were HOLLOWAYS PILLS AND OINTMENT. Therefore, let every Volunteer see that he is supplied with them. Only 25 cents per pot or box. 22p

We are apt to be free with our jokes upon doctors and their drugs, until sick and in need of their aid, then all alike bow to the necessity of recourse to their hard-earned and often ill-requited skill. The prevailing belief that physicians frown upon whatever deviates from their peculiar system and usages, arises from the fact that their better information leads them soonest to detect and discard the medical delusions and impositions that are thrust upon the community. They are ready and prompt to adopt any really valuable invention, as seen by the treatment of Dr. J. C. Ayer's Chemical Remedies have received at their hands. They appreciate the value of these medicines because they know their composition, and where is the man who ever heard a respectable physician either disparage them or discourage their use? No profession or product has done more for the human family than the medical profession. None is followed by nobler men or for nobler ends; nor is there one which better deserves the best thanks of mankind.

☞ The Memphis Bulletin of the 1st inst. is informed that the election for rebel Congressmen in Tennessee has resulted in the defeat of the Jeff. Davis candidates in the Nashville and Knoxville districts. H. S. Foote, the wandering politician and representative from Nashville, and Wm. G. Swan, were chosen by the rebel State convention as the exponents of Jeff. Davis' administration, and their election was intended to be an indorsement of it; but the "stump" candidates, John H. Savage and W. N. Cooke, have been elected. Such a result is significant only in the fact that it shows a want of confidence by the rebels in their administration.

GENTS', YOUTHS' & BOYS' HATS AND CAPS, received by J. PEARBORN & CO., Sept 7 MARKET ST.

THE peculiar taint or infection which we call SCROFULA lurks in the constitutions of multitudes of men. It either produces or is produced by an enfeebled, vitiated state of the blood, wherein that fluid becomes incompetent to sustain the vital forces in their vigorous action, and leaves the system to fall into disorder and decay. The scrofulous contamination is variously caused by mercurial disease, bad living, disordered digestion from unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children." The disease it originates take various names, according to the organs it attacks. In the lungs, Scrofula produces tubercles, and finally Consumption; in the glands, swellings which suppurate and become ulcerous sores; in the stomach and bowels, derangements which produce indigestion, dyspepsia, and liver complaints; on the skin, eruptive and cutaneous affections. These, all having the same origin, require the same remedy, viz., purification and invigoration of the blood. Purify the blood, and these dangerous distempers leave you. With feeble, foul, or corrupted blood, you cannot have health; with that "life of the flesh" healthy, you cannot have scrofulous disease.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

is compounded from the most effectual antidotes that medical science has discovered for this afflicting distemper, and for the cure of the disorders it entails. That it is far superior to any other remedy yet devised, is known by all who have given it a trial. This it does combine virtues truly extraordinary in their effect upon this class of complaints, is indisputably proven by the great multitude of publicly known and remarkable cures it has made of the following diseases: King's Evil, or Glandular Swellings, Tumors, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches and Sores, Erysipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Coughs from tuberculous deposits in the lungs, White Swellings, Debility, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Syphilis and Syphilitic Infections, Mercurial Diseases, Female Weaknesses, and indeed, the whole series of complaints that arise from impurity of the blood. Minute reports of individual cases may be found in AYER'S AMERICAN ALMANAC, which is furnished to the druggists for gratuitous distribution, wherein may be learned the directions for its use, and some of the remarkable cures which it has made when all other remedies had failed to afford relief. These cases are purposely taken from all sections of the country, in order that every reader may have access to some one who can speak to him of its benefits from personal experience. Scrofula depresses the vital energies, and thus leaves its victims far more subject to disease and its fatal results than are healthy constitutions; Hence it tends to shorten, and does greatly shorten, the average duration of human life. The vast importance of these considerations has led us to spend years in perfecting a remedy which is adequate to the disease. This we now offer to the public under the name of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, although it is composed of ingredients, some of which exceed the best of Sarsaparilla in alterative power. By its aid you may protect yourself from the suffering and danger of these disorders. Purge out the foul corruptions that rot and fester in the blood, purge out the causes of disease, and vigorous health will follow. By its peculiar tonic virtues this remedy stimulates the vital functions, and thus expels the distempers which lurk within the system or burst out on any part of it.

We know the public have been deceived by many compounds of Sarsaparilla, that promised much and did nothing; but they will neither be deceived nor disappointed in this. Its virtues have been proven by abundant trial, and there remains no question of its surpassing excellence for the cure of the afflicting diseases it is intended to reach. Although under the same name, it is a very different medicine from any other which has been before the people, and is far more effectual than any other which has ever been available to them.

AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL,
The World's Great Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

This has been so long used and so universally known, that we need do no more than assure the public that its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do all it has ever done.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the
CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plates, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.
There is a new style and very superior broiler and and broiler combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.
The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.
For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.
We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.
The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodeling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.
For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, pleasant and agreeable—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.
The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the great amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.
To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while others have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the
MAGEE FURNACE.
The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.
No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the stove can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.
This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.
These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.
For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.
They give entire satisfaction wherever used.
We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber,

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.
1st It is stronger and lighter than any known material.
2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.
3d. When the arch is irregular we can by building out the depressions—which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.
4th No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.
5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a tumbler, or when finished the work presents one whole piece.
6th While in all ways it is better, save in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

VOL. 23. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. MONDAY SEPT. 14, 1863 NO. 64.

The Chronicle.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

"BURLEIGH" ON PRINTED TREASON.—In his New York Letter of last week, to the Boston Journal, Burleigh writes:—

We have some papers among us which could not be induced to give food, clothes or ammunition to the rebels, but who aid them quite as successfully in their way. A man may as well give food as arguments—as well lend ammunition as to atone for treason. Public sentiment is a subtle thing; confidence or despondency can easily be created; a strong reliance in the wisdom and patriotism of the government or a sullen distrust can be sent abroad. The plan of the Press to which I allude is to create a want of confidence in our Rulers—to educate the public mind—to draw a distinction between the Government and the Administration, that men may seem loyal to the one, while resisting the other. To effect this end all rumors of an unfavorable nature are gathered, repeated and put in glowing letters. Each error or mistake is magnified, and a column of treason as news is daily sent forth. The presence of troops in this city affords a fine theme for this talent of treason. Is Meade short of men?—Send back to him the thousands of useless troops in our city, is the remedy. We need air, and troops in the parks prevent us from taking the air, we are told—our servants and children are dying in our houses, all on account of the troops billeted on our people and encamped on our squares

But this canting got a fine rebuke the other day. New York was a loyal city, it was said. We were drifting to military despotism—the government had ordered the presence of thousands of United States troops to overawe the State and nation.—There was a political significance in the military display, it was said, wholly uncalled for, as the State was able to keep the peace and enforce any law of the land.—These sentiments taking rise in the press called out a reply from Gen. Dix. He printed the correspondence with Governor Seymour, in which the Governor refused to execute the law, refused the needed military aid—threw Gen. Dix on the arm of the Government. Nothing has so fully vindicated the action of the President and spiked these guns in regard to the draft, as the printing of the correspondence between Gov. Seymour and Gen. Dix. The one would not allow the State troops to defend the draft. The other would not allow the peace of the city to be broken. The strong man was armed—his goods he kept in peace.

No man doubts that had there been no outside military force in New York, the riot would have been renewed, and even now it is threatened when the drafted men are called for.

FRENCH RECOGNITION.—The Paris correspondent of the New York Commercial Advertiser writes, under date of Paris, Aug. 25th, as follows:

The question of an alliance, offensive and defensive, between the French government and Jeff. Davis, seems to furnish the only hope to the rebels and their friends. But whatever course the government was determined to follow in this matter, it is certain that so far nothing has transpired by which to form any opinion as to what its policy is going to be. The subject, however, is publicly discussed, and the proposition generally admitted that the Empire in Mexico is the commencement of troubles between France and the United States.

It ought to be put on record also, that so well have the French public been manipulated by the ministerial press, that there seems to be no regret at parting with their old friends and allies, the people of the United States.

This brings me to repeat what I have before said in this place, that our government made a great mistake in not being willing to pay a little money for publicity to counteract the pernicious publications of the enemy. They have in fact had things in Europe all their own way, and people have had to rely for the most part for facts on such letters as that just published by Lieut. Maury.

The French government also has committed a great and an unpardonable crime, even if the country is are to remain at peace, in so directing its journals as to estrange two peoples who had every reason to desire, and who, in fact, desired to remain friends.

The rebellion programme has arrived at a state of completion that the rest will depend on the march of affairs in the United States; and it would not be surprising, in case the rebellion should gain some important victory, or the North should show signs of weakness or indifference, if the Emperor should choose that moment for a recognition of the South.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Rosecrans, in reporting the capture of Chattanooga without a struggle, says: "East Tennessee is free. Our move on the enemy's flank and rear progresses, while the tail of his retreating column will not escape unmolested." The headquarters of the Army of the Cumberland are established at Chattanooga.

Gen. Burnside officially reports that the garrison at Cumberland Gap, consisting of over 2000 men with 14 pieces of artillery, unconditionaly surrendered, without a fight, on the 9th. It is reported that Gen. Burnside, upon completing the redemption of East Tennessee, tendered his resignation by telegraph. It is supposed that the political perplexities, which have so constantly beset him in the administration of his department, have caused him to contemplate this move for some time.

Longstreet is said to be in North Carolina, looking after Gen. Peck.

The Louisville Journal says, "we have reason to know that, according to the present programme, Mobile is to be speedily attacked, or at least invested. We attach no importance to the telegraphic rumor that the enterprise has been abandoned."

Dispatches from New Orleans of Sept. 4th, announce that all the troops of that department were in motion. A secret expedition had started, a portion of it under command of Gen. Franklin, leaving New Orleans on the 4th. It is probable that the first move will be to recapture Galveston.

It is said that an extensive movement of troops from New York, seaward, was made on the 9th, but particulars are not to be published. There are now scarcely any troops in New York and Brooklyn.

When our forces entered Forts Wagner and Gregg they found the guns in both spiked, and a lighted fuse leading to the magazine of the former was extinguished just in time to prevent a terrific explosion. But few of the guns are in good condition. Numerous torpedoes were scattered on the premises, but at latest dates had caused us no injury. The dead and mangled bodies of rebels and animals pave the causeway from Wagner to Gregg. It is stated that Gen. Gilmore was determined that if, when we got full possession of Morris Island, Gen. Beauregard did not surrender, he would throw shell into the city for the purpose of destroying it. At daylight on Thursday, the frigate New Ironsides, accompanied by the monitors, steamed in towards Fort Moultrie and commenced a most terrific bombardment of the Sullivan's Island batteries; and about noon there was a terrific explosion in Fort Moultrie. The impression was that a shell had entered one of the service magazines of that work. Our projectiles had also caused a large conflagration on the island.

On the 9th, the Ironsides and monitors were engaged in shelling Fort Moultrie. The Union forces were erecting works from which to shell Charleston. Everything was progressing favorably. Our troops met with no loss at the evacuation of Morris Island. The town of Moultrevile was half burnt: the Sullivan Island forts were much damaged. On the 8th, a boat expedition from the fleet attempted to storm Fort Sumter, but was repulsed with a loss of a number killed, wounded and prisoners. Six Lieutenants and one ensign were captured on the walls of the fort. 30 launches engaged in the attack, and all our batteries bearing on the fort assisted. We lost 130 men, taken prisoners, and 4 colors—including the flag hauled down by Maj. Anderson, which Adm. Dahlgren intended to replace.

Georgia soldiers have destroyed the office of the Raleigh, N. C., Standard, a loyal paper, and the citizens, in return, destroyed that of the State Journal.

Kirby Smith has appealed to the men of the South-west to rally to his standard, or the Confederacy is doomed.

☞ Judge Cadwallader, of the U. S. District Court, Philadelphia, while deciding that the Conscription act is constitutional, gives his opinion that the decision of the Board of Enrolment in regard to a conscript is not final, but that an appeal to the Courts through the writ of habeas corpus can be made.

☞ A telegram from Quebec says that the steamers Bowmanville and Caledonia are understood to be fitting out there to run the Southern blockade, and that Hon. Mr. Canahan is interested in the speculation.

☞ The American Telegraph Company announce the opening of an office at Chattanooga and the reception of business for that place.

☞ The largest bank organized under the National Act will be the Third National Bank of New York, which will begin with a capital of $5,000,000, with the privilege of increasing it to $50,000,000.

—— One hundred and seventy-seven men, from the Conscript Camp in Concord, were sent, on Thursday, to the 10th N. H. Regt. at Portsmouth, Va. This is the first installment of drafted men from this State. Forty-three convalescents and deserters were also sent to the 2d N. H. Subsequently upon the reception of such permission, the Commission was issued.

—— The re-building of the N. H. Conference Seminary has commenced, the foundation being completed. The location of the building has been changed from Northfield to Sanbornton side, on the height of land just northwest from the village. The main building is to be of brick, three stories high, and 40 x 74 feet. There are to be two boarding houses also of brick, for gentlemen and ladies, but are to be disconnected from the main building, the whole to cost about $20,000. It is to be completed this fall.

☞ The report in a Washington despatch that Commander George A. Prentiss had been missing for some weeks past, has elicited a statement that "after fourteen months of hard service in command of the blockading force from Cape Fear to Cape Lookout on the North Carolina coast, during which period no instance occurred of a violation, while several prizes were sent in, his health was impaired, and at his request, he was relieved. He has been recruiting his health the past summer at North Canaan, in Connecticut, where he has remained, waiting orders."

☞ Bill Smith, one of the first "cracksmen" in the country, is under arrest in New York on suspicion of being the individual who robbed a safe at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, in April last, of $130,000 in greenbacks belonging to the government. Smith left for Europe shortly after the robbery was committed, and returned only a week or two since. Some years ago Smith was arrested on a charge of having been concerned with Jack Rand in robbing a bank in Canada of $96,000.

☞ B. H. Richardson and his son Frank A. Richardson, and Stephen J. Joyce, proprietors of the Baltimore Republican, who have been frequently warned against the publication of disloyal sentiments, have been arrested by order of Gen. Schenck, for publishing in their paper a piece of poetry entitled "The Southern Cross," and ordered South. The three were sent across our lines.

☞ The Portland Press states that Messrs. Chase Brothers & Co., of that city, on Friday sold to the Portland Sugar House Co., 7000 casks of molasses, amounting to the sum of $400,000—the largest sale of molasses ever made in that market.

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

Collected and Collated — By Uncle Tony.

Lt. Gov. Vaughan—Rev. Mr. Emerson—strife of parishes and politicians in 1715–17.—Mr. Adams has described the strife of parties at this period, very accurately, as follows:

George Vaughan, son of Major William Vaughan, had been employed in England as an agent for the province, which brought him into notice with many persons of influence about the Court. The acquaintance and connexion his father had formed there, and the good opinion entertained of him by some high in rank and authority, were of essential service to the son. Upon their recommendation he was appointed Lieutenant Governor of New-Hampshire. As he was a native of the province and had the confidence of the people, this appointment was very agreeable to them, and particularly gratifying to his father, who was now in the decline of life. Mr. Vaughan returned to his native place and published his commission here on the 13th of October. Elisetus Burgess was appointed Governor of Massachusetts and New-Hampshire; but remained still in England. As Governor Dudley was in daily expectation of his arrival, he did not visit this province, so that the government was administered by Vaughan. When he commenced his administration, Lieutenant Governor Usher bid adieu to public life, and retired to a very elegant seat, which he owned in Medford, where he passed the remainder of his days. Mr. Usher was born in Boston, and followed the business of a stationer there. He sustained a fair character as a trader, and by close attention to his business acquired a large property. He labored under the disadvantage of not having received an early education. In his intercourse with mankind his manners were austere; an affected superiority rendered him unpopular. He continued to reside in Boston after his appointment of Lieutenant Governor, and pursued his former employment with unremitted ardor. He frequently visited the province under pretence of discharging the duties of his office, to which he attached great importance. His expectations of increasing his fortune were fallacious, and disappointment accompanied every attempt to enrich himself in the province. He died at Medford, September 5th, 1726, in the 78th year of his age.

Lieutenant Governor Vaughan caused an assembly to be summoned, which met on the 8th of November.

The General Court made him a grant of the money raised by the impost and excise for one year, but refused to continue those duties any longer, upon which he dissolved them.

The animosity, excited in the town by the erection of a new parish, still subsisted and produced unpleasant controversies among the inhabitants. The selectmen neglected to pay Mr. Emerson's salary, in consequence of which some of them were arrested. The town resented this proceeding, and on the 26th of March 1716 voted, "That if any lawsuit on the like occasion be again commenced, that it be impleaded at the expense of the town, for that he is not the settled minister of the town, pursuant to order of the government and vote of the town of 1714."

These altercations not only interrupted the harmony in town affairs, but extended also to the provincial government. Several members of the Council and Assembly belonged to Portsmouth, and took different sides in the dispute. Their prejudices led them to the same opposition on whatever question came before them.

Lieutenant Governor Vaughan summoned a new assembly, which met the 21st of August, and recommended to them the "establishment of a perpetual revenue to the King." The Assembly chose to raise the money for the support of the government, in the usual manner by direct tax on polls and estates, and declined granting any impost.

Governor Shute arrived on the 17th of October, when a great change was made in the Council. Several of the old Counsellors were dropped, and six new ones, all belonging to Portsmouth, were appointed.

Governor Shute met the Assembly on the 10th of January, 1717, and in his speech took notice of the animosity which prevailed among them, and recommended a more conciliatory disposition. In their answer they mentioned the removal of the old Counsellors as a grievance, and stated that all the new appointments, as well in the Council, as in the Judicial Courts, were confined to the inhabitants of Portsmouth, which gave an advantage to the trading over the landed interest. An alteration having taken place between the Governor and house of Representatives with respect to issuing bills on loan, he dissolved them; and caused a new assembly to be summoned, who passed an act for issuing fifteen thousand pounds in bills on loan, for eleven years at ten per cent.

The town continued to show their resentment towards Mr. Emerson, and those that abetted him; on the 25th of March they passed the following vote, viz. "Whereas by virtue of a pretended vote on the 9th of September, 1713, there is a sham agreement made with Mr. Emerson to officiate as a minister at the old meeting-house, the same being clandestinely put upon record, voted, that the same be null, and rased out of the town-book, for that he the said Emerson is not a legal settled minister of this town."

On the 26th of June the American steamer Pembroke was attacked at Simonski, by vessels of the Prince of Nagoti.—On the 16th of July the Wyoming blew up the steamer, sunk a 10-gun brig, and damaged six batteries, with the loss of four men killed and seven wounded. A French gunboat was fired into on the 8th of July, and a Dutch ship-of-war on the 11th, at the same place. On the 20th of July the French Admiral destroyed one of the batteries.

☞ Gen. Banks has declared trade between New Orleans and the West free from restriction.

☞ A gratifying reduction of prices in the Boston market is reported by the Post. It is refreshing even to read it, and would become inexpressively so, could we realize a similar change in this latitude. Mutton is put down at from 5 to 11 cents; veal about the same, and beef several cents lower than a few weeks since, when it stood at 14 cents. The fish market is well supplied, and at least by sellers the prices are regarded as scaly.

☞ Charles Bird, treasurer of Sacramento, Cal., has absconded to Mexico, being a defaulter to the extent of $20,000. He had previously held a good character and owes his present disgrace to gambling.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on the shortest terms, and with dispatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that there is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in the form to secure the earliest and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sured having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on more rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

Special Notices.

One of Hunnewell's Preparations.

HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—To make a Cough Remedy thorough for all Throat and Lung Complaints, and to rid the mind of Climatic causes, when the great error has been the introducing of components which debilitate, and by such to restrain the greatest freedom of use, as the only true theory by which such complaints can be effectually cure, was the point made in the valuable preparation. To prevent asking attention to long stories of great cures, and to long descriptive technicalities, I would ask confidence which will be sacred, in COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, SORE THROAT BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC COMPLAINTS, to all THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS which, when neglected, end in CONSUMPTION, and to prove the declarations by time results.

Local.

☞ An intemperate man was sentenced, before the Police Court on Saturday morning, to sixty days' confinement in the House of Correction, on a charge of being a common drunkard,—the arrest having been made at the request of friends who had done all in their power to reclaim him, but had labored unsuccessfully. He was removed, as is customary, to the Station House, to await the usual conveyance which should carry him to the place; but in the afternoon, probably between 2 and 3 o'clock, he hung himself with a rope at the door of one of the cells, he having been left in the outer part of the station-house, and not locked up in a cell. When discovered, about half-past three, he was quite dead. One of the officers saw him at half-past one, and he then appeared quiet and rational; but it is said he has recently been low spirited, especially since the death of his wife, which occurred about six weeks ago. He even stated to one of the officers recently that he "wished he was overboard, out of the way." He has of late drank deeply and recklessly.

An inquest was held at the City Marshal's office on Saturday evening by John Bennott, Esq., Justice of the Peace and the Quorum, the jury consisting of Messrs. J. E. Rider, Samuel W. Moses, and Wm. D. Furland. The testimony of City Marshal Bragdon and of Officers Joy and Johnson was taken, and the jury rendered a verdict that "the deceased came to his death by committing suicide, by hanging himself at the door of Cell No. 5 in the Station House."

☞ The Washington correspondent of the Concord Statesman says that Col. Jackson, who was ordered to Washington under arrest for an alleged communication of information of matters connected with the operations at Charleston, to the Boston Transcript, was promptly released—the charge proving to be entirely without foundation.

☞ Considerable remark has been excited recently, by the unusual number of drunken men in the streets of our city, especially in the evening; and we are told that a drunken straggler a few evenings since, followed an Irish woman in Court street, and on her approaching the door of the house at which she lived, without provocation of any kind, knocked her down.

SINGING SCHOOL.—The first term of Mr. Davis' Singing School will close on Wednesday of this week,—the Juvenile Class at 3 in the afternoon, and the Evening Class at half-past 7, in Mercantile Hall. Parents and friends of the scholars and the school, are invited by the Com. of Arr., to be present on the occasion.

☞ The body of Mr. Henry L. Danielson, who was drowned in Portsmouth harbor about two weeks since, was found near Wood Island on Saturday.

☞ The U. S. steamer Alabama has arrived in our lower harbor, having been towed around from New York by the steamer Star of the West.

☞ A friend suggests to Uncle Toby, the propriety or duty of examining and replying to violent and bitter attacks made in print on some of our best citizens and most loyal men; but though willing to examine, if need be,—we are not disposed to notice such things, nor to reply to most of them. We believe that "error in opinion may be safely tolerated if reason be left free to combat it;" and are therefore fond of discussing questions that rest on some principle. But when a vehicle of abuse and falsehood is started and run for the purpose of opposing the government and aiding the rebels, we do not feel bound to correct all its errors, even though some people may (as it is suggested they do) believe many of its falsehoods.

Such people, we suppose, have heads impervious to argument, and therefore we do not waste words upon them; we address another class of minds.

To those who can understand the logic of events, we say, look at New Orleans, Port Hudson, Vicksburg, Knoxville, Chattanooga, Port Royal, Fort Pulaski and Fort Wagner. Look at what the loyal people of the United States are doing and paying and suffering, in order to suppress the rebellion, make peace, and secure liberty to man, and wages to the workingman,—and then, if any man will aid the rebels and worship their idols,—he must do so, as far as we are concerned.

It would be useless to sue a pauper for a libel, or to bandy words with a blackguard, and worse than useless to reason with any man who cannot discern the signs of the times.

We can use our time and space to better advantage, when we point to the New York riot as the fruit of the New York election—and chronicle Vermont and California elections, on the other hand!

The rebellion is on its way down toward its own place, and when treason and slavery are buried there with it, then let all the people say Amen.

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

From the Journal
ALBERT W. HAM.

REVIEW.—Just thirty years ago this month, in Sept. 1833, a lad of fifteen, of pleasant countenance and obliging manners, entered our office an apprentice, after carrying the papers for several years. It was in the same room we now occupy, and which we had occupied several years previously. The lad was pleased with the business, and we could see no occasion to find any fault with him. So he remained with us, and as years rolled on perfected himself in the various branches of the office, and in due time passed out of his minority. He was invited to remain as a journeyman, and as he was faithful and devoted to the interests of the office, and a good workman, it has been a gratification to have his services so long as he was willing to remain. In this position no less than thirty years have thus passed away, and the lad of fifteen, has advanced to an age which the second draft cannot reach; never having worked a week in any other office, he has spent all this long term in the same room and almost in the same spot. In the time, the stairs and floor have been worn out and renewed, and new shingles have twice covered the roof, and new types have become old and renewed again and again.—In the same time in the great political world, the excitements of thirty State and seven Presidential elections have taken place, and a whole generation have passed from the stage of action—infants have passed into middle life, and young men have become gray headed,—but in all this time so harmonious has been the feelings in our office relations, that not a single act of our friend has taken place that we can remember, where there was occasion for the most trifling rebuke—however remarkable this may appear as at variance from human nature, yet it is not said with the least reservation.

But changes must come, and our good friend and foreman, Mr. ALBERT W. HAM, has this week retired from the types and shadows of the Printing Office, to enter on the occupancy of his pleasant country seat in West Medway, Mass.

Ever prompt and at his post, he has faithfully done for others as he would have others do for him. While discharging his duties to the office, he has found time to attend to various municipal offices which he has been called upon by his fellow citizens to fill. While we regret his departure, we yet think him wise in entering upon a good farm, where away from perplexing his brains with bad manuscripts, he may, amid his choice grapery, orchard and strawberry fields, literally sit down under his own vines and fruit trees, and enjoy with his family that lease of life which we hope will be long extended.

AN EARTHQUAKE IN ST. LOUIS.—Three distinct shocks of an earthquake were felt in St. Louis early on Friday night last, the first shock occurring at ten minutes to eight o'clock. Each shock lasted from six to seven minutes, and an interval of about the same length of time occurred between them. The shocks were accompanied by a low, rumbling noise, like distant thunder, and the buildings were distinctly shaken in some localities. The moon was shining brightly at the time, and a slight breeze was stirring.

THE MORRIS ISLAND VICTORY.—The N. Y. Express remarks that to estimate the importance of the evacuation of Morris Island by the enemy, it ought to be borne in mind that Fort Wagner was one of the strongest works ever constructed by the rebels. Thousands of slaves are said to have labored for months upon it, until the thickness of its walls seemed to bid defiance to any ordnance which we could bring to bear against it. The bombproof of the fort was a building of very heavy timber, covered by an immense mound of earth and sandbags. Upon either end an entrance and signal passages led through and through the structure, and every avenue of approach was swept by guns of the heaviest calibre. The dry marsh which flanked it on the left was known to be filled with torpedoes of the most destructive character.

MISSING NAVAL OFFICER.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Commander George A. Prentiss has been missing for some time past, and therefore the Navy Department is concerned for his safety.

[Com. Prentiss is the son of our good friend Hon. John Prentiss of Keene. We hope he will not so soon be called to part with another and his last on.]

SONGS FOR WAR TIME—is the title of a neat pamphlet of 32 pages, containing a collection of German Airs with English Words, for the Army the Family and the School. It is prepared by Rev. W. L. Gage, and published by Gould & Lincoln, Boston. The work has been prepared with much care, the songs are of the right class, and the music new to American ears. It being offered at the low price of ten copies for a dollar, we trust it will have the extensive circulation it deserves.

OUR REBELLION is apparently but gasping for existence. The uniform successes in all the West; the great expedition on its way to Texas; the expected fall of Charleston, and the uniform accounts of discouragements in the Confederate armies, are signs not to be mistaken.

HUMORS OF MAINE POLITICS.—An amusing incident occurred in Oxford County last week, as we learn from the Democrat. By mistake Virgil D. Parris and Rev. Mr. Garland exchanged carpet bags. The former was on route to a Copperhead meeting and the latter was going to exchange pulpits with another clergyman. Parris went to Newry with a discourse on the times, while the clergyman had in return a Copperhead speech—a bottle of whiskey, and a John Brown pike!

We hope Gen. Banks's expedition is destined to the Rio Grande, to liberate West Texas, and at the same time, look Bonaparte's Mexican Emperor in the face; for we have no faith in his master's friendship. Our rebels are looking for sympathy and aid from Mexico, no doubt.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the
CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room, and the sad iron heaters by means of a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, which can be opened day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove. Hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.
The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodeling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable article.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, it tends to prevent headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the great est amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating apparatus have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot escape, and are prevented from the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, leading the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Olse, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber,

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.
1st It is stronger and lighter than any known material.
2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.
3d. Whole upper arch is represented by building out the depressions—which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.
4th No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it the least.
5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a saucer, as when Rubber is worn the work presents one whole piece.
6th. While in many cases it is better, save in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

Daily Morning Chronicle

VOL. 23. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. TUESDAY SEPT. 15, 1863. NO. 65.

The Chronicle.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

TRIP TO THE WHITE MOUNTAINS.

JOTTINGS ON THE WAY.—By J. H. H.

While at the Crawford House, I ascended Mt. Washington on horseback, which in pleasures, romances and beauties far exceeds the ascent by the carriage road. We made the ascent of Mt. Willard, visited Silver Cascade, the Flume, &c. Carriages run regularly from the house to the very summit of Mt. Willard; and horses are furnished to those who wish to ride horseback. Our party took the latter mode of conveyance. I was so unfortunate as to select a horse that had been frightened in his youth by a stage coach, and when about forty rods from the house, the morning stage passed us, which resulted in my being thrown among a pile of stones at the side of the road. A substitute, named Old Abe, in memory of the veteran Crawford, was furnished, and we proceeded on our way. From the summit of this mountain you have a view of the Notch, and trace the carriage road winding through it. Down the rugged face of the mountains opposite, you can trace innumerable cascades glistening in the sun. This landscape is as attractive as anything in the vicinity of the Crawford House, and will amply repay the traveller for making the ascent. The Silver Cascade will not compare with the Crystal Cascade at the other side of the mountain, yet it is very beautiful. Its chief charm is in the perpendicular descent of water for a distance of four hundred feet. A half mile walk from the house brings you to it: the mountains rise almost perpendicularly on each side of you, causing you to feel the impressiveness of the foaming torrent. You may spend hours in this spot and yet wish to return to gaze on its beauty.

It was one of the finest days of the year that we made our ascent of Mt. Washington on horseback. Not a cloud was to be seen in the horizon. Our party of ladies and gentlemen, numbering sixty, were gathered at the end of the piazza, and the guests of the house had congregated there to witness the departure of the strange looking cavaliers. We were dressed in all sorts of strange costumes, which had been donned more for comfort than for appearance.—We pass in single file into the woods, and there the guide leads out the slow horses for the front, leaving the fast ones to bring up the rear. By this manœuvre friends are separated from each other. The husband from the wife—the sister from the brother—the gallant from his lady love. The beauties on the way, and the dangers of the road soon bring out feelings of sympathy from all, and strangers (for the time) become quite intimate friends. The path for a long distance lies through a wild forest. Now we pass over corduroy roads.—Springs of water are on the path, where the horses quench their thirst. We pass over Mt. Clinton, and ascend Mt. Pleasant, where the bridle path winds along the edge of dangerous precipices. We now are climbing up Mt. Franklin; thousands of feet below us stretches the forest like a carpet. The advance of our party winds along the lofty crage above our heads. It is almost fearful to look up at them, but we soon reach the rocks and look down in safety upon those below. The path is strown with mica and quartz rocks, while here and there delicate white flowers peep out from their hiding places. We at last ascend the cone of Mt. Washington, and stand on the roof of the Tip Top House.

We found a hundred visitors from the Glen and Alpine Houses. The view was the best of the season. For a circuit of six hundred miles the eye has a clear range.—A valley of mountains lie before you. The ocean can be seen with a glass, and at sunrise ships were visible. The Green Mountains loom up through the blue haze, Winnipisauken glitens like a diamond in the distance, and a hundred lakes, ponds, rivers and dashing mountain streams enliven every shady glen with flitting lights and shades.—grand and beautiful. "Ye who delight to behold the works of nature in their most sublime flights, come to these mountains! Ye who have a love for novelty and a desire for true pleasure, come and behold God's wisdom displayed in the bold outlines of these gigantic monuments of his almighty power. There the undying features of grandeur were moulded in imperishable materials by his hand."

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1863.

THE REBELLION

The recent boat expedition against Fort Sumter consisted of between twenty-five and thirty boats, manned by over one hundred sailors and one hundred marines, commanded by Com. Stevens of the Patapsco. Three boats landed, and the parties attempted to run up the ruins to the parapet. They were fired upon by musketry, and hand grenades were thrown down upon them, and as the slope was sharp they were unable to reach the parapet. A signal was given from the fort, and all the rebel batteries opened on the fort and shelled it terribly. The three boats were smashed and all who landed were killed or captured.—Lieut. Bradford of the marines was mortally wounded. Forty or fifty sailors and marines were killed and wounded, and the entire list of casualties will number eighty.—The remainder of the command retired in safety. A flag of truce states that our men were in Fort Sumter and well treated.

Large numbers of deserters from Bragg's army are coming into our lines.

Lee's army for several days has been abandoning the Rappahannock line and falling back on Gordonsville. On Sunday our forces occupied Culpepper. Gen. Pleasanton advanced to a position 3 miles beyond, after considerable skirmishing with the enemy. We captured 3 guns and 40 prisoners. The rebel movement was unexpected. One corps of Lee's army is thought to be going to Richmond. It is said a portion of his forces have gone to endeavor to avert Bragg's doom.

☞ The Jews on Sunday, the first day of the 7th month or Tishri, inaugurated the series of Fall holidays by the celebration of the feast of Rosh-Hashanah, or the New Years. The year thus entered upon, according to the Jewish Era, is 5,624 since the creation of the world. The holiday is considered by every Jew as one of the most holy in the year, second only to the day of Atonement, which occurs ten days later. The latter day, the highest feast of the Jews, is celebrated in accordance with the command of Leviticus xxiii, 26 to 32, and is held in the highest awe by every believer in the Mosaic law. Every Jew, who had a quarrel with his neighbor, makes it up before the recurrence of the Day of Atonement. On this day no meat or drink can be taken from sundown to sundown, and night and day are spent in continued prayer.

MEXICO STILL RESISTING.—The latest intelligence from Vera Cruz, via Havana is important as serving to confirm the statement of Escobar, that after twenty capitals now refusing their allegiance have been taken, "the districts will still continue the war." Ortega, the Mexican general-in-chief who made such heroic resistance at Puebla, is fortifying Guadalajara in great strength, and Doblado (who was lately represented on French authority as having, with Comonfort, given in his adhesion to the usurpers) is energetically raising troops in the west.

☞ A "gentleman" in Manchester, England, fell in love with a young lady, rich, highly connected and beautiful. She refused him; he plunged a knife into her bosom, kissed her bleeding corse, and mourned for "poor Betsy" in a tone of great affection. The poor girl died, and the "gentleman" was lodged in prison. If this had happened in this country, the English would have become excited over the barbarism of America.

☞ The Sanitary Commission have advices of the shipment of $10,000 in silver bars from San Francisco, on the 3d inst., a contribution from the citizens of Story county, Nevada, for the use of the commission. A similar contribution, of the value of $30,000, has been previously received from the same territory.

☞ The Paris correspondent of the London Morning Herald understands that in a French Cabinet council the expediency of recognizing the Southern Confederacy was discussed. A majority were in favor of doing so, but a final decision was not arrived at.

☞ Nearly complete returns make the majority for the Union State ticket in California nearly 20,000. Thirty-three Democrats are elected to the State Senate and sixty-five Unionists. Five Democratic Assemblymen are elected.

☞ In Minnesota the Democratic candidates for Secretary of State, Treasurer, and Clerk of the Supreme Court, decline to accept their nomination, in consequence of the extremely disloyal platform adopted by the convention.

☞ The report, which was on rebel authority, that the flag that Maj. Anderson had with him at Fort Sumter was taken, is untrue. Peter Hart, the hero who had so much to do with it at the time, says the flag is in safe keeping New York.

THE ELECTION IN MAINE for State officers occurred on Monday. The issues were well defined, the parties being divided squarely on national issues. A very large vote was thrown, and so far as heard from, the Union ticket gains largely over last year. Returns indicate that it has carried York county by a decided majority, while it made large gains in Portland, Saco, Biddeford, Lewiston and other cities; and a Portland dispatch states that leading Democrats concede the election of Cony.

The whole vote in Kittery was 634. For Governor, Cony, Union, had 363; Bradbury, Dem., 274. The votes for Senators, County Treasurer, and County Commissioner, were about the same. John Rogers, Union, was elected Representative, receiving 352 votes, to 272 for Isaac D. Phillips, Democratic candidate. Last year the vote of Kittery was—Republican 272, Democratic 223.

BURGLARY.—The Bangor Times states that some daring burglars procured an entrance into the depot of the B. O. & Maine railway, on Thursday, blew up the heavy safe with gunpowder, throwing it some three feet, and completely smashing in the door. They succeeded in getting something above three hundred dollars in cash. No trace of the villians has yet been found, and the prospect of doing so is dubious. The inmate of a house near by testified that he heard an explosion which sounded like the report of a cannon, under his window, but he didn't get up because he waited to see if they wouldn't fire again.

☞ A Washington despatch says: "Inquiries respecting the reported placing of General McClellan on 'retired pay,' have developed the fact that an act of Congress provides that when an army officer shall have remained unemployed for six months, all allowances for servants and horses shall cease. The application of this law to Gen. McClellan is the basis of his reported 'retirement,' which he shares with Gen. Fremont, Gen. Butler, Gen. Buell, and others."

☞ The Secretary of the Navy having returned from his brief visit to the several navy yards, expresses his gratification with the progress making in the construction and repair of vessels, and the energy with which every branch of the varied business of the yards is conducted. The number of men employed was never greater than at the present time.

☞ One hundred and seventy-five sacks of rice of the new crop was received in New Orleans on the 4th inst. The rice is of superior quality and comes from Plaquemines parish. Last year the first lot of creole rice of the season offered for sale in that Market was on the 30th day of September.

We also notice the arrival, on the 2d, of a lugger bringing two hundred bunches of bananas, which were raised in the parish of Plaquemines.

☞ Gen. Butler is about to take the stump in Pennsylvania and address the people of that State, favoring the election of Gov. Curtin and the remainder of the Administration ticket. The election takes place the second week in October.

☞ New Jersey is getting small and beautifully less. The shore has been, and now is, subsiding at the rate of two feet in a hundred years. An island which is laid down on a map of 1694 as containing three hundred acres, now shows at low water only half an acre, and at high water is entirely covered.

☞ A workman on a staging in Paris sneezed. The sneeze made him drop a stone, the stone dashed a man's brains out and the man's falling body dislodged four other workmen who occupied lower stagings. The damage was considerable.

CITY TREES.—A correspondent complains that the city, or private individuals, are injuring the trees in Spring and Park streets, by trimming them at this late period. Mr. S. L. Goodale, the best authority in Maine, says that they should only be trimmed between the middle of June and July. The lopping off of the lower pendant branches, he says, is, "according to the books," an act of vandalism.—Portland Press.

☞ Two valuable gray horses ran away in Lawrence, Mass., on Saturday afternoon, while on the canal track. One of them fell and slipped into the canal, drawing the other with him, and both were drowned.

☞ The President refuses to accept the resignation of Gen. Burnside, and desires him to remain in command in East Tennessee.

☞ A thousand dollar horse had to be killed in Hartford, one day last week, because its leg was broken in the stable by the kick of its mate.

☞ Parson Brownlow's paper is to be called "Brownlow's Knoxville Whig and Rebel Ventilator."

☞ The N. O. correspondent of the St. Louis Republican says that expeditions are fitting out there for both Mobile and Texas.

☞ Henry F. Durant, Esq., of the Suffolk, Mass., Bar, has retired from the active duties of the profession.

☞ Eighteen new iron-clads have been launched within a few weeks.

☞ The Vanderbilt sailed from Rio Janeiro August 3, and the Mohican July 31.

LETTER FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.

Dear Chronicle:—The winter season of entertainment has fairly opened. Forrest and Bandmann are alternating at Niblo's, and a half-dozen of our theatres have a play with spectral illusion called "The Ghost." Two new halls have been opened since the 1st—the "Broadway Theatre," opposite the Metropolitan Hotel, and the "New York," at Wallack's old stand, corner of Broome St. The former will succeed, but the latter is too far down town to be aristocratic, and has from recent occupation too bad an odor to be well patronized.

We have of late a wonderful prodigy,—an official who has conceived that he was elected for the good of the public, and not his own. Queer! isn't it? He is Street Inspector Boole, who, as Alderman, figured prominently on the Japanese reception and fund committees. He has displayed a keen, comprehensive, and prompt executive ability and has completely renovated the department so essential to the health and consequent prosperity of the metropolis. One of his measures has removed the unsightly rich barrels on the pavement, and substituted the ringing of a bell ten minutes in advance of the scavengers. He last week memorialized the City Goverment to abolish the slaughter houses and establish abattoirs on the French plan in the upper districts, near the rivers. Boole is supposed to have his "single eye" on the Mayoralty.

Dr. Chapin's church was crowded last Sabbath, the first since his return from Europe. In closing, he expressed his regret at finding those who "held up the white feather to be fanned derisively by rebel winds, meek preachers of the Sermon on the Mount crying peace! peace! when there is no peace, forgetting Christ's other doctrine, which should be the cry of the people till the right is everywhere exalted, 'I came not to bring peace, but a sword.'"

On Thursday last, two of our most esteemed friends, amid the best wishes, and congratulations of all, launched upon the sea of matrimony, and moored their barks together for a life trip, adown the stream of Time.

The lady is one of the fairest of the fair daughters of the metropolis, and the gentleman, Mr. Frank R. Sherwin, of the new house of Sherwin, Nowell, & Pratt, Milwaukee. The bridesmaids were six in number, and of the attendant grooms, two are familiar to my readers,—Mr. A. Gus. Paine, of that live concern Allen & Paine, and Mr. F. E. Wetherell, of Jordan, Marsh & Co., the great New York and Boston Jobbers. Mutual friends are assured that they were elegantly prepared for the occasion, and deported themselves with their natural grace and becoming dignity.

The appeal of the beautiful bridal party, superb in its richness and spotless purity, the full, clear, rich tones of the bishop, pronouncing the solemn blessing of the Episcopal service, "God the Father, God the Son, God the Holy Ghost, bless, preserve, and keep you. The Lord mercifully with his favor look upon you, and fill you with all spiritual benediction and grace, that ye may so live together in this life, that in the world to come, ye may have life everlasting,"—all combined to make touchingly impressive and grandly beautiful, within the sacred walls of the magnificent edifice, the first moments of these two lives, united and budding with promise which if but half realized will abundantly satisfy even the greatest of all "great expectations."

Thus our friend has made two partnerships within a short period. May both firms be equally prosperous.

It is understood that the first groomsman, before the close of the year, is to take the Samaritan advice "to go and do lookwise." Prosperity also to him. NEWINGTON.

A NOBLE PURPOSE AND THE GLORIOUS RESULT.—There are as many roads to fame and fortune as there were gateways to ancient Thebes. Your ambitious warrior is for carving his way with the sabre—your aspiring politician for manœuvring his way by subtlety and consummate art; but there is one broad, grand path to the goal, along which nothing base can travel. It is the path set apart for the march of talent, energy and noble purpose, and, though full of obstacles, it contains none which a great man cannot surmount. This fact has been exemplified in innumerable instances, but in no one more forcibly than in the career of DR. HOLLOWAY, of London. For twenty-five years he may be said to have been climbing scattering blessings at every step. He appears to have reached the summit at last. The staff upon which he has leaned in his ascent has been ADVERTISING, and by its aid has not only realized a world-wide celebrity and a splendid fortune, but has been enabled to familiarize millions of the sick with the healing properties of his Pills and Ointment, who would never otherwise have been brought to avail themselves of the virtues of these in this country, and unfortunately their name is legion, have good cause to rejoice that so wide a publicity has been given to the virtues of his Pills through the columns of the American press; for, if we are rightly informed, they have cured and are now curing more cases of this distressing complaint than all other medicines put together.—We hear, too, of cures of scrofula and other external disorders by the Ointment, which, if they were not vouched for by the best authority, we should pronounce incredible. These medicines seem to do what no other advertised medicines have ever done before—fulfil the promises of the advertisement.—N. Y. Police Gazette.

"The steep where Fame's proud temple shines afar,"

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1862. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her under every much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some two or twelve bottles of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have lived all to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may20

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to be discurrent all the recurring changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 30th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment; and those not in want of a Clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—To make a Cough Remedy thorough for all Throat and Lung Complaints, and to rid the mind of Climatic causes, when the great error has been the introducing of components which debilitate, and by such to restrain the greatest freedom of use, as the only true theory by which such complaints can be effectually cure, was the point made in this valuable preparation. To prevent asking attention to long stories of great cures, and to long descriptive technicalities, I would ask confidence which will be secured, in COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, SORE THROAT BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC COMPLAINTS, to all THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS, which, when neglected, end in CONSUMPTION, and to prove the declarations by true results.

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notice may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

Our terms are as low as those of any other paper.

Local.

THE DRAFT, like the war itself, from being a nine days' wonder and excitement, has settled down into an every-day routine business, and a matter of course. The work of examination, exemption, &c., goes on quietly in this city, from day to day, at the Provost Marshal's office—the only reminder of the copperhead rows being the windows disgracefully smashed at that time, and yet unmended.

The daily advertisements of Capt. Godfrey, in these columns, give information as to the work of exemptions. The procuring of substitutes is done mostly by brokers from the large cities, and is a very uncertain business, all round. The price has fluctuated considerably from the first; but of late has generally been steadily increasing, and on Saturday and Monday $500, and even more was paid in several instances, (of which this city, and many towns, refund $300) though we heard of other instances where $400 and even $250 was accepted. It is inferred by some, that the more a substitute asks, the less he is really worth "for a soldier."

We hear various stories, and a great deal of talk about the substitutes, and the Provost Marshal's action in the matter. Capt. Godfrey, as enlisting officer, is bound to, or sees fit to, inquire of the substitute (or recruit) what bounty he gets; and of the principal, what he pays; and if the Marshal thinks the broker or between-man is cutting too thick a commission, he says so, and sometimes, we believe, has even annulled a bargain, and given the substitute all the bounty. This comes rather hard on the brokers or shipping agents, but they, no doubt, deserve it for their grasping and over-reaching.

Of course it is no more than fair that they should have good pay for their services; but the substitutes should receive their full reward. It is maintained by some, that no others but these brokers can procure substitutes—that they are as necessary to this work as the shipping agents for the procuring of sailors; and that their profits, in the aggregate, are none too large. Oftentimes, they bring a lot of men from a great distance, at considerable expense, for substitutes, some of whom leave them, others cannot pass the examination, &c. But while some of these agents or brokers are, no doubt, gentlemen and fair business men, it will be hard to make anybody believe that Capt. Godfrey does any injustice to the miserable horde of runners, pimps and procurers who form the bulk of these gentry who now infest our streets—many of whom are, beyond question, cute villians, regardless alike of the rights of their substitutes or the needs of the country.—More on this subject, anon.

NAVAL.—The Boston Journal, in speaking of the officers captured at Sumter, says:

There are two lieutenants by the name of Bradford in the service. One is Lieutenant Commander Joseph M. Bradford, of the Naval Ordnance Department, and the other is Lieut. Robert F. Bradford, registered as waiting orders.

Lieut. Com'r Joseph M. Bradford is in command of the new U. S. steamer Nipsic, at the Portsmouth Navy Yard. Lieut. Charles H. Bradford, of the Marine Corps, it is thought here, is the officer reported to be mortally wounded. He was recently stationed at the Portsmouth Navy Yard.

Screw sloop Ossipee, which was built at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, sailed from New Orleans, Sept. 4, for the blockade off Charleston.

Com'r E. G. Parrott, of this city, is detached from the command of the Augusta, and ordered to the command of the Canonicus.

Admiral Joseph Smith, of Washington, Chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks in the United States Navy, visited the Portsmouth Navy Yard on Monday, to make an inspection of its internal arrangements, for the purpose of being enabled to make proper recommendations to Congress at its next session. He was received with what, doubtless, was intended to be the usual salute, but there seemed to be some difficulty in making "the confounded things go off."—That salute was hardly a success. It has been done better.

☞ For the benefit of able-bodied, patriotic poor men abroad, we will state that almost any number of worthy substitutes for drafted men can readily get from $350 to $450 each, cash in hand, in this city. But let them by all means keep clear of the brokers, and apply directly to the drafted men themselves—whom they can easily find near the Provost Marshal's office during business hours.

☞ Hon. Thos. B. Laighton is about to retire from the hotel business, and will this fall erect a large dwelling house in which to live, at the Shoals. The Appledore House will be carried on under the charge of the sons of the proprietor.

☞ Sam. Sharpley's well-known troupe will give its first concert at the Temple this evening. Everybody has heard him, and everybody knows how successful his troupe always is in pleasing its audience.

SUBSTITUTES.—A Portsmouth correspondent of the Boston Herald says a German doctor was allured here last week, by a "broker," under the false pretence that he could be surgeon of a regiment, and came near being put into the service as a substitute!

A live man about town, also tells us a good story of a man with a strong-minded wife (a well dressed and well appearing lady) from the interior of New Hampshire, who on Monday came down here, he to go as substitute for a drafted man, from Salmon Falls we think. The wife accompanied her husband to the Provost Marshal's quarters, saw him mustered in; took his $400 and his citizens' clothes, after he had donned Uncle Sam's true blue; bid him good bye, and returned to her home at Beech Hill!—No interfering of brokers there, and no need of any. They are said to be possessed of considerable property—and we will warrant that man won't skedaddle.

☞ The machinery of the U. S. steamer Nipsic, which has worked so admirably, suddenly ceased running on Saturday at midnight, caused by the breaking of all the flanges of her propeller. A new one has been sent for, but it will be a month or more before she will be again ready for sea. The cause of this disaster is not at present known, but workmen are engaged in getting the fragments of iron from the bottom of the river, after which it can be ascertained whether the accident was occasioned by a flaw in the iron, or by an undue strain. The vessel will be docked to have a new propeller adjusted.

☞ The examination of drafted men for Rockingham County, has closed—and Strafford County has the floor for the next eight days, commencing with Dover this morning.

Up to Saturday over 1250 men had been examined, not including examination of rejected substitutes: of this number 507 have been accepted, 721 exempted, 298 have furnished subs, and 75 paid commutation money.

About 400 drafted men and substitutes have been sent to Concord from the Portsmouth Provost Marshal's office, thus far—which is considered pretty good dispatch.

PATRIOTIC AND SENSIBLE.—The following named gentlemen, who have been drafted, on Monday came promptly to the issue, and reported for duty, and were clothed and sent on their way rejoicing, as U. S. soldiers:—

Deerfield—Geo. B. Prescott, Joseph B. Ayer, David Young, jr., John L. Woodman, Newton—Elbridge Hoyt.
Kingston—Otis Tucker.
Candia—Edwin C. Mathews, (the only man from that town.)
Seabrook—Chas. L. Brown.
Derry—Edwin Brickett.
Kensington—Joseph O. George.

☞ A good day's work was done at the Provost Marshal's office, on Monday—32 soldiers were furnished with uniforms, 25 substitutes and 10 drafted men.

FIRE IN RYE.—About 11 o'clock on Saturday evening fire was discovered in the dwelling house of Mr. Joseph G. Brown, at the south part of the town. The house and contents were entirely consumed. No insurance. The illumination from this fire was very brilliant in this city. The inmates barely escaped with their lives. The owner has been sick for some time, and this new misfortune creates a case for charity, which will, doubtless, be afforded by friends and neighbors. Loss $500.

SINGING SCHOOL.—The first term of Mr. Davis' Singing School will close on Wednesday of this week,—the Juvenile Class at 3 in the afternoon, and the Evening Class at half-past 7, in Mercantile Hall. Parents and friends of the scholars and the cause, are invited by the Com. of Arr., to be present on the occasion.—Mr. Morey of Concord will preside at the piano-forte.

FACTS FOR SOLDIERS. — Throughout the Indian and Crimean campaigns, the only medicines which proved themselves able to cure the worst cases of Dysentery, Scurvy and Fever, were HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT. Therefore, let every Volunteer see that he is supplied with them. Only 25 cents per pot or box. 2aw

It is supposed by some that the Prince of Wales visited this country in part to obtain a package of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Seleratus. Whether he did or not, it would do honor to the Queen's table to have as nice light Biscuit as that article always makes. If any one has any doubts on the subject, go to your Grocer and get a paper immediately, and find of a truth that there is nothing like it. Everybody sells it.

Morning Chronicle.

MEN CHANGE—PRINCIPLES NEVER.—The well known F. O. J. Smith is now the owner of an intensely pro-slavery and peace-democratic paper,—and his speeches are of the same sort.

In a letter in 1858, he said:—

I am with the great cause and the great principles of the Republican party of the nation, as enunciated in their organized policy on the various subjects of national freedom—the non-revival of the slave trade and the non-extension of slavery—the multiplication of free States—the protection of home industry to the full extent practicable without imparing our commerce, as a whole, with foreign nations—personal protection to the American citizen in all parts of the world, and like protection to our lawful commerce everywhere—and these ends, the support of a navy of corresponding strength, without begetting sinecure offices for unworthy partizans, or family favorites, at the expense of the people—and most especially and uppermost, I am for the Union of these States forever, "peacefully if we can, forcibly if we must," against each other and against the world.

For each and all these objects I will not refuse to do battle on all fitting occasions, let who may lead, and let who may follow, and let who may oppose.

In all these patriotic inscriptions upon the unfurled Republican banner, I see only the sentiments of my early political manhood—sentiments which animated and stirred up to battle the Democracy of Maine. * * *

Republicanism to-day, in its national aims, is what Jeffersonism was in 1801; and what Jacksonism was in 1829, and what true democracy has been at all times, under our representative system of government.

The Democracy of expedients, which aims only at the possession of the emoluments of office and of government contracts, is but the affinity to elementary principles of administration, but is animated only by a spirit of filibusterism abroad and of plunder at home.

The uses made of the name of democracy may delude well-meaning citizens for a while. * * * None can doubt that a great corruption has been attempted in aid of slavery, upon the patriotism of the hardy and resolute citizens of Kansas, by the present federal administration. What darkens with deeper shadows this page of our political history, the attempt was made in the name, and with the treasure of the Federal Union. * * *

Slavery stands abashed, and the federal administration pointedly rebuked, before the virtuous and patriotic response of Kansas, to the bribe that was proffered to her in vain.

☞ The fashion writers think bonnets will be higher this fall. Forty dollars for "a sweet thing" will, however, seem reasonable to every body but the brute who pays for it.

☞ A three thousand dollar Cashmere shawl—just imported by Stuart, expressly for her—is one of the articles in Miss Kate Chase's trousseau.

☞ A writer, who has just visited Russia, says emancipation there is realizing all its most sanguine friends anticipated.

☞ Some of the French journals recommend the seizure of the Florida at Brest.

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for general cookery in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, most and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objectionable and common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Greene, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron B. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber.

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.

1st It is stronger and lighter than any known material.

2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.

3d. When the arch is irregular we can by building out the depressions—which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.

4th No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use as the secretion of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.

5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a saucer, as when finished the work presents one whole piece.

6th. While in all ways it is better, save in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

EDWARD EVERETT says: "Regarding the persons in power for the time being as the constitutional agents of the people for carrying on the Government—considering the war which has been forced upon us by the ambitious demagogues of the South as a question of national life or death—that to have the doctrine of secession established at the mouth of the rebel cannon, is simply to consign the country to a future of eternal border war, and to lay its dishonored fragments at the feet of foreign powers—I cannot but think it unpatriotic to attempt, for the sake of a party triumph, to make political capital out of the difficulties, or if you please, the errors, unavoidably incident to the conduct of a war of such gigantic dimensions.

It is a pretty safe test, in cases of this kind, to ask how the views and measures of a party are regarded by the common enemy. Applying this test in the present case, nothing is more certain than that the triumph at the approaching elections of any party, organized and operating for the prostration of the Administration, would be regarded with unmingled satisfaction by the leaders of the rebellion and their sympathizers abroad. Indeed, their last hope is in our divisions."

☞ A handsome countess, who was some forty years ago, a reigning belle in London, first the wife of a leading statesman, and afterwards the wife of a German baron, is now the wife of an Arabian chief, residing between Damascus and Baalbec, with her husband, in camp.

☞ The notes of the new fractional currency, which will soon be offered to the people, are of the size of the ten cent postage currency. They have been printed upon paper that is thinner and cheaper, but much stronger than that of the present fractional paper money. The issue is much needed.

☞ Minister Clay writes from St. Petersburg to a gentleman in New York city, that they have granted him a telegraph line charter, the line to run from the mouth of the Amoor river to America. He says that it will unite all the continents, and be the great work of the age.

☞ Slavery will cease to exist in Maryland by the time the war is over, says the Cumberland Telegraph, through the voluntary expatriation of the slaves. The prospect is good.

☞ A person can live comfortably in Japan for two cents a day, or fourteen cents a week. A first class house costs thirty dollars!

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1863.

MAINE STATE ELECTION

Took place on Monday, and resulted in the election of Samuel Cony, the Union candidate for Governor, by a majority which the Portland Argus estimates at "something over 12,000", and which the Press says will be 15,000. In 190 towns Cony has 48,455; and Mr. Bradbury, his opponent, has 29,429: majority—14,026. The vote in these same towns last year was about 20,000 less, and Coburn had only 4481 majority in them. The same ratio of increase and gain through the State, would give Cony 18,000 majority. This, however, is not to be expected with great confidence; as a special dispatch from Portland, on election evening, to the Boston Courier, says:—

"Expect without discouragement large gains for Republican ticket in first thirty thousand votes, and a steady diminution of that majority in next seventy thousand votes. God is in the country and not in the cities of Maine."

The Union ticket for County officers is supposed to be elected in every county.—And it is said the Senate will be unanimously Union—the House being Union by more than two thirds.

The issue was wholly national, and it is decided in favor of the United States Government, of the vigorous prosecution of the war, and of sustaining the administration till the rebellion is crushed. The Portland Argus said on election morning to the people:—

"They must rebuke in thunder tones the destructive policy of the administration and send a message of conciliation to the masses of the people South who are disposed to throw down their arms and return to their rightful allegiance. Elect Bion Bradbury and you will do this. Elect Samuel Cony and you will say to the administration,—"Your policy is right, pursue it."

The people of Maine by a large majority have elected Samuel Cony, and thus endorsed the administration and its policy, according to the Argus.

The Boston Post, of August 8, said, in reference to the Maine election:—

"No State in the Union has been firmer in the support of Republican Government, the Constitution and the Laws, than Maine; and through the present fiery ordeal she will pass pure and unscathed, uninterrified, unshaken."

Truly she has passed as the Post predicted, and stands side by side with California and Vermont, setting an example for Ohio and Massachusetts.

Charleston will not be illuminated for joy over the Maine election: but loyal men, Union Democrats, all over the land will rejoice at it.

THE ENGLISH-REBEL RAMS.—Earl Russell has replied to the memorial of the Emancipation Society relative to the steam rams in the Mersey. He states that both the treasury and home departments have, at his request, made anxious inquiries upon the subject; but that it is necessary to prove both the equipment and intention to use the vessels against some state in friendship with Her Majesty, and we are left to infer that the "anxious inquiries" have failed to procure this proof.

The Liverpool Post says it now appears that the steam rams launched from the Lairds yards were built for the Confederate government. The rams were to be paid for out of the Confederate loan. M. Langier, one of the contractors for that loan, has a contract on both of them; and may, therefore, ultimately become their owner. He might sell them to the British Government at the cost price—not for sea, but for coast and harbor service. For privateers they are totally unfit.

The Paris Moniteur says the Florida was permitted to enter Brest to procure all that was indispensable to maintain her in good navigable state, but not to recruit her war arrangements. France having recognized the rebels as belligerents, it is her right as well as her duty, as a neutral, to permit vessels of belligerents to procure such repairs.

☞ North Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee were grain-growing countries; but by his retreat, Bragg has left all the rich harvests of the country to the victorious army of Rosecrans, while, below the 34th parallel of latitude, he is in a country where grain can scarcely be raised, and which is filled by flying rebels from other States, who have carried their slaves thither to escape the practical workings of the President's emancipation proclamation.

☞ Mr. Noyes, the absconding Superintendent of the Maine Central Railroad, arrived safely in Canada, and it is generally conceded that the treaty gives no power to reclaim him.

☞ President Lincoln will soon issue a proclamation suspending the writ of habeas corpus in all cases arising in the military and naval service;—so says a Washington dispatch.

THE REBELLION.

On the 14th Gen. Pleasanton had advanced to the Rapidan. The rebels were in position with infantry, artillery and cavalry to prevent our crossing. Our casualties on the 13th were 3 killed and 40 wounded—among the latter Gen. Carter, slightly. The rebel cavalry in our front were, on the 14th, very active, probably masking some movement of their main army. Skirmishes were frequent, but amounted to little.

Stuart's cavalry, in our advance on Culpepper, were found posted on the heights, with artillery, and were driven from crest to crest by a series of brilliant and gallant charges. At Culpepper our forces captured 140 prisoners, 3 guns, a large quantity of ordnance stores, and some English guns with sabre bayonets. Lieut. Ben Hutchings, of Concord, 6th U. S. cavalry, was grazed by a piece of shell which took off the leg of his orderly. It seems to be generally understood in the army that Longstreet's corps has been sent to reinforce the rebels in the South West. Stuart's cavalry is said to be run down, and his horses in a miserable condition. Lee is reported to have arrived at Orange Court House on Saturday, with two small corps, the entire force of his army, which numbers about 40,000 men. They are in no condition to take the offensive.

At Chattanooga we captured two steamboats, one horseboat and 30 pontoons, very few stores and no artillery or prisoners.—The rebel works are very strong. We had one man killed in the expedition. Gen. Rosecrans arrived at Chattanooga on the 10th, the day after its occupation.

A New Orleans letter of the 2d says:—"As a part of the great Texas expedition, Maj. Gen. Washburne, with 17 regiments, will leave for the Rio Grande September 8. A great many troops have been sent, and still more are to follow."

Fort Moultrie fired her last gun at 4 P. M., on Friday. The white flag was then hoisted over its shattered walls,—and was still flying on Saturday. On Friday, P. M., our forces had captured one-half of James Island.

WOMEN'S RIOT IN MOBILE.—Refugees lately arrived within our lines at Memphis, Tenn., bring exciting reports of the fearful condition of affairs in the South. One man, who left Mobile on the 5th, states that there was a terrible riot of soldiers' wives in Mobile on the 4th. About 600 women and children collected on Spring hill, and with clubs and hatchets in their hands marched through the streets, carrying banners on which were inscribed "Bread or Peace," and other similar inscriptions. Being soldiers' wives their proceedings were winked at by the soldiers, who made but feeble resistance. Stores were broken open. A merchant Jew struck one of the women, and some policemen beat him severely. Many citizens left the town. Among them was the informant, who says the riot was increasing when he left.

SHIPBUILDING ON A NEW PRINCIPLE. A vessel has been launched from one of the Liverpool docks, in the construction of which a somewhat novel principle of shipbuilding has been introduced. The vessel draws about two and one-half feet of water, is designed to go to sea without any ballast, and to take the ground with perfect safety. She has the peculiarity of being almost flat-bottomed, and from this and other things she is expected to be capable of carrying a very large quantity of cargo in proportion to her tonnage. Her bilge will take the ground at the same time as her keel, which is planked of wood two inches in thickness. Her dimensions are—length, one hundred feet, breadth, twenty-two feet; depth, twelve feet and three inches; and will carry four hundred and forty tons dead weight, at a draught of about eleven feet. She is to be rigged as a brigantine, with wire rope, but the mainsail will not have any "gaff," the head of the mainsail hoisting up to the head of the mainmast, and gaff-topsail from the head of the main topmast to the end of the main boom, which it is considered will be an improvement, and add to the vessel's sailing powers.

☞ A National salute was fired on Saturday from all the forts in New York harbor, in honor of the recent victories at Morris Island, Knoxville and Chattanooga.

☞ Three of the guns recently captured by the Minnesota near Fort Fisher, in the vicinity of Wilmington, N. C., have reached Washington. They are of English manufacture. One is a Whitworth gun. They are splendid pieces of ordnance, and apparently have been used only a short time.

LABOR DESPISED.—Mrs. Kemble, in her 'Residence in Georgia,' thus tersely speaks of the social status of labor at the South:

'The northern planter thinks it no shame to work. The southern planter does: and there begins and ends the difference in their condition. Industry, men's crown of honor elsewhere, is in the south his badge of utter degredation; and so comes all by which they are surrounded—pride, profligacy, idleness, cruelty, cowardice, ignorance, squalor, dirt, and ineffable abasement'.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

——Lt. W. H. H. Furnald has been made Capt. of Co. A, 12th Regiment. Lt. John M Durgin, the minister soldier of Gilmanton, Capt. of Co. D.

—— The body of H. S. Durgin, Fife Major of the 11th Regiment, arrived in Manchester, Saturday evening. He was formerly a member of the Brass Band in Epping, and his body has been sent to that town.

—— The trial of S. V. Bennett, of Manchester, charged with the murder of his housekeeper, by poison, last winter, was assigned for Monday, at the Supreme Court, Nashua. The Attorney General appears for the State. Geo. W. Morrison and B. P. Cilley, Esqs., for defendant.

—— It has been announced that Capt. Flanders has been made Lt. Col. of the 8th Regiment, but the American states that Capt. Barrett of Co. A, Nashua, is the fortunate man. Col. Fearing undertook to jump certain officers and promote favorites. But the Governor and Council having regard to rank, and finding no objection to Capt. Barrett, gave him the commission. No appointment of Major has been made.

☞ An important pamphlet on the Mexican question, ascribed to an official origin (although the Paris Pays denies it) has been published in France entitled, "France, Mexico and the Confederates." It sets forth the interest which France has to recognize the Confederate States, and the impossibility of the reestablishment of the American Union, maintaining that "an American war may be useful to France, if a separation between the North and South be definitely pronounced, for it is certain the Confederate States will be our allies and will guaranty us from attack from the North—will fulfil our hopes, and our manufacturers will obtain the cotton which is absolutely necessary for them."

The London Morning Herald's Paris correspondent says he has good reason to believe that the pamphlet expresses not only the opinion but the intentions of the Imperial Government. The Daily News' correspondent writes to the same effect.

☞ A copperhead organ in New-England, asks this question:

"Why withdraw 40,000 men, upon the frivolous and false pretext that the State of New York needed them to keep the peace within her own limits?"

Answer: The New York copperhead Mob of murderers, robbers and incendiaries,—was the reason why. It was no pretext false and frivolous,—but a real insurrection, unless Gov. Seymour lies about his immediate constituents who were the rioters and murderers.—The State of New York had sent her loyal sons to the war, but the nest of copperheads and traitors in New York city were at home and ready to co-operate with the rebels, as well as to vote for them. Charleston was illuminated when these mobites chose their Governor;—and in his hands the State needed a United States army to keep the peace and execute the laws. U. T.

☞ The effect of the frost in the West during the past week, is not as severe as was at first supposed. It is found that corn was so far advanced as to be little injured. So, also, with all other products, except melons, beans and vines generally. The grain market became excited, but has relapsed into a quiescent state.

☞ A returned soldier, Mr. Mitchell, of the 9th Maine, who spoke at a Union meeting in Danville the other evening, remarked that a rebel picket first informed him of the election of Horatio Seymour, last fall, and boasted that it was a triumph for secession.

☞ A Morris Island letter says the rebels have recently fired large slabs of iron two feet in length, and four or five inches wide, bound with strong wire. They are thrown with a view of getting them under the turrets to prevent them revolving.

☞ The upper part of the storehouses in the northwest corner of the Philadelphia Navy Yard were destroyed by fire on Sunday. The loss is estimated at $75,000. The ship houses had a narrow escape.

☞ Advices from Labrador state that the fisheries on that coast, both for cod and salmon, have been unusually successful. There are, however, but a few American vessels on the ground.

☞ The Boston and Maine Railroad Company propose to remodel their stationhouse on Haymarket Square, Boston, and extend the same to Traverse street. The additional room is much needed.

☞ Put up the blackberries now—suggests the charitable Springfield Republican—for the soldiers. The berry is plenty and palatable.

☞ The Polish insurgents had gained a great victory at Janow. Russia had ordered forty eight of the reserve regiments to join the active army.

☞ One hundred and seventy four libels for divorce have been entered in the Supreme Court, Suffolk County, Mass.

☞ The Richmond Examiner justifies the Lawrence massacre as "a gallant and perfectly fair blow at the enemy."

One of Hunnewell's Preparations.

HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—To make a Cough Remedy thorough for all Throat and Lung Complaints, and to rid the mind of Climatic causes, when the great error has been the introducing of components which debilitate, and by such to restrain the greatest freedom of use, as the only true theory by which such complaints can be effectually cure, was the point made in this valuable preparation. To prevent asking attention to long stories of great cures, and to long descriptive technicalities, I would say confidence which will be secred. In COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, SORE THROAT BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC COMPLAINTS, to all THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS, which, when neglected, end in CONSUMPTION, and to prove the declarations by true results.

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notice may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

Our terms are as low as those of any other paper.

Local.

NEW ORDERS.—Provost Marshal Godfrey, in conformity with his instructions from the War Department, has allowed a reasonable time (ten days) for drafted men to get substitutes. Last Friday orders came to allow only six days,—and on Tuesday he received orders to make no allowance of time, but to have the drafted men respond, by themselves or substitutes, on the day fixed.

This new order took our Dover friends by surprise—as they had every reason to suppose they would have the same days of grace as had been given to drafted men in Rockingham county.

It seems to be almost impossible for every man to be sure beforehand that he is or is not fit to pass muster;—and therefore some leeway is necessary. Besides, when any such allowed time is to be shortened, or cut off, notice should be given beforehand.

A HARD CASE.—Among the drafted men in this city was one whom we will not name here, who volunteered last year to serve in the 17th N. H. Regt., but did not pass the surgeon—though, as he had passed a previous private examination, it was thought that he might have passed into the service, had he so desired. But the orders he had given to parties for the $200 prospective city bounty, had been accepted, and more or less money realized on them—which it is needless to say was not paid by the city, nor has it ever been refunded by the gay young volunteer.

Well, when he was drafted, to his astonishment, he "passed" examination, and was ordered to appear, or find a substitute, or commute. Not being flush, his friends raised a subscription to aid in paying the bonus, to the amount of $90, which was deposited in the hands of a South End trader, for safe-keeping;—when lo, and behold! in comes a trustee writ for $50, from the bold or of one of the aforesaid bounty-orders.—And the money is reported to have been paid over.

And after all this delay, the utmost time of his furlough expiring, a Provost Marshal's guard was sent after him, (the only case of the kind thus far, we believe) and he was still in their charge at headquarters, at last accounts. The reader will observe that our caption to this item, admits of two significations; and each will decide for himself, whether the chap or the circumstances best merit the signification of "a hard case."

☞ The ministers' graves, under the Old South Meeting House, were opened on Tuesday, and the remains carefully removed, to be re-interred in the Proprietors' Burying Ground, where a suitable monument will be erected by the South Parish, of which they were the ministers more than a century ago. A few principal bones were all that remained beyond mere dust. They lay side by side, under the place where the communion table was at the time of their burial.

Rev. Wm. Shurtleff died May 9, 1747,—aged (probably) about 65.

Rev. Job Strong died Sept. 30, 1751,—aged about 27.

☞ Bachman & Co. announce that they are ready to begin the Fall campaign in Dry Goods and Ladies' garments; and that Mr. Wait is still happy to wait upon the ladies as usual. Their store has been considerably improved, and their stock largely replenished with fresh and fashionable goods direct from New York; and there would seem to be no good reason why they can't sell as low as anybody. At any rate, read their advertisements and give them a call, and see for yourselves.

☞ We are happy to state that the broken windows in the Provost Marshals office in this city were mended on Saturday last—and we don't think they are very liable to be smashed in by copperhead brickbats again, for loyal gun-powder don't smell well in rioters' nostrils, nor Union lead sit well on their stomachs.

☞ We were somewhat amused on Thursday noon, on seeing two young men sitting in the door-way of a store in this city, while the proprietor was diligently brushing dust down upon them from the window-sill above. It may have been accidental, but it was suggestive, and the moral is—don't sit on a storekeeper's threshold, even if his rooms are in the second story.

☞ The new order respecting draftees carried up the price of substitutes, on Tuesday, to $500, or even more; but there are plenty of them, and a little good management will readily supply them for less than $500.

☞ Twenty-five drafted men and substitutes were sent from Portsmouth to camp at Concord, Saturday morning; and thirty five went up on Tuesday.

☞ Sam Sharpley's Minstrels gave a tip-top entertainment last night; and bold forth again this evening—at the Temple.—Go and hear and see them, all you who love music and fun.

THIS DAY.

SINGING SCHOOL.—The first term of Mr. Davis' Singing School will close on Wednesday of this week,—the Juvenile Class at 3 in the afternoon, and the Evening Class at half-past 7, in Mercantile Hall. Parents and friends of the scholars and the cause, are invited by the Com. of Arr., to be present on the occasion.—Mr. Morey of Concord will preside at the piano-forte.

☞ The New Castle Observer, published by the soldiers at Fort Constitution, states that Maj. Mann, U. S. Paymaster, distributed about $2500 among the soldiers at the Fort on Friday last.

Sergt. George P. Thyng, of the company stationed at the Fort, has been commissioned as Second Lieutenant in the new Company.

160 men are at present employed on the new fortifications — masons, stone-cutters, blacksmiths, carpenters, &c. A commodious stone shed, 100 feet long and 35 feet wide, has just been completed, under the direction of Mr. Martin, of this city. The first tier of guns will be mounted, it is thought, next year, and the Fort, when finished, will mount 150 guns.

☞ Mr. Gilman C. Berry has brought in a sample of Dutton corn, heavy ears, ripe and dry, from seed planted May 20; ripened in less than four months from the planting.

☞ The dwelling house of Betsey Blake, in Hampton, on the sea road from the depot, was totally destroyed by fire on Sunday night, with the furniture. No insurance.

SUPPOSED DESERTERS.—Two young men, who came ashore at Jeffries Point, early yesterday morning, were taken in charge by the East Boston Police. One, named Robert Bell, had a watch and $608, chiefly in greenbacks, besides one $100 bill on the Bank of Portsmouth, N. H. The men are supposed to be deserters from Fort Warren.—Boston Post.

That $100 bill is on a bank which is unknown in this vicinity.

WORCESTERSHIRE SAUCE.—A ferocious person had committed a number of diabolical murders, and with the deadly weapons in his hands, stood ready to make further slaughter. An election was about to take place in the town where he lived. Thereupon a number of his political cronies, who wanted his vote on the occasion, got together and passed the following resolutions:—

Resolved, That as soon as our misguided friend has laid down his deadly weapons, washed his bloody hands, and acknowledged the authority of the civil power, he has done all that ought to be required of him; and any detention of him by the civil authority, having a tendency to restrain him from the exercise of his political privileges, thereby losing us the benefit of his vote, is unconstitutional, and an act of high-handed usurpation, and is subversive of our liberties.

Resolved, That we deeply regret the loss of the many innocent persons who have been sacrificed by the hand of our misguided friend, and that our profound sympathy is extended toward their relatives and friends, in the many and great bereavements which they have suffered.

Resolved, That in despite of the great crimes committed by our misguided brother, we yet steadfastly assert that his political privileges are in alienable and cannot be wrested from him for any period, long or short; and that having laid down his weapons, and washed his bloody hands, he has done all that he ought to do, or can be expected of him, and is entitled at once to the full resumption of all the political privileges he ever possessed; and any restraint of his liberty, or requiring of guarantees for his future peaceable behavior, is unconstitutional, and an arbitrary assumption of power, which we, as a free people, anxious for the preservation of our liberties, must oppose.

HER GRAVE.

Why dost thou sit so still, deep night!
With thy all-eager ear!
Dost long to hear a dirge, sad night!
And hast not any tear!

Why dost thou fold her up, dark clay!
And clasp her, as in love!
Why dost thou shake her head, cold stone!
With thy broad-winged dove?

Why do you sing her songs, old trees!
Through all the lonesome hours!
Why dost thou bathe her grave, soft dew!
With silver-gleaming showers!

Hast got a feel of life, long grass!
That creepest all around!
Then seemest anxious to hide off
The dull earth of the mound!

Wouldst have the spot look fair, pale shrub!
That spreadest out in blooms?
Dost know a flower is dead, fond shrub!
And gardeneest for her tomb?

Ah! wouldst thou mock my state, round star!
That peepest around!
Or is it to share a grief, kind star?
Thou wearest that dismal shroud!

Why blowest thou now so soon, wide breeze!
From out the morning sky?
Or is it to dry my cheeks, good breeze!
Thou slidest so briskly by.

Why comest thou up so bright, great sun!
And warmest all the place!
Art promising great things, dear sun!
With thy clear-glowing face.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has overcome the difficulties of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrotula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of generation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending the vicious of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D., devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of these cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early indiscretions of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression, aversion to the sacred duties of life, aversion to society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating marriage, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capsules, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important!

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 Endicott Street, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of the diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being much heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleansing the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacturers, would ask those about to make a remodeling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for heating purposes, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The difficulty met with by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat in the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other furnaces, is obviated in this

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe offing on the top of the dome can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used.

We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber,

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.

1st. It is stronger and lighter than any known material.

2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.

3d. When the arch is irregular we can by building out the depression—which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.

4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the material is free of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.

5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a saucer, as when finished the work presents one whole piece.

6th. While in all ways it is better, save in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

TRIP TO THE WHITE MOUNTAINS.

JOTTINGS ON THE WAY.—By J. H.

PROFILE HOUSE, Aug. 31.

Messrs. Editors:—Our first exploration in search of nature's pictures brought us to a picturesque cascade at the rear of the hotel. The path to it was rough and steep, and the trees stood thick in leafy fullness. The moss lay green in the deep shadows, lighted up here and there by streaks of sunlight, which streamed down through the tree tops. First we came to a hill of smooth solid granite, 200 feet long and 15 feet wide. Over this mountain bed ran a stream of water appearing no thicker than a lady's lace veil. Above the cascade for a distance of thirty feet the water glides down over a succession of stone steps. It shows an infinite variety of beautiful figures dissolving into spray, in which a rainbow is almost seen as you stand at its base. The banks are lined with rich foliage, and openings among the trees disclose at intervals the rugged sides of Mt. Lafayette. The tourist must afterwards follow the stream to the highest ledge, and he will pronounce this to be one of the most enchanting places in this region.

A half a mile walk down the road brings you to the Profile. We visited the spot often, and our time was not spent more profitably than when gazing upon those fascinating and wonderful lineaments. There is no delusion about this wonderful face.—You find a complete symmetrical profile, looking down upon the gorge from its height, perfectly clear and distinct. Every portion of the face is there. There is the massive brow; the nose is straight and finely cut; the thin lips are parted as though about to speak; the chin is prominent and in exact proportion. We gazed on the old man when the sun lit up the noble brow; we lingered at the spot in our evening walk and looked with awe on the great stone face, which seemed almost human in its lineaments; and at morning when the first rays of light streamed over the mountains we looked on the huge profile, so weird-like in its shadowy mystery. The profile appears to be about 8 feet high, but it measures 75 feet from the bottom of the chin to the top of the forehead. It stands out from the summit of the mountain,—can be seen only in one position on the road, and is 1500 feet from the base. It is the most remarkable feature in the whole mountain range.

The first sunny day that came we devoted to a journey to the Flume, the Pool, and the Basin. They are five miles away, in the vicinity of the Flume House. Carriages run every morning and noon, and from fifty to a hundred make the trip every day. You pass on the right Mount Cannon, on the top of which is a representation of a cannon, which is seen from below; and Lafayette, with Eagle Cliff, is at the left.—A two mile walk brings you to Walker's observatory, which consists of a winding stair-case around a mammoth pine, at the top of which is a fine look-out. The view is very commanding and is well worth the time you spend in ascending. Onward we drive to the Basin. The waters of the Pemiguasset river, after flowing from Profile Lake, find their way to this spot. They fall over a high ledge, and are caught in a deep hollow in the solid rock. This excavation has been made by the action of the water for centuries. It is forty feet wide and fifteen feet deep, and is always full of clear cold water. The water, after making a circuit of the bowl, makes its egress from a narrow outlet at the lower end, from whence it goes murmuring over its pebbly bed, and is lost among the forest trees.

The blinds of the Flume House are all closed; no guests are on the piazza; no landlord meets you on the stoop. The house is not open this season. But on opening the front door you find one solitary sentinel, who acts as watchman about the premises. You are invited to take a glass of water, and the ice is ten years old. The old gent tells you that when the ice house was built, ten years ago, they filled it with ice, but found it held more than they could use in one season. But every winter they laid in more, always leaving a portion of the first lot at the bottom. No ice was cut last year as the house was to be closed, and they are now using up the last of the ice which was placed there ten years ago.

In the neighborhood of the Flume House you will find the Flume, the Cascade, and the Pool. The Flume is situated about one mile below the house. The cascade finds its way over a smooth rock, 600 feet long by 20 feet wide. It descends very gradually and spreads its waters on the granite bed like a thin covering of gauze. One side of this rocky inclined plane is used as a foot path. Carefully you creep up the polished surface, and soon the Flume itself breaks upon your view. Arriving at the entrance, you stand motionless for a time and gaze with admiration and wonder on this massive stone picture. For seven or eight hundred feet the stream pours a volume of water along a rocky bed, which is broken into many cascades and water-falls, between two precipices that rise perpendicularly on either side, crowned with abundant foliage. The walls are 70 feet in height, and the width between them is 20 feet, except at the upper end where they contract to about 11 feet, and hold suspended between them about half way up their sides a large granite boulder, 10 feet in diameter. It is rather puzzling to the men of science how this stone got there.

Leaving this spot with reluctance, we ride back to the hotel, in front of which is a path leading to the Pool. A pleasant walk brings you to this wonderful formation. You descend a series of stairs and arrive at the foot of a deep ravine, cut out of solid rock. Here the action of the water has excavated a deep basin, 15 feet wide. A hermit is here with a curious ark-like boat, in which you will take a seat and row up to the falls at the head of the pool. Above the pool you gaze down on beautiful cascades, and further on you discover a cave in the cliff capable of holding one hundred persons. Wild forest and luxuriant mountain mosses and flowers are spread about, making up a fairy picture. The day is most spent and you hurry away. And now your journey is at an end. Your furlough is about ended, and you pack up the souvenirs and turn your face towards the old home by the river side. You have passed through many pleasant scenes, which will linger like visions of light upon the map of your memory; while the good influences that have come about you from the constant mingling with Nature's beauties, will make your life more rich, and beautiful, and fair.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

The only fortification on James Island of any account, is Fort Johnson, which is only four miles from Charleston. It is this fort which the army will no doubt take in hand next.

Gen. Pleasanton was still fighting the rebel cavalry on Tuesday, being then at Raccoon ford. The enemy were vigorously resisting all our attempts to cross. It is reported that a brigade of rebel infantry was at that point resisting our advance. Gen. Foster telegraphs from Fortress Monroe that the main body of the rebel army is at Richmond, where Lee's headquarters now are, and that there is no force of any consequence in General Meade's front. Gen. Pleasanton will probably ascertain the exact position of the rebel army in a day or two.

Deserters report that there are only 300 rebel troops in Galveston. Virginia Point Fort and Fort Nelson have been abandoned, and negroes are employed in throwing up earthworks around the city. There are several batteries around the city, mounting in all 17 guns.

On the 12th, Gen. Gilmore was actively engaged erecting batteries on the upper end of Morris Island, sustaining a heavy fire from forts Johnson and Moultrie. The rebels have two 15-inch guns in Moultrie. Sumter is entirely silenced, but a garrison is still there and the rebel flag still flying, no attempt having been made to capture it since the defeat of the boat expedition. The health of the fleet is good. The monitor Patapsco has gone to Port Royal to repair. The news of the surrender of Fort Moultrie is not confirmed.

PHILADELPHIA NAVY YARD.—Among the losses by the fire at the Philadelphia Navy Yard, on Sunday, are enumerated the following:

In the gunners' working room was a large amount of stores, consisting principally of cartridge bags, used to contain powder for cannon charges, and the material for making them. There were also in the building valuable nautical instruments in different rooms at the West end, compasses, valuable charts, books, stationery, &c. The official papers of the offices of the naval storekeeper purser, engineer, ordnance officer and others, were saved, but all the rest of the articles enumerated above were destroyed.

Among the property destroyed in the buildings was a large collection of valuable patterns, designs, plans and drawings, which had been collected for years. The plans of the old ship Pennsylvania were among them. These were all ruined, and will inflict the severest loss which was incurred by the fire. In the fourth story was a valued and rare collection of works of taste belonging to the widow of the late Commodore Hull, consisting of all kinds of rare and choice curiosities from every naval station on the seas, and a quantity of mellow old wine in bottles, fifty years old. These were entirely consumed.

In one of the buildings burnt was a choice collection of the most improved fire arms, a quantity of rifles of the Dahlgren pattern, the best fire arms in the world; cutlasses, revolvers and pistols.

☞ At the time of the rebel assault on Fort Sumter, on the 12th of April, 1861, when the storming flag was shot away, Sergeant Hart, now of the Twenty-sixth Police Precinct, seized it, and under a terrific fire of shot and shell nailed it on the rampart wall. When Major Anderson evacuated Fort Sumter, Sergeant Hart hauled down the flag and carried it on board the steamer General Clinch; it was then transferred to the steamer Isabel, and from her to the steamship Baltic, where it was hoisted from the mizzenmast when she went into New York. From the Baltic it was taken to the Brevoort House, the headquarters of Maj. Anderson, and it still remains at the present time in safe keeping in that city. Sergeant Hart hopes to yet plant that flag upon the ruins of Sumter.

DISTANCES IN CHARLESTON HARBOR. In the present juncture of affairs near Charleston, the following is of interest to the reader: Fort Sumter is three miles and three-eighths from Charleston, one mile and one-eighth from Fort Moultrie, three quarters of a mile to the nearest land, one mile and three-eighths to Fort Johnson, and two miles and five eights to Castle Pinckney.—The last named fort is one mile from the town, and Fort Johnson is two miles and a quarter from the town. These measurements are from surveys from the United States Coast Survey Department.

MARYLAND.—The question of the emancipation of the slaves is being agitated in Maryland. The Cumberland Civilian gives to the measure its hearty and unequivocal support because it believes the material interests of Maryland will be greatly advanced thereby. The Cambridge Intelligencer goes for gradual emancipation, and thinks that ten years would be long enough. The question being thus opened, it will continue to be agitated and no power of politicians can stop it until measures are taken to free the State from the system.

☞ The flax crop in Pennsylvania, will this year be larger than ever before raised.

☞ In Maine, the total vote of 226 towns is—Samuel Cony, 48,934; Bion Bradbury, 33,877. Majority for Cony, 15,057. The towns to come in will increase this majority to 16,000 or 17,000. Full returns from York county show a Union majority of about 300.

The Argus of Wednesday says that "the abolition speakers Hamlin, Washburn, Morrill, Wilson, Clark and Hale did not hesitate to declare their whole policy, pledging themselves to the unreserved and unqualified support of all the measures of the Administration, including suspension of habeas corpus and consequent arbitrary arrests, emancipation and confiscation, and distinctly took the ground that slavery must be destroyed at all hazards—asserting that the revolted States are out of the Union, and are only to be allowed to come back on such terms as it is seen fit to impose, meaning of course, emancipation."

At the close of this summary, which we condense in the words of the Argus, that paper says:—

After a full discussion of the issue in all parts of the State, we have the result.—Maine has declared for the abolition policy by a decided majority; and that is the significance of last Monday's election in Maine.

The Argus concedes that New England is a solid column for abolitionism and the radical policy in the war; and predicts that if the West and Middle States will reverse all this, they may save the country and restore the Union,—but, if they go as New England does, the "rebellion will be reanimated and nerved to desperation." It looks rather, to-day, as if the leaders would be nerved as Belshazzar was, when his knees smote together, as he saw the handwriting on the wall. It looks also as if the Western and Middle States will mostly go with Maine. U. T.

☞ The N. Y. Times' Washington despatch says the tenor of the latest despatches from Mr. Dayton convey the most explicit and unmistakable assurance from the French Emperor, as well as from his minister of foreign affairs, that France has no intention of either recognizing the Southern Confederacy, while its independence is seriously contested, nor to plant any French colonies on the Western Continent, or to retain any permanent conquest of Mexico.

Per contra, a Washington dispatch states that at a special meeting at the White House, on Monday, the present unfavorable aspect of our relations with England and France were considered,—these being regarded as critical.

☞ An order has been issued by Gen. Pleasanton, by direction of Gen. Meade, to allow no newspaper correspondents or civilians not attached to the military service to accompany the commands, and if any such were found to cause them to decamp at once.

☞ A fire in East Boston on Wednesday morning destroyed ten wooden dwelling houses and other wooden buildings. A stable which was burned, contained ten or twelve horses and several carriages, all of which were destroyed. Loss nearly $30,000,—a very small portion being covered by insurance.

☞ It is said that the claim that rebel piracy on the ocean should be treated as legalized privateering, is soon to be tested in the French Courts, in a case growing out of the capture of the silver bars on board the ship B. F. Hoxie.

☞ In accordance with the law on that subject, all officers of the army who have been unemployed during the past six months have been cut off from allowance for servants and horses. No exceptions are made in the enforcement of this law.

☞ It is said that in Rhode Island the manufacture of woolen fabrics is rapidly overshadowing every other business. All the woolen mills in Pascoag and vicinity, some seven or eight in number, are in full operation, except one, which is stopped temporarily for repairs.

☞ The Hon. D. W. Voorhees, member of Congress from Indiana, the friend and champion of Vallandigham, was roughly treated by some soldiers on a train of cars last Saturday. They wanted to hang him, but the officers protected him; the soldiers, however, forced him to leave the train before he reached his destination.

☞ The Portland Press states that a man who had been drafted and was exempted on the plea of non-residence, in Westbrook, Me., appeared at the polls in that town on Monday, and voted. He was subsequently informed that he could appear at the Provost Marshal's office, and pay his commutation fee or bring his substitute.

THE APPLE CROP will be more abundant than was expected in the early part of the season. The fruit in this section, where the worms did not strip the trees, is large and of excellent quality. On the north side of the river to the interior of New Hampshire, the crop will be larger than last year. In the whole country we think it may come quite up to the average.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ Rebel papers state that the Confederate authorities are acting vigorously in the matter of deserters from their armies. Within a week ten have been tried by court martial and shot.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The price of substitutes in Concord ranged recently from $375 to $475.

—— The corn crops is reported to be very fine throughout the State.

—— The barn of Ruel Durkee, Esq., in Croydon, was burned on Wednesday night last week with all its contents. Some fifty tons of hay, a large quantity of grain and one horse were consumed.

—— A tomato, raised in the garden of the Lake Hotel, at Wolfboro', measured nineteen and three-fourths inches in circumference.

—— Paymaster McFarland, of Manchester, recently robbed at Washington of $40,000 by his clerk has presented one thousand dollars to the policeman through whose agency the money was recovered.

—— Lt. David C. Harriman, late of the 11th Regt. N. H. V., answers Maj. Farr's letter in relation to Col. Harriman—and publishes the answer in the Manchester Union, charging Maj. Farr with a conspiracy to oust Col. Harriman and Lt. Col. Collins, in order that Farr might be Colonel.—The conspiracy began to come to a head about the time Col. H. was nominated for Governor, and has been active ever since. Maj. Farr having denied the fact of conspiracy against Col. Harriman by referring to the names of Briggs and Ross, Lt. Harriman says:—

My brother was surprised to learn that Ross had joined the conspiracy against him with the hope of being Lt. Col. of the regiment, after Farr's promotion as Colonel.—I have no doubt that he has been a party to such conspiracy from the motives stated, ever since he came home last Spring to attend to certain suits pending in Hillsboro' county, and went back to the regiment to persuade Col. Harriman, at the request of Ira A. Eastman, not to run as the Union candidate for Governor.

In regard to Surgeon Ross, I can believe that he dislikes Col. Harriman, for the Col. is very popular with the soldiers of the regiment, while the Surgeon is unanimously unpopular with them; over 500 of them having signed a petition for his removal for neglect of duty.

HABEAS CORPUS. — The President's Proclamation suspending habeas corpus in certain cases, is dated September 15. After citing the Act of Congress on the subject, he says:—

Whereas, In the judgment of the President, the public safety does require that the privilege of said writ shall now be suspended throughout the United States, in cases whereby the authority of the President of the United States, military, naval and civil officers of the United States, or any of them, hold persons under their command, or in their custody, either as prisoners of war, spies, or aiders or abettors of the enemy; or officers, soldiers or seamen enrolled, drafted, or mustered or enlisted in, or belonging to the land or naval forces of the United States, or as deserters therefrom, or otherwise amenable to military law or the laws and articles of war, or to the rules and regulations prescribed for the military or naval service by authority of the President of the United States, or for resisting a draft, or for any other offence against the military or naval service,

Now, therefore, I, Abraham Lincoln, President of the United States, do hereby proclaim and make known to all whom it may concern, that the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus is suspended throughout the United States in the several cases before mentioned, and that this suspension will continue throughout the duration of said rebellion, or until this proclamation shall, by a subsequent one to be issued by the President of the United States, be modified and revoked.

CALENDAR CLOCKS.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to insure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment; and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

One of Hunnewell's Preparations.

HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—To make a Cough Remedy thorough for all Throat and Lung Complaints, and to rid the mind of Climatic causes, when the great error has been the introducing of components which debilitate, and by such to restrain the greatest freedom of use, as the only true theory by which such complaints can be effectually cure, was the point made in this valuable preparation. To prevent asking attention to long stories of great cures, and to long descriptive technicalities, I would ask confidence which will be accord, in COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, SORE THROAT BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC COMPLAINTS, to all THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS, which, when neglected, end in CONSUMPTION, and to prove the declarations by true results.

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notice may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

Our terms are as low as those of any other paper.

Local.

☞ Among the live men at the South End—and there are a good many such in that part of the city—is Mr. John Nutter, the baker. And one sign whereby it may be known he is such, is the lettered sign of his business over his door, bearing at one end the compass and square—signifying in mason lore, no end of good things, and to the world, that all goes fair and square there; and at the other a bee-hive, emblematic of industry. And certainly our old friend N. is one of the workers—we always thought he worked too hard—for we believe there may be such a thing as working too hard for one's own interest. But at any rate he is one of those who fulfil the injunction of the Mechanic Society's motto, "Mind your business;" and such rarely fail of success.

☞ Dan Rice's Great Show comes here to-day; and the reader will see on our 4th page the particulars of performing Dogs, Ponies, Horses, Men and Women in great number and great variety. The lovers of such sports need not be advised to go: they cannot easily be kept away.

☞ A gentleman who formerly lived near this city, and who is well known to many persons here, has recently returned from Virginia, where he has lived for several years. He leaves now lest he should be compelled to go to Richmond as a prisoner; and he assures his friends here that the rebellion would have been abandoned in his region a year ago, if the rebels there had not been assured of help by leaders of the democratic party in the free States, and by the elections of that time, which favored that assurance.

☞ Professor Denton, in the course of his lectures, spoke of the debasing effect of tobacco, and hoped that mankind would so far progress as to abandon the enervating and filthy habit, so that it a geologist 1000 years hence should notice a fossil with a Dutch pipe in its mouth it would bother him to tell for what purpose the appendage was used. He also told of a man out West that put his quid into the mouth of a rattlesnake, and that the reptile died quicker from the poison than the tobacco chewer would from the snakes. He held that no one had the right to poison themselves, or the air, as they walk the streets.

☞ Capt. Dillingham of the clipper ship Snow Squall, at New York, reports—on the 28th of July last, when about 160 miles from the Cape of Good Hope, he unexpectedly ran alongside a barque rigged vessel, which ran out guns, showing the rebel flag and made preparations to board him. Finding that he had got into a trap, Capt. Dillingham determined to escape, and succeeded in escaping by superior sailing, although repeatedly fired at by the pirate. Capt. Dillingham's wife, a daughter of B. P. Shillaber, Esq., of Boston, was on board. No person was injured by the shot from the pirate.

DUTY OF WAR DEMOCRATS.—Gen. Cochrane accepts the nomination of the Union Convention of the State of New York as candidate for Attorney General, because, he says, he finds nothing in the platform with which he disagrees. He concludes his letter of acceptance as follows:

"It is the cause of Democracy which it (the convention) has espoused—not of that nominal Democracy that mouths it for the war, and sympathizes with the rebels; nor of that caravan Democracy which, chained by committees and cribbed by organizations, is put upon its annual progress through our streets for the benefit of the proprietors—but of that Democracy which consists in the conflict of arms for the government of the people assailed by arms; and, until the rebels against the people and their Government cease from molesting, I will unite with any and all to compel them to lay down their arms. Such, in my judgment, is the duty of all War Democrats."

☞ The report of Gen. Rosecrans of the battle of Murfreesboro' is being published in book form. It is a volume of several hundred pages.

☞ Com. Turner, in command of the New Ironsides, is a first cousin of the rebel Gen. Robert E. Lee.

☞ Refugees and rebel deserters from the country between the Potomac and Rappahannock, come in at the rate of ten every night.

We assert it Boldly!

There are no other Medicines so reliable, effectual and convenient as HOLLOWAY'S PILLS & OINTMENT, always ready for use. They are invaluable to the Soldier exposed to Wounds, Sores, Fevers, and Bowel Complaints. They never fail. Only 25 cents per box or pot. 229

It is supposed by some that the Prince of Wales visited this country in part to obtain a package of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus. Whether he did or not, it would do honor to the Queen's table to have as nice light Biscuit as that article always makes. If any one has any doubts on the subject, go to your Grocer and get a paper immediately, and find of a truth that there is nothing like it. Everybody sells it.

Notice.

ALL PERSONS having payments due them on Back Bills of the Navy Yard, are requested to call for the same immediately, as the change of Paymasters may necessitate the transfer of their accounts to Washington.

THE SOLDIER.

Our mountain-tops were fair and white
Along the blue unclouded skies,
While every wooded vale and height
Wore Autumn's rich and brilliant dyes.

The trees along the tranquil stream,
With trailing vines and flowerets rare
On darksome shade or sunny gleam,
Seemed to the eye like fringes fair.

The rocky cliff and purple hill
Upon the placid lake were seen,
While golden light was shining still
On lovely grange and mountain men.

The hunter's cabin on the hills,
The hamlet gray and village white,
While every heart with freedom thrills,
Send forth their heroes to the fight.

Even Woman's soul and tearful eye
At times was full of pride and joy,
As rose her prayers, that God on high
Would guard dear lives her noble boy.

What deep and tender feelings swell
The soldier's brave and manly breast,
As he must bid a last farewell
To those who long had loved him best.

Amid these parting words and tears,
He sees the starry banner fly,
The bugle's distant call he hears,
And he must for his country die.

Our mountains wear their summer blue,
In summer green our meadows wave,
But ah—the youth bloom and true
Is sleeping in a soldier's grave.

His long and weary march is over
His toils in camp and siege are done,
He shares the fearful strife no more,
By which the field of fame is won.

In mournful sounds the muffled drum
Must sadness bring to hill and vale,
While groups will sit in sorrow dumb,
Or weep to hear some comrade's tale.

The winds which sweep our fields along,
The brook that murmurs through the glen,
And even the wood-bird's sweetest song,
Bring sadness to the hearts of men;

For they are blended with the sighs
Of those who weep the early dead,
Whose forms no more shall meet their eyes
On river's bank or mountain's head.

And bless, O God, the hearts that mourn
The memories sweet of him they love,
While they through pain and sadness learn
To fix their hopes in realms above.

As once across the Master's form
To bid the raging billows cease,
So may he rise in battle's storm
And still its wildest waves to peace!

As on our loveliest lake shall rest
The fairest tints of evening sky,
So may our troubled hearts be blest
With smiles which light the Father's eye.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, No. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest stings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D., devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by such a habit are Loss of Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion to society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating marriage, consider the obligations of a married state, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Persons who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your case. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capotins, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important!

To Females in Delicate Health.

Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges his superiority in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH IMPROVED SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with pipe, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats is prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, so no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable furnace, would ask those about remodeling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headaches so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus should be to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some pretending but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off as fast as desired, and of the best, to customers who favor us with a call.

To those who have patronized us for the past few months, we tender our thanks, and trust by a strict attention in furnishing the riding public with to merit the further patronage of all others who desire to be well served.

In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

PRENTICE HAS A BOY NAMED AFTER HIM.—An accomplished lady of a neighboring county writes us a pleasant business letter, and adds at the close:

"I send you the name of my Union boy, five weeks old, Geo. D. Prentice Ulysses S. Grant Orlando H. Rosecrans Stanley Beryman Burnside Adams. I know you will say that is sufficient to represent one country."

We heartily thank Mrs. Adams for our part of the compliment. We consider it no little honor that our name is made the capital of such a magnificent Corinthian column, and we trust that Gen. Grant, Gen. Rosecrans, Gen. Stanley, Gen. Berryman and Gen. Burnside will be gratified with the positions assigned them. We hope and believe that Gen. McClellan, Gen. Meade, Gen. Sherman, Gen. Gilmore, Gen. Steele, Gen. Rosseau, and others will not be envious. Mrs. A. may have large honors in reserve for them all.

Our blessing upon the little Geo. D. Prentice U. S. G. O. H. R. S. B. B. Adams.—May he not be smothered or crushed under his name. May he bear it stoutly up as Atlas shouldered the sky, instead of groaning beneath it as the giants did beneath Mount Ætna. If our common father Adam had been burdened with as much name as this little Adams five weeks old, he would probably have been not only the first man but the last. But fortunately for him, there were no such editor and heroes then as there are now to name him after.—Louisville Journal.

ROBERT TOOMBS ON RECONSTRUCTION.—We find the following letter from General Robert Toombs in the last number of the Sumter Republican:

WASHINGTON, Ga., Aug. 17, 1863.

My Dear Sir: Your letter of the 15th instant, asking my authority to contradict the report that "I am in favor of reconstruction," was received this evening. I can conceive of no extremity in which I would for a single moment entertain any proposition for any union with the North on any terms whatever. When all else is lost, I prefer to unite with the thousands of our own countrymen who have found honorable deaths, if not graves, on the battle-field. Use this letter as you please.

Very truly, your friend, &c.,
ROBERT TOOMBS.

Dr. A. BEES, Americus, Ga.

We cut the the above from a paper which bitterly opposes and has opposed, every effort to subdue the rebellion and crush the rebels by force.—Toombs spits upon such papers and people.

THE EXCHANGE OF PRISONERS.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Commercial writes that, as far as can be learned, the report that the President is disposed to yield a point on the important question of protecting and exchanging colored soldiers, is quite incorrect. Certainly not the least official intimation has been made to that effect, for at the last meeting of Gen. Meredith and the rebel commissioner this very question—the only one of difference—came up, and our commissioner was as unyielding as ever, while Mr. Ould did not believe that the rebels would change their position. Thus the matter stands at present. If the President has changed his views, he has not given the change any official form.

☞ The New York Times makes this point: Nor have the Southern people any right to ask the President to promise them anything whatever as a condition of laying down their arms. Everything he could promise, which is to affect their permanent welfare and civil condition, is already guaranteed to them by the Constitution of the United States. Let them return to the shelter and protection of that great Charter, and their rights are perfectly secure. This they can do—and they must do, if they wish the war to end.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

A rebel dispatch from Charleston reports that Gen. Gilmore is perfecting arrangements for the permanent occupation of Morris Island. He is erecting lines of telegraph along the whole island, converting Battery Wagner into a powerful work, enlarging his bomb-proofs, &c. A telegraph line to connect Cumming's Point with Fort Pulaski is in course of construction. Gen. Gilmore, in an official communication, says 36 pieces of artillery were captured on Morris Island, and it is not impossible that others may still remain concealed.

A rebel dispatch from Atlanta, Ga., reports that the rebel Gen. Forrest was wounded in a skirmish near Dalton on Friday. The dispatch shows that the rebels were driven back at Dalton and Lafayette, on that day. A general engagement was expected. Gen. Rosecrans occupied Chattanooga, and it was reported at Atlanta that Burnside had joined him.

Some of our troops are reported to have been on Tuesday six or eight miles beyond Culpepper. On Monday they attempted to cross the Rapidan, but were opposed and stopped in three places. The losses on both sides were slight. Gordonsville is eighteen miles beyond. It is supposed that the main body of the rebel army is entrenched there.

Lee's movements are variously commented on. One account is that he is going to attack Burnside: another, that he is falling back to make a stand on the northern boundary of North Carolina.

There is a report of a disagreement between Adm. Dahlgren and Gen. Gilmore, and that the latter having tendered his resignation in consequence, the President declined to accept it, but proposed to Adm. Farragut to assume command of the naval forces at Charleston.

Deserters say that the rebels are still building batteries to command the channel to Charleston. They are also said to have received, by a blockade runner to Mobile, two 13-inch Blackely rifles, with 90 projectiles, weighing 500 pounds each, for them.

CHARLESTON.—On the day before the naval expedition made its disastrous attempt to capture Fort Sumter, Gen. Gilmore informed the Admiral that he should attempt to take possession of the ruins during the night, and was informed that the navy proposed doing the same thing. The 24th Massachusetts and the 10th Connecticut Volunteers were selected, and instructed if they found the navy already there, to retire; if not, to attack the fort with four hundred picked men, and, if successful, to burn a red light from the ramparts. The soldiery set out about 10 o'clock, with plans well matured, and quietly approached the ruins. The night was propitious and everything was moving smoothly on, when the navy were discovered about to commence the assault. According to order, the army withdrew.

It is probable that the white flag reported to have been flying on Fort Moultrie was the rebel battle flag, which is nearly three-fourths white, and might easily be mistaken at a distance for a flag of truce or a sign of surrender. At any rate, the fort was in full operation at the last accounts, maintaining a heavy fire upon the captured batteries on Morris Island.

The great army at New Orleans for the Rio Grande, has sailed, and we shall soon hear stirring news from that quarter.—Whether this will hasten a conflict with the French or not, we shall see: but no stone will be left unturned to restore the unity of this country, for fear of any foreign power. The rebellion is too far played out now for Europeans to interfere; but should they do so, they will find the government firm and true, and the people ready to act. There was never a determination more firmly fixed in any people, than in ours that these States shall be one nation, and independent of all other nations.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ Beauregard having threatened to place Union prisoners on the parapet of Sumter if the navy made it an object of fire, Admiral Dahlgren replied that if he should resort to such a heathenish mode of procedure, then he might look at the same hour for rebel prisoners tied to the outer surface of the monitors' turrets.

We are informed that by authority of the War Department, the Surgeons of the several Boards of Enrollment are permitted to visit and examine at their houses all men who are unable from physical disability to report for examination according to orders. Bath Times.

☞ Hon. Mr. Sweat, of Maine, M. C., now finds his district giving a majority of thousands against him. The Country is no better than the Town, it seems.

☞ Gen. Gilmore has given 30 days furlough to privates who have greatly distinguished themselves in the recent siege.

☞ The fire at the Philadelphia Navy Yard, on Sunday, was the result of spontaneous combustion.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The town of Sandwich voted last Wednesday to pay drafted men or their substitutes $200 each, as soon as they are mustered into the service of the United States.

—— The Republican states that Mr. Vernon E. Smith has in his garden, in Lancaster, a cabbage stalk having upon it six perfectly defined heads, three of which are well developed.

—— The town of Jefferson, at a meeting last week, refused to pay bounty to drafted men and substitutes. Another meeting has been called.

—— The Washington correspondent of the Boston Herald states that a howitzer captured at the first Bull Run battle, and belonging to the First N. H., was recaptured at the skirmish in front of Culpepper on Sunday.

—— In Rochester, the business of flannel and other woolen manufacturing has been unusually brisk during the past year. The Norway Plains Company are now putting up a new mill and making other improvements, while the Gonic Falls Company are putting in two new Turbine wheels which will give them a power sufficient to drive another large mill. There is also an extra fall of water at this latter village which is to be soon improved. There are three manufacturing villages in the town, which were never in a more prosperous condition than at present.

☞ A correspondent of the Philadelphia Press says that on the night the enemy evacuated Fort Wagner, a party of Union troops visited Fort Sumter, "and a couple of sailors, climbing into the ruins, removed the rebel flag that still waved above the ruined parapet. They found no occupants to dispute their entrance. But as they proceeded on their watery way, stopping occasionally to bail out the leaky boats with hats and shoes, there rang out on the night air a shout of 'Heave to,' accompanied by the discharge of one of the howitzers, followed by cries of 'We surrender!' and, behold! a fine prize; three boats laden with part of the evacuating garrisons of Wagner and Gregg, consisting of a Major, a Captain, a Surgeon, and eighty-two rank and file."

ANOTHER CALL FOR VOLUNTEERS.—It is reported, and apparently with good authority, says the Boston Transcript, that the Government is entirely confident that the rebellion will be completely quelled in less than a year. Acting upon this view, it is said that a call for volunteers for nine months will be issued, and from the accounts received at Washington from various quarters, it is thought a hearty response will be made by the patriotic masses ready to participate in the closing scenes of the triumphant war for the Union.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK, for October, gives seven colored figures in the Fashion plate, and ten in wood engravings. A new story by Marion Harland is commenced in this number, and will be concluded in November. Those who are about to make up clubs should commence now. The terms are: One copy, one year, $3. Two copies, $5. Three copies, one year, $6. Four copies, one year, $7. Five copies, one year, and an extra copy to the person getting up the club, $10. Eleven copies, one year, and an extra copy, $20.

MAINE.—The Portland Press of Thursday gives the vote for Governor in 309 towns: Cony, 57,320; Bradbury, 39,651; majority, 17,669. About 100 places yet to hear from. The Senate 30 to 1; the House 120 Union to 31 opposition.

☞ The Herald states that Rev. J. C. Fletcher, of Newburyport, met with another mishap. We related the other day how the steamer on which he was to sail for Rio put back for repairs, and sailed again, leaving him behind with "nothing to wear," all his luggage going on. Atonce he started for Brazil, via England; and now, when he is half the seas over, hastening forward to get his clothes, papers, &c., at Rio, the steamer has returned a second time for repairs, so that when he reaches Rio he will be in the same plight as when he left New York.

☞ Acting Rear Admiral Bailey, under date of Key West, Sept. 6, states, in order to correct an erroneous impression, that not a single instance of yellow fever, or of anything approaching it, has made its appearance either in the town or harbor during the entire season, and the health of the place is in every respect remarkably good.

☞ The Boston Post of August 31 has the following item:—

Mr. Tuttle, in accepting the Democratic nomination as a candidate for the office of Governor of the State of Iowa, says,—"I am for the Union without an if, and regardless whether Slavery stands or falls by its restoration, and in favor of peace on no other than unconditional submission of the rebels to the constituted authorities of the Government of the United States." That is the true ground—the ground of the sound Democracy all over the country.

Then the party which has just been defeated in Maine and Vermont is not a part of the sound Democracy, for its ground was quite different from this, and so is the New York platform just built. It is difficult to ride well on two horses at once. U. T.

"THE CONSTITUTION AS IT IS."—Some writers and speakers, who have used this motto, also claim absolute State Sovereignty, and State Rights or Powers, which are utterly incompatible with the Constitution, and which would destroy it and the Government together, if they had the power which is claimed for them.

The modern sticklers for extreme State Powers, fully reproduce a batch of old errors. The Kentucky resolutions of '98 contained the substance of them all, viz., that the Constitution was a compact between States, as States—and that each State was the only judge of the wrongs it suffered, and the only judge of the means of redress.—This, though directly contrary to the express words of the Constitution, passed by the Kentucky Legislature in 1778, by a vote almost unanimous; and has never been exceeded in absurdity, till Gov. Magoffin declared neutrality in Kentucky between the U. S. and the rebels, when the latter made war upon us.

Though the Resolutions of '98 were thus adopted in Kentucky, and sent to all the other States, no one State ever adopted them! but on the contrary, Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Vermont and Rhode Island, passed Resolutions disavowing and denying the pretence set up, that the State Legislatures had the power to decide on the validity of the Acts of Congress.

The other more Southern States passed it over in silence;—and it is worthy of remark, now and here, that every one of the States just named, which held to the Constitution then, are loyal now.

Yet these false and foolish notions were reproduced in force at Charleston, when South Carolina tried to nullify the U. S. Revenue Laws in 1832, and when she rebelled and made war in 1861. And they are reproduced and reasserted in almost every convention of traitors and rebel sympathizers all over the United States this year. They are seized upon as the straw by which the drowning slave power tries to save itself from sinking for the last time. They are but a straw, and will be seen no more when that disappears. U. T.

☞ A member of a Maine regiment died in Rockland, Me., last week, of hydrophobia, resulting from the bite of a cat while at Pensacola, Fla. He was bitten in the right wrist, and, slightly, in the left thumb. He cut out the flesh and applied tobacco as an antidote; but was subsequently seized with acute pains, which his physician pronounced inflammatory rheumatism, and prescribed for as such, and he got better. But he became impressed with the idea that he was attacked with hydrophobia, and finally he could not bear the approach of water or any liquid, which he said produced sensations like those of drowning. To test these symptoms water was procured, which threw him into nervous spasms. He was rational thro' the last day of his illness, when he became insensible, and continued to sink, until he died without a struggle.

☞ England averages about two hundred and fifty divorce suits a year.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS.—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, CONTIVENESS, BILIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and Bowels, and as a Family Pill. spno

THE DRAFT IN NEW HAMPSHIRE

Correspondence of the Boston Herald.

PORTSMOUTH, Sept. 12.

The most interesting subject, at this time to the people of the counties of Rockingham, Strafford, Belknap and Carroll, comprising the First Congressional District of New Hampshire, is the operation of the draft, now going on in this city. The Board of Enrollment consists of Capt. John S. Godfrey, Provost Marshal, who was originally Quartermaster of the renowned 2d N. H., and subsequently Brigade Quartermaster upon Gen. Hooker's staff; Capt. Jere. S. Tilton, formerly Commissary of Subsistence, and Surgeon Jere. S. Hall, late of the 15th N. H. regiment. The chief clerk is Chas. Chesley, Esq., of Wakefield. The Mass. regiments come in for a share of representation in the office of the Marshal.—The 5th gives us Sergt. David O. Floyd.—From the 23d we have Sergt. J. H. Kent, from old Barnstead, in this State, well known to the multitude of daily readers of the Herald, through his piquant army correspondence,—a man of liberal dimensions, and every inch a soldier and a gentleman. Sergt. Palfrey, of the same regiment, and Private Fred. Dodge, of the 44th, are also on duty, with the pen, an instrument in Provost Marshals' offices which is often "mightier than the sword."

The Board is emphatically a working body. Surgeon Hall is assisted in the discharge of his duties by Dr. N. L. Folsom, of this city. The surgeons are in constant receipt of all sorts of certificates of all kinds of disabilities from doctors. Sometimes ministers give certificates that they believe the claim of the person making it is honest, and not done to avoid the draft. The other day a conscript from one of the towns near Manchester appeared claiming exemption because one of his great toes was cut off at joint in some way. He was accepted and went to Manchester and had part of his toe amputated by Dr. Buck, a leading surgeon of that city. Conscript then appeared and claimed exemption on the ground of loss of great toe, but the regulations require a "total" loss of the member, and the surgeon rejected his application in toto.

Rev. Mr. Patterson, Universalist minister of this city, was drafted. He has been a warm advocate of the vigorous prosecution of the war for the sustaining of the Union. He wanted to go to the fight and tendered his resignation to his society, and also asked for a leave of absence. His parish unanimously decided that he ought to stay at home, where there was work for him. He was exempted for over age. He then sent the Marshal a check for $300, to be paid to the government, to be used in prosecuting the war. Capt. Godfrey has sent the funds to the Secretary of the Treasury, with a statement of the reverend gentleman's desires.

A Mr. Wm. O. Cram, of Hampton Falls, a conscientious peace man, was among the conscripts. He could not send a substitute—that would be making war by proxy, and he regarded it equally wrong to pay commutation. Being a non-resistant, he could not resist the draft, and consequently surrendered himself to the authorities. He passed the surgeon, and was sent to be uniformed. But he declined to don the garb of a man of war, and was, in consequence, with martyr-like forbearance, deprived of his ordinary suit, and like a babe of a day's age, clothed by the attendants. He objects to carrying a gun from conscientious motives, and what is most singular, will, it is said, decline to draw pay! He has gone to Concord, a soldier de facto, and will, doubtless, have an experience that will be novel to a peace man.

Some interesting cases have arisen in regard to discharged soldiers who have been paroled by the rebels and subsequently drafted, and in one instance a sailor, captured in a merchant ship, and compelled to take the oath not to fight against the Southern States, has been elected one of our national forces. Whatever may be thought of the hardships of the law in its results in individual cases, no one can justly impeach the integrity of the Board of Enrollment.—It is composed of high minded and honorable men, and the government and the people are alike fairly treated at their hands.

INDEX.

☞ The parents of Lieut. Charles H. Bradford, U. S. Marine Corps, who was said to have been mortally wounded in the recent night assault on Fort Sumter, have received information that he will undoubtedly recover. This will be good news to Lieut. Bradford's friends in this city, whom a residence at the Navy Yard gained for him. His parents reside at Portland.

☞ Lieut. J. H. Higbee, of the Marine Corps, is ordered to report for duty to Capt. G. Garland at the Brooklyn marine barracks.

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

JOHN S. GODFREY,
Capt. and Provost Marshal, 1st Cong. Dist., N. H.
Portsmouth, Sept. 17, 1863.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting the Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials here given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

ATTENTION, THE WHOLE!

RYE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWEETS PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JONIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, unable to bear natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. mav26y

MY SHIP.

Down to the wharves, as the sun goes down,
And the daylight's tumult, and dust, and din
Are dying away in the busy town,
I go to see if my ship comes in.

I pass no over the quiet sea,
Kissed with sunset, like mellow wine,
Where ships, like lilies, lie tranquilly,
Many and fair—but I see not mine

I question the sailors every night
Who over the bulwarks idly lean,
Noting the sails as they come in sight—
"Have you seen my beautiful ship come in?"

"Whence does she come?" they ask of me—
"Who is her master? and what her name?"
And they smile upon me pityingly
When my answer is ever and ever the same.

O, mine was a vessel of strength and truth,
Her sails were as white as a young lamb's fleece,
She sailed long since from the port of Youth—
Her master was Love and her name was Peace

And like all beloved and beautiful things,
She faded in distance and disappeared away;—
With only a tremble of snowy wings,
She floated, swanlike, adown the bay.

Carrying with her a precious freight—
All I had gathered by years of pain;
A tempting prize to the pirate Fate—
And still I watch for her back again.

Watch from the earliest morning light,
Till the pale stars gleam in the dying day,
To see the gleam of her canvas white
Among the islands which gem the bay.

But she comes not yet—she will never come
To gladden my eyes and spirit more;
And my heart grows hopeless and faint and dumb,
As I wait and wait on the lonely shore;

Knowing that tempest, and time, and storm,
Have wrecked and shattered her beautiful hull,
Rank sea weeds cover her wasting form,
And her sails are tattered and stained and dark.

But the tide comes up, and the tide goes down,
And the daylight follows the night's eclipse—
And still with the sailors, tanned and brown,
I wait on the wharves and watch the ships.

And still with a patience that is not hope,
For vain and empty it long hath been,
I sit on the rough shore's rocky slope,
And watch to see if my ship comes in.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the
CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and tea iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats is prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any articles can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodeling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, mild and agreeable—and we none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over those in common use, others have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off into the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the stove can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the bottom part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert E. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber,

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.

1st It is stronger and lighter than any known material.

2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.

3d. When the arch is irregular we can by building out the appropriate rubber, which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.

4th No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.

5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a saucer, as when finished the work presents one whole piece.

6th. Which all will see it is better, save in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

DR. A. P. STEVENS, Surgeon Dentist,
No. 5 Daniel St., Portsmouth,

Has had four years of practical experience in working this material, and will guarantee satisfaction in all cases entrusted to his care.

VOL. 23. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. SATURDAY SEPT. 19, 1863. NO. 69.

The Chronicle.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every item fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

Gen. Wilson stated in Portland that, of 6000 military nominations made by the President, since the rebellion commenced, that had come before the Military committee of the Senate for confirmation, more than 4000 were democrats; and that the committee, consisting of four republicans and three democrats, had never divided on one of them on political considerations.—Press.

The proportions of privates are quite different. It is supposed three-fifths were republicans—and a large proportion of the rest noware war democrats.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.
DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, No. 7 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a
PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.
By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most aggravating cases of
GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.
Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrotula, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Strictures and diseases in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, Painful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest stings of a child.
SEMINAL WEAKNESS.
Dr D., devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Disorganement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil foretoadings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.
Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.
Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your case. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Lupotes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.
Highly Important!
To Females in Delicate Health.
DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to it female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are successfully cured upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.
Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.
Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.
Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.
N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.
Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.
CERTAIN CURE
in all cases, or No Charges Made.
Dr Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwarried attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.
Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.
P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

No change has yet been made of the military commanders in the Department of Missouri,—it is said because the delegates appointed at the recent People's Convention have not yet reached Washington. It is said to be not improbable that Gen. Butler will succeed Gen. Schofield.

Gen. Gilmore has not tendered his resignation, and the report of a disagreement between him and Adm. Dahlgren is denied.

Admiral Porter has received a dispatch stating that Little Rock, Ark., was occupied by Gen. Steele on the 10th, without fighting of consequence, or loss. Price, who commands the rebels, was rapidly retreating, with Gen. Davidson in hot pursuit.

The rebels have a strong position on the Rapidan, but no great force, it is said.—Lee's recent movements, it is now thought, were not caused by weakness, but were intended to draw Gen. Meade into a position where he could be fought to greater advantage.

It is understood that Gen. Burnside has acquiesced in the wish of the President and withdrawn his resignation for the present.

New Orleans correspondents of Western papers state that the troops which have already gone from there by sea, (some 10,000 men) constituted only a comparatively small portion of the expedition. Another wing was to be sent off by the Opelousas railroad, for the double purpose of reclaiming the Teche country and marching into Texas overland.

The draft is to be enforced in that portion of Louisiana which claims the benefit of loyalty.

We have an unclishable report from the South, that Bragg was defeated and driven back after two days' fighting, and that he was then largely reinforced by Johnston, which turned the tide of battle, and enabled him to repulse Gen. Rosecrans. But late Richmond papers contain no allusion to this, and it is evidently false. All of Joe. Johnston's cavalry is reported to have joined Bragg, with the design of destroying Rosecrans's communications. The rebels hope, by burling 200,000 men on Burnside and Rosecrans, to crush them,—but whence will come the 200,000?

Letters from New York state that an important expedition is about to sail from that port, with Adm. Farragut in command of the naval portion.

The expedition from New Orleans is said to have sailed on the 9th, Gen. Grant being in command.

Charleston advices to the 15th bring no important news.

A Richmond dispatch to a Mobile paper styles Joe. Johnston Commander of the Army of Virginia. What have they done with Lee?

☞ A Paris correspondent of the N. Y. Times professes to give reliable accounts of recent movements in diplomatic circles in Europe, which are important if true. He states that Napoleon has rapidly turned a summerset. He tried to carry England and Austria with him into a war with Russia and Prussia on the Polish question. England refused and Austria went to work to organize the German Confederation against him. Then statements reached Paris that Minister Clay was maturing an alliance between the United States and Russia, to act against France in case of a European war,—all bosh, of course. Yet "the nephew of his Uncle" became frightened, turned square round, protested that he never intended to go to war for Poland, and begged to be friends again. To complete the thing handsomely a 'friendly understanding' was come to between France, Russia and Prussia, which leaves John Bull out in the cold alone unless he is willing to fall into the warm embraces of Uncle Sam.

NAVAL.—Orders have been received by the officers superintending the construction of the iron-clad steamers Puritan and Dictator, to have them finished as soon as possible. The Onondaga, the Quintard battery, is also to be hurried with all convenient speed, and the four navy iron-clads are to be put in readiness for service without delay. Rumors in naval circles say that a whole fleet of ocean iron-clads is to be completed at the different ship-yards immediately.

Iron-clad frigate Roanoke at Fortress Monroe will return to New York to remain as the permanent harbor battery, after a few weeks. The Roanoke is one of the most formidable vessels in the service, having no less than six guns and three ponderous turrets.

Frigate Cumberland was raised from her bed in Hampton Roads, recently, and the floats were being rapidly emptied, when the tide began to make with such velocity as to seriously disturb operations. Suddenly the huge monster frigate again sunk to her bed at the bottom.

Iron-clad steamer Cincinnati, which was sunk by the Vicksburg batteries, has been raised and taken to Cairo.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Nashua Gazette states that Lieut. Col. Bedel, of the 3d regiment, who has been reported killed in the assault on Wagner, is a prisoner in Richmond.

—— Thomas H. Dearborn, of Seabrook, who enlisted as a private in Co. C, 6th N. H., has been promoted to the post of second lieutenant.

—— Rev. B. F. Eaton, pastor of the Universalist church in Dover, who was drafted as a resident of South Hampton, has been exempted from the draft in that town on the ground of non-residence.

—— Rev. D. P. Cilley, Chaplain of the 8th N. H. regiment, has returned to his home in Farmington, on a furlough. He left New Orleans on the 1st inst., and came up the Mississippi. His regiment was in very good health and courage. It was at Baton Rouge, under marching orders—destination unknown.

—— Samuel F. Piper, of Exeter, has been fined $10 and costs for an assault on a woman in July last with a stick of wood. He assailed her in her own yard, beat her, and drove her into the house, and then induced a police officer to arrest and confine her in jail, where she was kept twenty-four hours and then released—no charge being sustained against her.

—— A barbarous outrage was committed in Hudson last Friday night. The house of Mrs. Sarah Merrill, a widow lady aged 77, was broken into, apparently for the little plunder it might afford. The old lady was shockingly beaten with clubs. She received nine blows, one of which broke her arm, and was so much injured that her recovery is doubtful. Some property was taken, consisting mainly of small linen articles, and a string of gold beads taken from her neck. The Selectmen offer a reward of $500 for the detection of the villains.

—— The Claremont Eagle states that Gov. Gilmore, Hon. John P. Hale, Hon. Daniel Clark, and Hon. J. W. Patterson, were to leave Concord on Wednesday evening for Washington, to urge upon the War Department the necessity of fair dealing in the draft, whatever the inconvenience may be to some officials of that department.—The Governor is determined that justice shall be done, and that what ought to be, can be.

—— The Eagle states that a young practical draftsman and mechanic, a resident of Claremont, has invented an application by the aid of which a gun may be fired from two to fifteen times per minute, according to size, from a 15-inch down to a small howitzer, continuously and without limit, except the endurance of the gun. This it accomplishes while the piece is not below 212 nor above 300 degrees of heat, and the bore, throughout, so clean as not to soil a lady's handkerchief. It is moreover a great labor-saving' device, and may be applied to any gun.

—— The faculty of Dartmouth College have gone vigorously at work to suppress the absurd and barbarous custom of "hazing freshmen," and half a dozen sophs have been hauled up, admonished and put on probation.

—— Mr. Daniel Bell, of Chester, had his left hand completely cut off above the wrist joint, and injured the other severely, on Monday, by a mowing machine. He was alone in his field, but leaving the lost hand on the ground, he started for home, which he was able to reach, opening and closing a large gate on the way.

—— The N. Y. Observer states that the Rev. Asa D Smith, D. D., of New York, has been unanimously elected President of Dartmouth College, in place of the Rev. Dr. Lord, whose resignation we have announced.

A PONTOON BRIDGE.—On Monday last the experiment of throwing a pontoon bridge across the Eastern Branch was repeated by the corps under the command of Gen. Benham. Among the distinguished persons present were Post. Gen. Blair, Sec. Fox, Gens. Heintzleman, Stoneman and Blair, Capt. Wise, of the Navy Department, and quite a number of army and navy officers. The occasion was also graced by the presence of ladies. In eight minutes from the time the signal flag was raised, the bridge (one-fourth of a mile long) was laid; in eight minutes more it was swung across the river to the opposite shore, and in twenty-five minutes from the commencement of the work, parties in carriages and on foot were crossing on the bridge at once firm and substantial. Everything went off successfully, as might have been predicted of any operations under the direction of Gen. Benham, to whom, and his admirable corps of officers and men, the country is indebted for most valuable and efficient services on occasions when a single mistake might have hazarded the safety of an army.—Washington Chron.

☞ A Paris letter to the N. Y. Times says that French workmen cannot repair the engines of the pirate Florida, as they are of English manufacture, and that Maffit is obliged to wait for English workmen. This has caused a delay which puts Maffit into a towering rage, as now his vessel will probably suffer the fate of the Sumter at Gibraltar.

☞ All the furniture of the Boar's Head Hotel, at Hampton Beach, is to be sold at auction next Tuesday, at 9 o'clock, A. M.—with horses, carriages, &c.—a great sale of the kind.

☞ The New York Tribune of Wednesday, gives the following reason for the President's Proclamation suspending Habeas Corpus in certain cases, as authorized by Act of Congress:

No citizen of New-York needs to be told how urgent was the necessity for some decisive action on the part of the Government at this moment. Numbers of enlisted and drafted men and of deserters have been daily discharged by writs of habeas corpus from State Courts, and the prospect was presented that the Government would finally, by such means, be defrauded of the services of thousands of men, in this city alone, to which it was rightfully entitled. Elsewhere the same process was going on. The decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, denying to State Courts the right to interfere in such cases, was defiantly disregarded by these insubordinate tribunals, and to such an extent that in order to assert the dignity and defend the prerogatives of that Court, as well as to secure the execution of a constitutional law essential to the existence of the Republic, the President found it necessary to interpose his constitutional Executive power.

WHAT THE REBELS EXPECT OF VALLANDIGHAM.—The traitor ex Lieutenant Maury, in his recent letter to the London Times, apologizing for the recent Rebel defeats, thus states what the Rebels expect of Vallandigham:

"Vallandigham waits and watches over the border, pledged—if elected Governor of the State of Ohio—to array it against Lincoln and the war, and to go for peace.—What the result of the election there will be I cannot tell; but the canvass is going on, and we know that opposition to Lincoln and his war party is growing more and more popular every day, and throughout the whole North."

For instance, look at Maine and Vermont.

☞ A portion of the extensive works of Dr. J. C. Ayer, in Lowell, Mass., were destroyed by fire about 7 o'clock on Wednesday evening, together with a large amount of stock, either wholly or partially manufactured. The building was a four story brick structure, 105 by 78 feet. Nearly two hundred hands will be thrown tempo rarily out of employment. The loss is estimated at between $30,000 and $40,000. There was an insurance of $30,000 on the property.

☞ A Mrs. Wannamaker died at New Prospect, in Bergen County, N. J., last week, who weighed previous to her death seven hundred pounds. She was a great eater, and disposed of an ordinary sized ham in two meals. At her last dinner twenty-four ears of corn made up a slight portion of her repast.

☞ In some churches in Europe a sermon is preached on the flowers, in connection with the season of Whitsuntide, when all the congregation attend church with boquets in their hands. This novel ceremony is very ancient and generally attracts a large gathering of old and young, and no person is admitted into the church unless he or she bears a nosegay, however small. To all such persons the sittings are, on this occasion, entirely free. The sermon is always founded on some verse in the Bible relative to flowers. The custom is being adopted in some of the city churches of the British kingdom.

☞ An iron 36-pounder, which has a history, was captured at Vicksburg and has been sent to Washington. It was cast in France in 1768, and was brought to this country by Lafayette in 1777. It did good service in the Revolution, in the second war with England, and was used in the Texan war by a company of volunteers from New Orleans, who assisted the Texans in achieving their independence.

☞ Hon C. W. Goddard, of Maine, Consul General at Constantinople, has sent home a check for $100, for the sick and wounded soldiers in the hospitals. The American legation at Constantinople, at a Union meeting on the 4th of July, contributed over $1000 for the relief of the soldiers.

☞ The Bangor Jeffersonian states that Albert Noyes, Esq., of Bangor, cultivates this year one hundred and thirty varieties of dahlias, the most perfect in form and attractive in color; and that it is supposed by good judges that there is no place in the world that can produce more perfect dahlias than Bangor.

☞ Gen. Sibley surprised 400 lodges of Sioux about 200 miles above Fort Perrie, Ark., a few days ago, killing about 170 Indians, and capturing all their supplies of meat, provisions, horses, &c., together with a large number of prisoners. Our losses are not reported.

A Lieutenant Malley, of a Pennsylvania regiment has been dismissed without pay, declared forever incapable of holding any office, and sentenced to six years' hard labor, for an attempted rape upon a lady who went to one of the Washington hospitals to see her son.

☞ General Rosecrans has written to the Government that the Rebel conscripts are running into his lines by the hundred, and desire to join his army. He says in his letter, that Tennessee is now more loyal than his own State of Ohio.

☞ Commander Reed Worden has been ordered to the Navy Yard at Philadelphia.

CALENDAR CLOCKS.
These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.
Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.
Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment; and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

One of Hunnewell's Preparations.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the stripping pains so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in the development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, BILIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and Bowels, and as a Family Pill. spno

PROF. DENTON'S LECTURES ON GEOLOGY.—Rarely has our city been visited by a lecturer that has imparted to his audience such varied and valuable information, from a pebble to a mountain, ay, from a mite to a burden on the universe. Scarcely a word but what had a substantial and important meaning, and being aware of the importance and sublimity of his subject, it was often clothed in language truly sublime, yet simple and comprehensive; avoiding all introductory remarks, the first words were the commencement of his lecture.—The only thing to be regretted was the modesty of the man in not making his lectures known, which accounted for the smallness of his audiences, but it was agreeable to notice that the best judges continually attended to the end of the course.

His last lecture was on the progress of mankind and "the good time coming," when the earth shall be thoroughly peopled with a good and energetic race, and possibly all the fuel of the earth may be burned, and artesian wells may be sunk so deep as to emit hot water and steam, which like gas might be conducted in pipes to our dwellings for culinary purposes and warmth.

In his remarks on food he candidly admitted that he yet ate meat, but believed that the time would come when animal food would be done away with, and a man would as soon eat a piece of his uncle as he would a slice of a hog; observing that it was not yet five hundred years since our ancestors ate each other. But as the race progressed this custom had passed away, and he believed the eating of animal food would also pass away; (and it does seem that the human teeth were more adapted to masticating fruit and vegetables); that delicious fruits would be growing everywhere, even at the sides of the street, so that every child, ever so poor, could have what they wanted.

The remark seemed the more appropriate at this time as apples, pears and peaches are now selling in the stores for from one to four cents each. How long shall it be before our own citizens will set out fruit trees, or simply put the seed in the ground and raise their own fruit, in abundance and to spare? But no remarks in a short paragraph could do justice to this course of admirable lectures, and while we hope that under more favorable circumstances the gentleman will return again, we would cordially recommend him to other places wherever he may go. D.

SAFE INVESTMENTS.—The safest and best investment a man can make of a portion of his surplus funds is in a Life Policy: the results of the twenty years' experience of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York have been highly satisfactory to all who have insured therein; some of our own citizens who have insured their lives with this Company for a long term of years are now in possession of their original policy, to be paid at its termination, with not only no further payment of premium, but are actually in receipt of a yearly income in cash therefrom.

The system of this Company commends itself to every thinking man, and every man who has a brain to investigate and is not devoid of an affectionate heart which yearns to provide for those dependent upon him, will avail himself of this Christian mode of doing it. We refer such of our readers who may be interested to the advertisement of Mr. Bartlett, who is the agent of this excellent institution, who will give them any information they may seek regarding the subject of Life Insurance.

AN 800-POUND SHELL.—Pilot Boat Sea Ranger, of Newburyport, arrived at Hale & Rollins' wharf, in this city, on Thursday, having on board an immense sea turtle, captured near Wood Island, off Saco.

It is called by the Museum of Animal Nature, the Leathery Turtle. This work further says—"This gigantic Tortoise occasionally weigh from sixteen to seventeen hundred pounds; and stray individuals have been captured, both on our shore and those of the adjacent continent, weighing seven or eight hundred pounds (about the weight of the one on board the Sea Ranger.) This species is found in the Atlantic, the Pacific and the Indian oceans. It regularly visits the Tortugas or Turtle Islands of Florida, for the purpose of depositing its eggs. Arriving there, according to Audubon, later than the other species, and being less cautious in concealing them, the number of eggs which it deposits is about 350, in two sets.

Though very fat, the flesh is coarse and hard, and has been known to produce the most severe effects on persons who have partaken of it. We cannot, however, affirm that it is poisonous."

☞ Capt. Godfrey, Provost Marshal of this District, announces that the draft will be resumed on Tuesday, Sept. 29th, at the office in this city—the draft for Belknap County being made on that day, and that for Carroll County on the day following.

☞ The train on the Eastern Railroad which passes through this city at 2.30, for the Lake, is to be discontinued after this day.

☞ "Liberty" is the name of a new locomotive, built at the Concord shop for the C. & P. Railroad, and to be used to draw the trains from the wharf to the depot in this city, and for similar purposes. The "local reporter" of the Ballot states that Captains of vessels are now giving Portsmouth the preference over Boston for coal freights, as quicker despatch is had here in unloading vessels, which are not obliged to haul through draw bridges, &c., to reach their place of unlading.

☞ The Commissioner of Pensions has appointed Dr. Abner B. Bennett, of this city, Examining Surgeon. Also, Dr. William Perry, (not Berry, as reported by telegraph) of Exeter.

☞ Ex-Gov. Berry was in town on Friday, and visited Forts Constitution and Sullivan. He will leave this morning in the early Concord train.

☞ Rev. A. J. Patterson, of this city, delivered a sermon before the U. S. Convention of Universalists in Portland on Thursday evening. This convention was organized in this State in 1785, and has held yearly meetings uninterruptedly since. It is estimated that over one thousand strangers attended the convention in Portland, which closed on Thursday evening.

☞ The famous sea turtle spoken of elsewhere, will be on exhibition at Spring Market to-day,—Saturday. It is well worth double the five cents charged, to see him.

☞ Wanted, a few copies of Daily Chronicle of Tuesday, Sept. 15.

THE LEATHERY TURTLE.—The Pilot Boat Sea Ranger arrived at one of our wharves on Thursday afternoon, having on board a monster Turtle weighing twelve hundred and eight pounds. It was caught on Wednesday about ten miles from Wood Island, off Saco, after a conflict of several hours. He would go down for about ten minutes at a time, and then coming up spout like a whale, and remain on the surface for fifteen or twenty minutes, swimming about as fast as a boat is rowed. He was severely wounded in a vital part before being taken on board, but lived until Thursday morning. His back is black, the shell divided into five parts by ridges—the belly spotted with white. With his head a foot long, he measured seven feet from his nose to his tail, and girted ten feet. He was two feet thick, and about five feet from side to side, being of a regular oval form—when his fore flippers was extended they measured 8½ feet from tip to tip. Many old salts examined him, but not one ever saw the like for size, in any part of the world. The Sea Ranger left for Newburyport on Friday morning, with the Turtle, but returned again in the forenoon on account of the wind.

"It is covered with a leathery skin, instead of plates, tuberculous in the young, smooth in adults, with seven longitudinal-ridged dorsal lines, slightly serrated. The plaston has five tuberculous ridges. The paddles have no distinct nails. In the leathery tortoise the muzzle is pointed, the jaws are of enormous power, and the upper has an acute toothlike prominence at the anterior part on each side, with a deep indentation behind, and a triangular excavation anteriorly between the two teeth, for the reception of the sharp furned-up apex of the lower jaw. The opening of the eyelids is almost vertical, and when closed the edge of the posterior (or lower) covers that of the anterior. The anterior paddles are immensely developed. This gigantic tortoise occasionally weighs from sixteen to seventeen hundred pounds; and stray individuals have been captured both on our shores and those of the adjacent continent, weighing seven or eight hundred.

Though very fat, the flesh is coarse and hard, and has been known to produce most severe effects in persons who have partaken of it; we cannot however affirm that it is poisonous."

VISIT TO FORT MCCLARY.

Kittery Point has some of the structures of more than a century ago still standing. Among them the mansion now owned and occupied by A. J. Penhallow, Esq. is the best specimen. It was built about 120 years ago for Nathaniel Spathawk, who married the only daughter of Sir William Pepperell. It was intended to be a residence fit for the only daughter of a rich Knight, and its capacious hall, large rooms with deep cornices, its velvet paper, (the original is yet on in good order,) show to the visitor, as he imagines the appearance of the original proprietor in the dining room, with his gun and dog and a brace of partridges, some idea of the style of life in colonial times. We should like to linger here, but must spend a half hour in witnessing the progress at Fort McClary.

Having given an account some months back of the new fortifications at Fort Constitution, we now offer a brief view of operations at Fort McClary over the river, as the result of our visit. We were surprised at the extent of the works, and the ample machinery and facilities of every sort, for carrying them on; much of this is by the mechanics of this city, and does them great credit. The new work is both longer and higher than would be supposed, from a hasty glance on this side. The cargoes of "dimension stone" in large blocks are hoisted from the vessels upon the very end of the wharf, upon cars, and thence moved upon small rail-ways and deposited in convenient places, where it is rapidly dressed. The rock bed foundations being all now in readiness, the stone is at once laid in the wall. The new shed for the stone cutters will give ample accommodations, and prevent any delay in bad weather or winter. The foundations for this work, (which is called the Water Battery from its situation near the river bank,) are upon the rock, and have required in many places, careful excavations. The distinguished and zealous Chief Engineer of the Army, Gen. Totten, in his official tour of inspection recently in this quarter, expressed himself much pleased with the scene of activity now witnessed here.

To form some idea of the extent of the work now in progress, we will state that the length of the old breastworks is much less than the new Water Battery built outside of it. The whole face is made of Biddeford dimension stone, each block weighing from six to ten tons. The rocks are all so five-sided together that there is no possibility of the removal of a single stone.

When the plans are fully completed, there will be a battery on the elevation on the opposite side of the present road. This occupancy will throw the road about 1600 feet north of the present location. The Water Battery is all that will be at present needed, and this is progressing with rapid speed—as many hands are being employed. This large Battery of heavy guns will face Fort Constitution. As fast as room for a single gun is prepared it is at once mounted without waiting for others.

These works for several months, have been in charge of Col. J. N. Macomb, U. S. Engineer, an officer who it is known has filled various responsible positions, though we are not fully apprised of his military history. But we remember to have heard commended by competent judges, his management of the Survey of the Northern lakes—a work of magnitude, and involving both science and skill. This he successfully commenced, and carried on, until relieved in the routine of duty, by Major General Meade, now commanding the Army of the Potomac. During the present war, Col. Macomb, has served in the same army, as Chief Topographical Engineer, under Generals McClellan and Pope. The close supervision he evidently gives to every branch of the work now under his care, must ensure its early and satisfactory completion.

During the progress of the new forts on both sides of the river, it is important and satisfactory to bear in mind that the fire of the Old Works is not impeded. In fact, as guns of very heavy calibre, with their ammunition, are constantly arriving, and being put in position, the harbor defences in that and other ways not necessary to mention, (especially now that the forts are suitably garrisoned by artillerists) already have a much increased efficiency.

VULCANIZED RUBBER.

PORTSMOUTH, Sept. 16th, 1863.

Messrs. Brewster:—Allow me a short communication through your columns, "pro bono publico."

VULCANIZED RUBBER, which is used almost universally now as a base for whole sets of artificial teeth, has been recently tested by one of New York's best chemists (Dr. Chilton) for the purpose of determining whether it contained metallic mercury or arsenic; and he gave his affidavit, "that it contained NEITHER Metallic Mercury nor Arsenic."

I communicate this as there was an item in the papers a few weeks previous, which was calculated to mislead the public in regard to the utility of this great discovery. I would also caution the public not to employ any Dentist, who has not purchased a license of Dr. B. W. Franklin, N. Y. (President of the Patent Vulcanite Dental Agency) as they would subject themselves to prosecution alike with the Dentist who should practice without a license.

My experience with the vulcanite base for artificial teeth has been highly satisfactory, and I do not hesitate to warrant perfect satisfaction in all cases. I would also add that I am one of the "Hard Rubber Co's." licensees.

Very respectfully yours, DR. E. B. GOODALL.

☞ What parent, who mourns the loss of a lovely babe, responds not to those beautiful thoughts of Mrs. Southey?

My first-born blessing!
It almost broke my heart
When thou wert forced to go,
And yet for thee I know
Twere better to depart.

God took thee in his mercy—
A lamb untasked, untried—
He fought the fold for thee,
He won the victory,
And thou art sanctified.

I look around and see
The evil ways of man,
Aha, oh! beloved child,
I'm more than reconciled
To thy departure then.

The little arms that clasped me,
The innocent lip that pressed,
Would they have been to me as pure
Till now, as here of yore
I lulled thee on my breast?

How like a dew drop shrined
Within a crystal stone
Thou've safe in heaven, my dove!
Safe with the choirs of love,
The Everlasting One.

And when the hour arrives,
From flesh that sets me free,
My spirit may speak,
Thy first at Heaven's gate
To meet and welcome me.

Ayer's SARSAPARILLA,

THE WORLD'S GREAT REMEDY FOR Scrofula and Scrofulous Diseases.

From Emery Edes, a well-known merchant of Orford, Maine.

"I have sold large quantities of your SARSAPARILLA, but never put one bottle which failed of the desired effect and full satisfaction to those who took it. As I sell no other Sarsaparilla, I think it must have been no medicine like it before in our community."

Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Pustules, Ulcers, Scrofula, and all Diseases of the Skin.

From Rev. Robt. Swallow, Bristol, England.

"I only do my duty when I tell you what I can, from my testimony to that you publish of the medicinal virtues of your SARSAPARILLA. My daughter, aged ten, had an affecting tumor in her ear, opposite, and had for years, which we were assured, sure until we tried your SARSAPARILLA. She has been well for some months."

From Mrs. Anna E. Ring, a well-known and much esteemed lady of Dennisville, Cape May Co., N. J.

"My daughter has suffered for a year past with a scrofulous eruption, which we thought would disfigure her face. Nothing afforded any relief until we tried your SARSAPARILLA, which soon completely cured her."

From Charles P. Gage, Esq., of the widely-known firm of Gage, Marvin & Co., manufacturers of sash, doors, and blinds, Nashua, N. H.

"I had for several years a very troublesome lameness in my ankle, which would sometimes swell until it disfigured my instep and became an intolerable affliction. I tried almost every thing a man could of both physicians and quacks, without any relief whatever, until I took your SARSAPARILLA. It immediately made my lame worse, as you told me it might for a time, but in a few weeks the new skin formed, healed the old sore, and I continued until my foot is as smooth as any body's, and I am without any symptoms of the disease that I know of. I cheerfully recommend your SARSAPARILLA to doubt one it to your SARSAPARILLA."

Erysipelas—General Debility—Purity the Blood.

From Dr. Reid, Sweetin, Houston St., New York.

"Dr. AYER, I cheerfully bear testimony to the efficacy of your SARSAPARILLA, and I have just now a curious attack of Malignant Erysipelas, which I shall attempt to overcome by the use of your SARSAPARILLA. You have supplied to the profession as well as to the people."

From J. E. J. Jordan, Esq., Richmond, Ohio.

"For twenty years I suffered with a tumor on my right arm, during which time I tried all the celebrated physicians I could reach, and took hundreds of dollars worth of medicine, but to no avail. They were so bad that the cords became visible, and the doctors decided that my arm must be amputated. I began taking your SARSAPARILLA. Took two bottles, and some of your PILLS. Together they have cured me. I am now as well and sound as any body. Being in a public place, my case is known to every body in this community, and excites the wonder of all."

From Rev. Henry Moore, M. D., of Newcastle, C. W., a leading member of the Canadian Parliament.

"I have used your SARSAPARILLA in my family, for general debility, and for purifying the blood, with very beneficial results, and feel confidence in commending it to the afflicted."

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Sore Eyes.

From Harvey Seidler, Esq., the able editor of the Tuskaloosa Democrat, Tuskaloosa, Alabama.

"Our only child, about three years of age, was attacked by pimples on his forehead. They rapidly spread until they formed a loathsome and painful sore, which covered his face, and actually blinded his eyes for some days. A skilful physician applied minute doses of silver and other medicine, without any apparent effect. For fifteen days we guarded his hands, lest with them he should tear open the festering and corrupt wound, and defiled his whole face. Having tried every thing else we had any hope from, we began giving your SARSAPARILLA, and applying the lotion of the PILLS, as you direct. The sores began to heal when we had given the first bottle, and was well when we had finished the second. The child's complexion, which had been cold, grey, and dull, now is healthy and fair as any other. The whole neighborhood predicted that the child must die."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease

From Dr. Brown Sheffield, Tuscola, Missouri.

"I find your SARSAPARILLA a more effectual remedy for the secondary symptoms of Syphilis and for syphilitic diseases than any other. All the Urinary Organs, arising from habits of dissipation, used in connection with Extracts Buchu and Sarsaparilla, are highly recommended.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and and iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. When the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, pleasant and healthy, and at no time the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from the smallest quantity of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass from it, to the cone, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace is furnished with the usual number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world, and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber,

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.

1st It is stronger and lighter than any known material.

2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.

3d. When the arch is irregular we can by building out the depressions—which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.

4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.

5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a saucer, as when finished the work presents one whole piece.

6th. While in all ways it is better, we save in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined:
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every law fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

☞ The Manchester Union states that "the Boston Commonwealth, a sheet which has been published a year or two under the auspices of Charles Sumner, is dead." Nevertheless, the Commonwealth comes regularly, and for a dead paper is remarkably well printed, and ably edited. Some of the best writers in New-England are among its contributors, and the principles which it advocates are rapidly gaining ground. Its literature is of a high order.

☞ A wreath of flowers which was laid upon a coffin buried in a Gloucester, Mass., cemetery, eight years ago, was recently disinterred and found in a remarkable state of preservation; the stems of the flowers were found to be green, and had sprouted to a considerable size. They have been carefully planted, and are now in a thriving condition, with the prospect of making healthy plants.

A MORMON 'MIRACLE.'—A London paper states that at Cardiff a husband urged his wife, who was not a Mormon, to go to a meeting, and promised her that she should see there "the angels of the Lord." She went, and during the service the lights were turned out, and she saw figures in white moving about. She seized one of them, and put it in her pocket. When she got home she found that it consisted of a few frogs in a white paper bag.

VERY IMPORTANT TO DISABLED SOLDIERS.—We are authorized to say that Palmer & Co., 19 Green st., are now furnishing all needy soldiers, who can show their discharge papers, with artificial legs of the best quality, free of charge. This arrangement is now perfected and we make the statement in order that no misapprehension may exist in so important a matter.—Boston Journal.

☞ Persons who have recently visited the fleet doing duty off the coasts of Virginia and North Carolina represent the unanimity of sentiment among officers and men in favor of a war with England as remarkable. The most intense feeling prevails upon this topic and the presence of an English frigate in Hampton Roads becomes daily more distasteful.

☞ Acting Commander Meriam on the 17th of last month destroyed a Confederate signal station on St. John's River, Florida securing arms and ammunition. The capture severs the Confederate lines within 3 miles of Jacksonville, and may prove disadvantageous to the Confederates.

☞ A sail-boat-race came off at Bristol on Wednesday, in which the first prize was taken by the Kelper of Bristol, in a boat which was modeled, built and sailed by a blind man, Mr. John Harrisboff.

☞ The young ladies of Huntingdon, Pa., are keeping a list of the single drafted men, and noting down the reports of the examining board with a view to select sound husbands.

☞ A lady while walking in Portland on Thursday, was run against by a large Newfoundland dog, with sufficient force to throw her violently upon the sidewalk, fracturing her arm.

☞ The American Bible Society has recently sent twenty-five thousand Bibles gratis to the Southern Sabbath Schools.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

Direct news from Gen. Rosecrans' army to the 17th shows that the rebel report of his defeat was false. No attack had then been made.

The reports of disaster to Gen. Rosecrans probably arose from the fact, already published, that on Sunday, 13th, Gen. Negley was driven back 3 miles: he recovered the ground next morning, with small loss, that of the rebels being much greater. The rebels have now been largely reinforced by Johnston, Hindman and Buckner, and Longstreet's advance has reached Lafayette. Deserters say they have 85 brigades of infantry,—not less than 65,000 men.—Gen. Rosecrans is concentrating his troops, and has assumed a strong defensive position covering Chattanooga. Both armies are preparing for the conflict, which, apparently, will take place within a very few days.

A heavy storm has checked the forward movement of Gen. Meade's army.

A Newbern, N. C., dispatch says:—

Vessels are running the blockade into Wilmington to a fearful extent. It is estimated that they are carrying in rebel supplies to the amount of a million dollars per day.—Peace meetings are being held in nearly every country in North Carolina. The course of Hon. W. W. Holden, of the Raleigh Standard, meets with general approval and support from the people. His name is being hoisted for the next Governor of the State. The congressional election will take place in November next, having been changed from August. The conservative peace party are making their nominations with a view of sending their representatives to the federal Congress in case the army of Gen. Lee should be driven out of Virginia.

Virginia troops have been sent to North Carolina, it is said, to keep down the rising rebellion against Jeff. Davis.

Gen. Gilmore on the 16th was still mounting heavy guns at Cumming's Point to shell Charleston.

The N. Y. World's New Orleans correspondence of the 11th gives the following:

Last week from 10,000 to 15,000 men, under Gen. Washburne, were conveyed by the Opelousas road from Algiers to Brashear city and to Bayou Boeuf. Almost simultaneously Herron's men moved up the Mississippi toward Red-River. Gen. Franklin's division in the meanwhile embarked on transports and moved down the river toward the Gulf, accompanied by gunboats.—It was, therefore, a combined movement by three distinct columns and by three routes. The three routes were: Franklin's corps going by transports by way of the Gulf would advance to Sabine Pass; Herron's men going by way of Red River to Simmsport would march from thence to Opelousas or to New Iberia; while Washburne's column crossed Berwick Bay and made the old movement via Pattersonville, and Franklin along the Teche. Franklin's division found Sabine Pass well fortified, the armament consisting of the heaviest siege guns. When they got in they were exposed to a raking fire on both sides. One gunboat, the Clifton, ran aground while under a heavy fire, and the Captain, in view of his hopeless condition, fired through her machinery, completely disabling her. Hatlen spiked his guns. She was captured. One or two sailors, who escaped and swam to the transports, state that there was not a man in the after part of the Clifton who was not killed or wounded: those remaining were, of course, taken prisoners. In the meantime two rebel gunboats came down and captured another gunboat—the Sachem, with her officers and men. The Clifton is believed to be a wreck and useless to the rebels. This disaster, the low stage of water, and the unexpected formidable resistance, induced Gen. Franklin to abandon that part of the expedition. The other expeditions had not been heard from. It is believed that the movement will now begin de novo, Gen. Franklin's corps going to Brashear and the army then moving across the bay, to follow the old track along the Teche.

The statement that Gen. Grant is in command of the expedition which left New Orleans the 9th, must be incorrect. Although he is much better, the wound he sustained in falling from his horse is not yet entirely healed.

A refugee from Charleston reports that the line of torpedoes does not run entirely across the channel, and the main obstruction is an immense network of ropes formed somewhat like a ladder, which extends across the channel. When a vessel designs leaving Charleston, word is sent to Fort Sumter and the ropework is drawn to one side to permit the egress of blockade runners. When a vessel comes in she lays to under Sumter, until the same process is reenacted. The obstruction is supported by tar barrels.

If the above story be true, it accounts for the prolonged defence of Fort Sumter which the rebels are making; for losing that, they lose control over their main line of torpedoes.

☞ The man who collects the names of soldiers for the town records of Adams, Mass., was recently the questioner in the following conversation, viz: "Lady of the house" replying: "Have you any friends in the war, madam?" "No." "Any relations?" "No." "Do you know anybody from this neighborhood who is in the army?" "No." As he was leaving, a bright thought struck he, and she rushed to the door, exclaiming, "Oh, my husband has gone to the war!"

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A "former member of Co. G, 2d N. A. V.," publishes a letter in the Peterboro' Transcript, in which he either libels Maj. Farr very grossly, or else uses him up, as he charges him with unmilitary acts easily proved or disproved.

—— A large fire in Hopkinton, on Wednesday night, consumed the dwelling house, jewelry shop, barn and shed of George H. Moore, and the dwelling house of J. S. Knowlton, with the barn and outbuildings. The loss is heavy to both parties, who are only partially insured. There seems to be no doubt that the fire was set.

—— Concord is getting in a bad way.—A male child, 6 or 8 weeks old, was found in a door step in that city, on Tuesday morning last. It had scars on the knuckles of the two middle fingers of the right hand, and a scar on the left cheek, and is poor in flesh and poorly clad. The scars have the appearance of burns.

—— John B. Sanborn, Esq., formerly of Concord, recently Colonel of a Minnesota regiment, has been made a Brigadier General of Volunteers. He is a native of Epsom.

—— The Dover Gazette, published last Friday, does not contain any notice of the Maine election, not even of the fact that such election has occurred. It doesn't suit their complaint.

—— There have been three incendiary fires in Hopkinton this summer, and Edward Nelson, a boy about 14 years of age, has been arrested on suspicion. He was brought up in the family of one of the sufferers.

—— A man about fifty years of age was found dead in the woods near Manchester on Thursday. He was seen drunk the day before, and when found there were two bottles in his pocket, one empty and the other full of rum.

——. The Concord Statesman thus refers to the recent death of two sons of Rev. Reuben Kimball, of North Conway, notice of which we published on Saturday morning:—

Two weeks ago, under our obituary head, was the record of the death, by that fearful malady, typhoid fever, of the son of a village pastor, at the age of 20; and in the same record, this week, is the name and age of another son, carried off at 15 years by the same disease. The last died on Sunday, 13th inst. It is only a short time since a son of the senior proprietor of the Statesman, spending a portion of his summer vacation in the beautiful town where the above youth departed this life, enjoyed their safe companionship, while rambling among the romantic objects there; and news of their sudden decease comes to our household almost in the form of a personal bereavement. In their deep affliction it must be the source of permanent satisfaction to the parents and surviving children, that sons and brothers so well fitted for lives of usefulness, were so well prepared to die.

—— The N. Y. Observer thus refers to Rev. Dr. Asa D. Smith, who has been elected President of Dartmouth College:—

Dr. Smith possesses remarkable qualifications to fit him for this distinguished and responsible position, and the college and the State of New Hampshire are fortunate in securing the services of such a man to take the helm of that venerable institution. With excellent natural gifts and abilities Dr. Smith unites a highly cultured and well-balanced mind, good scholarship, sound orthodox theology and evangelical piety, the advantages of foreign travel and extensive intercourse with society, fine manners, bearing and address, that will make him popular with young men, while his firmness, decision and practical talent will give him commanding influence in the college and the community.

—— Persons who have passed over Lake Winnipiseogee during the present season in the steamer Dover, have observed a sedate-looking man, about thirty-five years of age, sitting in the saloon or upon the deck, singing patriotic, pathetic or humorous songs. He is sometimes accompanied by a little girl aged eight years. This man is H. P. Dudley, of Laconia, and the Wolfboro' News gives his history as follows:—

He was by trade a mason. At the age of 25 years, a serious attack of typhoid fever brought on partial, and finally, total blindness. He spent "all his living" in vain endeavors to obtain a restoration of sight. At the time of his misfortune, he was betrothed to a young lady. He told her that he would release her, but she, like a true woman, chose to share his lot in life, and they were wedded. She proves, as might be expected, and as the vocalist attests, a good wife. Some two or three years ago, being at Wolfboro', he was invited to the Pavilion Hotel, and there a little purse was made up for him. Afterwards he visited the Centre Harbor House by invitation, and met with like success. Since that time, he has held a few concerts in localities where he has had personal friends.—Last season he was invited by Capt. Wiggin, of the steamer Dover, to make that boat his home during the travelling season. He travels free of expense, save the mere cost of his food, and receives little sums of money from the contributions of passengers. Other friends have aided him, so that he has been able to procure a little cottage for his home. He manifests great gratitude to those who have aided him, and especially to Capt. Wiggin, who has been instrumental in greatly bettering his condition in life. Besides the little daughter that accompanies him, he has a son two years old.

☞ The rebels are said to have only two steam iron-clads at Charleston, but they rely very much upon them.

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

Collected and Collated — By Uncle Tony.

Vaughan and Penhallow Controversy in 1717. — Lt. Gov. Wentworth. — Indian Troubles in 1718.—Theodore Atkinson.

Lieutenant Governor Vaughan claimed the right to exercise the power of Commander-in-Chief, whenever the Governor was not actually in the province. He asserted that whenever the Governor was in Massachusetts, he was absent from New Hampshire, and that his authority here ceased, or at least was suspended until his return. However true this might be in fact, Shute contended that as he was commissioned for both provinces, he was within his jurisdiction when he resided in either, and his command extended over both.—Shute sent Vaughan an order to prorogue the General Court, instead of which he dissolved them. Penhallow, one of the Council, adhered to the Governor and opposed Vaughan's pretensions. This irritated Vaughan very highly, and the next time they met at the Council board, which was on the 24th of September, 1717, he concluded a very intemperate speech in the following manner: "What I have to say to you, Mr. Penhallow, is in grow, and is, that your business for a long time has been to sow discord in the commonwealth, and you endeavor to propagate confusion and difference in each town within the government; when avowed principles oblige you to solder as much as in you lies, the affections of magistrates and people, thereby to divert all things which naturally produce dissensions, tumults, and feuds; the particulars I have, and shall transmit to my Lord the King, in whose name, and by virtue of whose power, I suspend you, Samuel Penhallow, from sitting, voting, and assisting at the Council board, till his Majesty's pleasure shall be known." As soon as Governor Shute heard of these proceedings, he came to Portsmouth with all possible dispatch, convened the Council, reinstated Penhallow, and suspended Vaughan. When these proceedings were transmitted to England and laid before the King, he saw fit to remove Vaughan from office, and appointed John Wentworth Lieutenant Governor in his stead. His commission was signed by the celebrated Joseph Addison, who was at this time Secretary of State, and was published here on the 7th of December, 1717.

In 1718, the Indians began to be troublesome. When they had an inclination for war, pretexts were seldom wanting. The French were always ready to excite jealousies and discontent among them. The Governor of Canada kept up a continual correspondence with Ralle, and through his influence encouraged them to acts of depredation. He secretly engaged to supply them with arms and ammunition; and increased their prejudices against the English by exaggerating the causes of their discontent. The Indians complained that the treaties made with them had been violated, that trading houses had not been established among them, nor smiths provided to keep their guns in order as had been stipulated. That encroachments had been made on their hunting grounds, which drove off their game, and that the building mills and dams on their rivers and streams had destroyed their fisheries. Under pretence of seeking redress, they insulted the settlers, killed their cattle, and burnt their corn.

Dr. Belknap, our impartial historian, shows that the Indians had cause for discontent, and that many of their complaints were well founded.

The Honorable Theodore Atkinson was born in Boston; his ancestors lived at Bury in the county of Lancaster in England; his grandfather migrated to this country about the year 1684, and settled in Boston, where he possessed a large real estate; he owned seven acres of land near Fort Hill, which was called the pasture. He likewise owned land on Atkinson street, which was called after his name, and on Berry street, which was so called from Bury, the place of his nativity, having undergone a slight change in its orthography. The grandson removed to this town in 1694, and settled at Great Island, which was at that time a place of considerable importance, and the most populous part of the town. He there engaged very largely in trade and fishery. In 1701 he was appointed Clerk of the Superior Court of Judicature for the province, which office he held several years; he was intrusted with various other important offices, which he executed with great fidelity, and was much beloved by the people. He died on the 6th of May, 1719, and his death was considered a public loss.

Considerable quantities of iron ore had been discovered in several places, and a number of opulent merchants in this town proposed to erect works on Lamprey river, for manufacturing iron. They determined to procure workmen from Europe, but they wanted to obtain a tract of land in the neighborhood, which would furnish a sufficiency of fuel, and on which they might settle their laborers. The General Court of Massachusetts, whilst this province was subject to their government, had engaged to "grant the town of Portsmouth a quantity of land for a village, when they should declare to the Court the place where they desired it," in return for their liberal contribution to Harvard College in 1672. The town neglected to apply for their grant till the 25th of March, 1719, when they chose a committee "to address the General Assembly at their next session to obtain order for laying out the six mile-square of land at the head of Oyster river, formerly granted by Massachusetts to the town of Portsmouth." The petition was referred to the Governor and Council, who granted to the inhabitants of Portsmouth a slip of land at the head of Dover line, two miles in breadth, for the use of the iron works. This was called the two mile slip, and has since been included in the township of Barrington.

☞ It is suggested that if Toombs, of Georgia "prefers death on the battle-field to union with the North on any terms whatever," he might be gratified very easily.

☞ A little boy had his leg broken in Bath, Me., on Wednesday, while hanging on to a cart, his leg catching in one of the spokes.

CALENDAR CLOCKS.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment, and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. These will be sent to any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS.—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, BILIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and Bowels, and as a Family Pill.

MUSTER.—It is stated that the commander-in-chief, Governor Gilmore, has issued an order to the several companies of volunteer militia in the State, to be in readiness for a general muster, to come off in this city early in October.

Capt. Parrott, inventor of the celebrated cannon known as the Parrott gun, is said to be a native of this State.—Concord Statesman.

Capt. Robert P. Parrott, the inventor of the gun, is a citizen of Greenland, N. H., and a native of Portsmouth, being a son of the late Hon. John F. Parrott, M. C.

☞ The U. S. barque Fernandina sailed from our lower harbor on Saturday morning for Fortress Monroe. The following is a list of her officers:—

Edward Moses, Acting Master Commanding; C. C. Childs, Acting Master; T. H. Murray, Acting Assistant Paymaster; S. P. Boyer, Acting Assistant Surgeon; C. Flood, W. H. Thomas, Acting Ensigns; Alonzo Townsend, John Wright, George Newlin, Acting Master's Mates; Charles Shaw, Paymaster's Steward; Francis Conefrey, Surgeon's Steward.

☞ Maj. Albert H. Hoyt, Paymaster U. S. A., arrived in town on Saturday, from the Department of the Gulf.

☞ Perham advertises one of his cheap Excursions to Boston, for Wednesday next. Tickets less than half price, including also admission to the splendid "Mirror" exhibition at the Melodeon. Get your tickets in season, for of course everybody will want to go.

☞ A Waterville paper, in detailing a recent accidental shooting of a little girl in that village, remarks:

This is another painful lesson against the careless use of fire-arms, which we hope will be remembered; and we will add a fact known to experienced gunners—that a loaded gun will frequently be discharged when no cap is set, especially if snapped soon after a previous discharge. A small portion of the powder of the former cap often remains unexploded, or a spark is produced by the blow of the hammer upon the nipple. So remember, boys, that by taking off the cap you do not secure yourselves from accident. A knowledge of this fact would have saved many precious lives.

☞ Mr. David H. Blaney, wishing to remove a building from East Boston to Winthrop, and not being allowed to take it across the bridge, took it over by water. The building was 19 feet by 26, with L 12 by 13, and with its chimneys standing was moved across the marsh to tide water and loaded upon two scows. A steamer was made fast to the scows, and with the stars and stripes floating gracefully from the top of the building, it was towed in safety to Winthop.

☞ The San Francisco Journal states that one evening recently a man wearing kid gloves, carrying a dandy cane, and dressed in the height of fashion, was observed to stop suddenly in a street, pull a white handkerchief from his pocket, wipe his mouth and drop the cambric upon the pavement. He stopped to pick it up, and as he did so, also picked up a partly-smoked cigar that somebody had thrown away. He straightened himself, walked along the street until he came to a cigar store, went in and lit the stump and resumed his promenade.

☞ Hosea Rice, while driving between North Adams, Mass., and Readsboro', on Thursday night of last week, became bewildered in the darkness in Stamford, and left his team to get a lantern. Supposing the noise made by another team to be by his own, he started at a full run, his breast coming with much force against the stationary wagon, inflicted injuries of which he expired the following Sabbath.

☞ A paroled soldier recently returned home to Bath, Me., and arriving late at night, did not wish to disturb the family.—He therefore rolled himself in his blanket and slept soundly in the barn. The next morning his father saw him hanging up his blanket to air. That young man was very considerate of the feelings of his family.

☞ Mr. Short, the originator of the "Greek fire," used by Gen. Gilmore in the bombardment of Charleston, left Washington on Friday last, for the birthplace of Secession. As he took the cars he remarked to a friend, "Mind, now; in two weeks I will send you word that Charleston is in ashes."

THE FUTURE HORSES.—The Ohio Farmer says the drain upon the serviceable horses of the country has been so great that horse interest is bound to go up, and among the best investments of live stock now to be made will be the purchase of likely colts for raising to maturity; next to this, breeding of good stock for the future supply.

☞ Capt. Chas. S. Boggs, who has been in command of the U. S. steamer Sacramento, on the blockade off Wilmington, N. C., has been sick with diarrhœa, and has left the squadron for home, still quite ill.

☞ The London Court Journal relates that a young English lady of seventy summers and a good deal of money, has just given her virgin hand to her butler, a lad of thirty-eight.

GROSS SUPERSTITION.—In one of the streets of Taunton there reside a man and his wife, who have the care of a child.—This child was attacked by scarlatina, and to all appearance death was inevitable. A jury of matrons was, as it were, empanelled, and to prevent the child from "dying hard," all the doors in the house, all the drawers, all the boxes, all the cupboards were thrown wide open, the keys taken out and the body of the child placed under a beam, whereby a sure and easy passage into eternity could be secured. Watchers held their vigils throughout the weary night, and in the morning the child, to the surprise of all, did not die, and is now gradually recovering.—Bridgewater (Eng) Mercury.

The opening of all the doors must have caused a current of fresh air to pass thro the house. This might have some agency in the child's recovery; and it is highly probable that letting the child go without medicine all night, in connexion with the good air it breathed, gave nature a chance to rally.

A LION AT LARGE.—Some of the Madrid journals published the following strange account:

"The town of Pampeluna was a few days back the scene of a fearful incident. A lion belonging to a travelling menagerie escaped from its cage and rushed through the streets, attacking every one that it met. Three persons were killed by the terrible animal, and about a dozen received injuries. The number of victims would have been more considerable if the lion had not perceived a butcher's shop, into which he sprang, enticed by the meat displayed at the door.—The butcher had the presence of mind to close his shop, and the owner of the lion being informed of the detention of the animal fetched one of his cages and applied the opening of it to the shop door. The lion satiated rushed out as soon as the door was opened, and was caught in the cage as in a trap."

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambucl Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. ly.

It is supposed by some that the Prince of Wales visited this country in part to obtain a package of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus. Whether he did or not, it would do honor to the Queen's table to have so nice light Biscuit as that article always makes. If any one has any doubts on the subject, go to your Grocer and get a paper immediately, and find of a truth that there is nothing like it. Everybody sells it.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrotula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of diseases, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D., devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capottes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important!

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No. 7 & 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to it female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and their accompanying derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt more greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, suknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ A correspondent of the Lewiston Journal writes that Mr. John Robertson of Weld, aged 100 years last August, voted on Monday for Cony, it being the first time he has voted since 1832 when he voted for Jackson. The old man was imprisoned in France for his political belief, and afterwards escaped to this country.

☞ Colonel Ezra Allen, of Holland, (Mass.) celebrated his ninetieth birthday and golden wedding on Monday, it being the fiftieth anniversary of his second marriage. There were twenty children and grandchildren, and thirty great grandchildren present.

☞ Among the modern inventions is a "ship's berthboat," intended to prevent seasickness when used as a berth, by accommodating itself to the motion of the vessel, after the manner of the mariner's compass; and in case of shipwreck it may be used effectively as a lifeboat.

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.
The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.
There is a new style and very superior broiler and cad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.
The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.
For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.
We would refer to the following purchasers:
Portsmouth.
with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.
"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.
The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.
For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.
The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the great est amount of heat from the smallest fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.
To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while others have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other furnaces, is obviated in the
MAGEE FURNACE.
The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 50 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.
No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.
This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.
These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.
For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire can be kept the entire season without once going out.
They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:
Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq., Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum, Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

VOL. 23. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. TUESDAY SEPT. 22, 1863. NO. 71.

The Chronicle.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

☞ The United States Convention of Universalists, at their late session in Portland, passed the following patriotic resolutions:—Whereas, The General Convention of Universalists in the United States of America, has ever been distinguished for its loyalty to Government, and its devotion to the principles of freedom and humanity, therefore Resolved, 1. That in this time of National peril, when the wicked hands of bloodthirsty rebellion have been raised to strike a death blow at the Constitution and Laws of the land, and overthrow the liberties of every citizen, we recognize the merciful hand of Providence in the constant and zealous loyalty of the great majority of our people, as well as the victories which have recently crowned our arms; and while we still appeal to our rulers and the people not to abate their vigor in prosecuting the war until the rebellion is effectually subdued, we yet feel that our trust must be in God, who alone can give us permanent triumph.

Resolved, 2. That we renew our expression of Christian fidelity and loyalty to the Government, and reaffirm our confidence in our Chief Magistrate, whose honesty of purpose stands unimpeached; and that we recognize in his Proclamation of Jan. 1st, 1863, the carrying out of the injunction of Scripture to "break every yoke and let the oppressed go free."

Resolved, 3 That we recognize the wisdom which prompted our fathers in the struggle for National Independence to arm the negro in securing our freedom, and are sanguine in the belief that a similar policy adopted at this time, which shall call the blacks to share with the whites the perils and sacrifices of the present struggle, and secure to them the blessings of a common freedom, will be equally effectual in establishing order among us and striking at the root of the rebellion, "so that when peace comes it will come so as to stay, and be a peace worth having."

Resolved, That the President of this Council be instructed to forward to the President of the United States a copy of these resolutions.

The first passed unanimously without debate. The second called out quite a spirited discussion, and passed—30 yeas, 3 nays. The third and fourth were passed with little opposition.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

There was a desperate battle at Crawford Springs, Ga., on Saturday, between Rosecrans' and Bragg's armies, commencing at 11 o'clock and lasting until 6 P. M.—The rebels made the first attack on our left and right wings. The fighting on the left was of a very desperate character.—The enemy were repulsed, but on being reinforced regained their position, from which they were subsequently driven after a severe engagement of an hour and a half.—Gen. Thomas' forces then charged the rebels for nearly a mile and a half, punishing them badly. About 2 o'clock in the afternoon the rebels made a fierce dash on our centre, and succeeded in driving our troops back, but after a hard fight they recovered the ground which had been lost. The country where the battle was fought is level, but thickly overgrown with small timber and brushwood, and is very unfavorable for the use of artillery, very little of which was used. The casualties in wounded are heavy, but exceedingly light in killed, for so heavy a musketry engagement. The fight on the left was one continuous roll of musketry for an hour or more. The rebels endeavored to get between our army and Chattanooga, and were prevented only by hard fighting. The battle was not decisive, and a dispatch from Louisville, midnight Sunday, shows that the fight was renewed on that morning, and that our army was badly beaten and compelled to retreat to Chattanooga, Bragg receiving heavy reinforcements from Lee, Beauregard and Joe Johnston.

On Saturday evening both armies occupied the same ground as when the action began. Our loss was very heavy, and the rebel prisoners state that some of their regiments were almost annihilated. We took several hundred prisoners—many of whom are from the east. We took 10 guns and lost 7. The Washington Chronicle of Monday insists that Gen. Rosecrans has not been beaten. It is rumored that he is fortifying Chattanooga and he may have fallen back before a superior force to form a junction with Gen. Burnside's army.

A Chattanooga correspondent of the N. Y. Herald, writing Sept. 10th, says Gen. Burnside was at that time moving rapidly down the valley to form a junction with Gen. Rosecrans.

An expedition from Natchez to Alexandria captured several cannon and destroyed a fortification at Alexandria. A large number of mules and cattle, and a large quantity of stores, were also captured.

300 Ohio troops were overpowered, after two hours' hard fighting, near Tilford, Tenn., by 1800 rebels, on Wednesday.—After losing heavily in killed and wounded they surrendered.

The rebels are repairing Fort Sumter.—Beauregard's object, a deserter states, is now to recover possession of Morris Island. Gen. Gilmore has issued a congratulatory order to his troops on the successes already achieved.

All the Richmond papers of the 16th and 17th, received, mention that Lee's army has been in line of battle for some days, between the Rapidan and Orange Court House, but seem to intimate that it will remain on the defensive.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Herald furnishes a statement, which that paper heads "startling if true," to the effect that Stephens' mission to Washington was to consult with our authorities as to whether satisfactory terms of compromise might be arranged so that the rebel confederacy might be spared the disgrace of inviting foreign aid. This foreign aid is said to be an arrangement with France, by which she is to co-operate with the rebels by her fleets and army in exchange for the possession of Texas, and Mr. Stephens is now in Paris, it is alleged, effecting this arrangement.

☞ The Morris Island correspondent of the N. Y. Herald, who reported the arrival of the U. S. brig Bainbridge there, now writes that the John Adams was mistaken for the Bainbridge, of which there is no intelligence. She probably foundered, as reported.

☞ The French pamphlet referred to by the last steamer is said to have been issued at the expense of Eslanger, the rebel loan contractor, to bolster up that speculation.

☞ The somewhat unfavorable news carried gold up to 1401-2 in New York on Monday. The money market is peculiarly sensitive.

☞ Another powder mill belonging to Mr. Marble, at Buckfield, Me., was blown up a few days since—the eighth within a year.

☞ Reports from England confidently assert that the Government will detain the rebel rams to await the result of an investigation.

PIERCE'S LETTER.—Capt. William H. Gibbs, 15th Illinois Regiment, sends to the Concord Independent Democrat the following copy of a letter written to Jeff. Davis by Ex-President Pierce, which was found among several others from the same source, when Davis' library and collection of private papers were captured near Jackson, Miss. Capt. Gibbs states that the original is in his possession. The reader can judge how far Davis was influenced by the words of Pierce, when he so confidently assured him that should war come, (a war for the preservation of the Union; as he, in fact, admits, when he declares a disruption of the Union impossible without bloodshed) the fighting would not be along Mason & Dixon's line merely, but within our own borders and in our own streets. He could loudly condemn the "Abolitionists," but he had not a word of rebuke for his dear friend Davis, "one who is raised by all the elements of his character above the atmosphere ordinarily breathed by politicians" (!)—Davis, the traitor, whose base schemes for destroying the Union he must have in part known. But here is the letter:—

CLARENDON HOTEL, Jan. 6th, 1860.

My Dear Friend:—I wrote you an unsatisfactory note a day or two since. I have just had a pleasant interview with Mr. Shepley, whose courage and fidelity are equal to his learning and talent. He says he would rather fight the battle with you as the standard bearer in 1860 than under the auspices of any other leader. The feeling and judgment of Mr. S. in this relation is, I am confident, rapidly gaining ground in New England. Our people are looking for "the Coming Man." One who is raised by all the elements of his character above the atmosphere ordinarily breathed by politicians. A man really fitted for this emergency by his ability, courage, broad statesmanship and patriotism.

Col. Seymour (Thos. H.) arrived here this morning, and expressed his views in this relation in almost the identical language used by Mr. Shepley. It is true that in the present state of things at Washington and throughout the country, no man can predict what changes two or three months may bring forth. Let me suggest that in the morning debates of Congress, full justice seems to me not to have been done to the Democracy of the North. I do not believe that our friends at the South have any just idea of the state of feeling hurrying at this moment to the pitch of intense exasperation between those who respect their political obligations, and those who have apparently no impelling power but that which fanatical passion on the subject of domestic slavery imparts.

Without discussing the question of right of abstract right to secede, I have never believed that actual disruption of the Union can occur without blood; and if, through the madness of Northern Abolitionists, that dire calamity must come, the fighting will not be along Mason & Dixon's line merely. It will be within our own borders, in our own streets, between the two classes of citizens to whom I have referred. Those who deny lawful and constitutional obligations, will, if we ever reach the arbitrament of arms find occupation enough at home.—Nothing but the state of Mrs. Pierce's health would induce me to leave the country now, although it is quite likely that my presence at home would be of little service.

I have tried to impress upon our people, especially in N. H. and Connecticut, where the coming elections are to take place during the coming Spring, that while our Union meetings are all in the right direction and well enough for the present, they will not be worth the paper upon which their resolutions are written, unless we can overthrow political abolitionism at the polls and repeal the unconstitutional and obnoxious laws which in the guise of "Personal Liberty" have been placed upon our Statute books. I shall look with deep interest and not without hope for a decided change in this relation. Ever and truly your friend,

FRANKLIN PIERCE.

HON. JEFF. DAVIS, Washington, D. C.

☞ A Washington despatch cautions the public against bills purporting to be upon the Government Bank, which unprincipled persons are attempting to put into circulation. They are dated at Washington, and purport to be payable on demand, and, being of a greenish color, they are liable to be mistaken by the unwary for the old issue of United States notes, most of which have been redeemed and cancelled by the Treasury Department. It is said they have been passed quite extensively about New York. No such bank exists. An office, with the "Government Bank" over its door, was, some time ago, closed by the Provost Marshal of the War Department.

☞ It is ascertained that of the 50 cents postage currency there are nine different counterfeits; of the 25s and 10s, two each; and of the 5s, one. Besides this, there is much mutilation of the currency, the fragments of which are pasted together.

☞ An order for the immediate transportation of large quantities of medical stores to Gen. Meade's army was received on Thursday by the Sanitary Commission at Washington.

☞ Sam Houston has died again. The Richmond Whig now says he died on the 25th of July at his residence in Huntersville, Texas, aged 70 years.

☞ That Leathery Turtle has been sold in Newburyport for $100, to Capt. George W. Jefts.

☞ Lieut. Com'r James E. Jouett is detached from the R. R. Cuyler and ordered to command the Sabago.

☞ The dresses of the ladies are always beautiful in autumn. They exhibit all kinds of brilliantly colored ribbons, as if to rival the colors which nature now bestows upon the leaves of the forest. The fashionable hue in gloves, dresses, bonnets and ribbons is now a bright tan or leather color, called cuir by the French. This word cuir is pronounced "queer," and this naturally bothers many of our rich people, (says a New York paper,) who know about as much of French as they do of Arabic.—"What color is the most fashionable?" they ask of the counter jumpers. "Why, the cuir (queer) color," is the reply. "Yes, yes! But what is the name of that queer color?" So they continue until the clerk and the customer are equally frantic.

THE CONTINENTAL MONTHLY, for October, contains an unusual variety of interesting and attractive articles,—including two on National subjects by Hon. Robt J. Walker, and one by Hon. F. P. Stanton.—It is announced that Mr. Edmund Kirke, author of "Among the Pines," and until recently one of the editors of this magazine, will lecture during the coming season, before lyceums, &c. on "the Southern Whites,—their social and political characteristics." He can be addressed, care of Continental Monthly, New York.

AN UNGRATEFUL POP.—The Richmond Enquirer, of the 7th, urges another invasion of the Free States for the purpose of "encouraging the Democrats of the North and assisting them in the fall elections." The editor of this rebel sheet is John Mitchell, an Irishman, of whom the Hartford Post says, he run to this government for protection, and found it here. He is now doing all he can for the overthrow of the good government that kept the hands of the hangman from his worthless neck.

☞ Edwin E. Noyes, the embezzling superintendent of the Maine Central Railroad, was arrested on Sunday morning at one of the fashionable hotels in New York city on charge of embezzling property of the company to the amount of $40,000. Noyes fled from Maine to Canada, and subsequently came on to New York. About $26,000 of the missing money was found on Noyes, and there is a prospect of obtaining the whole amount embezzled, which is said to have been invested in Government securities and Western Railroad stock.

☞ During the late rains an immense land slide occurred on the west side of Saddle Ball mountain, at Williamstown, Mass. Some ten or twelve acres of cleaning and woodland came crashing down into the gulf, having been dislodged by the rain, leaving the rocky sides of the mountain exposed, and filling the stream at its foot with a huge conglomeration of trees and stones.

—— The wind on Friday noon blew down a fence in Manchester, which in its fall injured a little child three years old so severely that it died.

—— A Washington dispatch to the Boston Herald states that the President declines to accede to the request of Governor Gilmore to credit on the draft the quotas of the various towns in New Hampshire in excess under the previous calls for troops.

Card to Ladies.

Do you wish to know what is fashionable? Do you wish to see all the new styles, for every description of wearing apparel? If so, buy FRANK LESLIE'S LADY'S MAGAZINE FOR OCTOBER; it contains 150 Plates of the new Parisian Styles just imported—amongst them you will find over 20 styles of Bonnets, 50 styles of Dresses, besides numerous styles of Fall Cloaks, Children's Dresses, Lady's Caps and Underclothing; also, a full-size paper pattern to cut the new Postillion Jacket by, alone worth more than is charged for the Magazine.

Every number of this Magazine contains more Fashion Plates than are published in all the other American magazines combined.

FRANK LESLIE'S is the only American Magazine which publishes the Parisian Fashions immediately after their appearance in Paris. His facilities are so extensive that he frequently publishes French fashions several months in advance of any other American publisher.

FRANK LESLIE'S LADY'S MAGAZINE also contains excellent stories, beautifully illustrated by the first American artists. The new tale, "The Seated Door," by Mrs. Dennison, is commenced in the present number.

Buy the October number and judge for yourself of its merits. It is the best and most entertaining Lady's Magazine published in the world.

WHAT THE PRESS SAYS OF IT.

"We have no hesitancy in pronouncing it the best Magazine for ladies that is published in this country. It is far superior to all others, and has the preference with the ladies everywhere."
—Muskegon Reporter.

"In point of merit this periodical certainly has no superior, if it has an equal as an illustrated magazine of fashion. No labor or expense seems to be spared on it. Its pages are replete with interesting and valuable reading matter, and the Magazine is fairly crowded with illustrations of the fashions and numerous ladies' and children's dress and toilette patterns."
—Burlington Sentinel.

"It is decidedly the Magazine for the latest fashions."
—Portland Transcript.

"The reading matter is always attractive and instructive; and, being a complete gazette of fashion, it is much sought after and studied by the fair sex generally on the Pacific coast."
—Tuolumne Courier.

"We have no hesitation in saying that it is superior in every respect to any similar publication in this country. None equals it in the splendor and number of its fashion plates, none approaches it in the matter of paper patterns of fashions."
—Pontiac Jacksonian.

"As a lady's book we consider it second to none, while it is superior to most, in fashion plates, wood engravings and general reading matter."
—Oxford Reformer.

"It is without doubt the best and most reliable fashion magazine published."
—Burlington Dollar Newspaper.

"Worthy of a place at every fireside."
—Haverhill Gazette.

"A splendid number, excelling everything in that line ever before produced."
—Plattsburg Sentinel.

"The full-sized patterns are alone worth to ladies the price of the book."—Smyrna Times.

"Frank Leslie's Magazine for September has a wealth of fashion illustrations, far surpassing that of any of its contemporaries. The literary matter, too, is of a high character."
—Roxbury Journal.

"It is quite evident that the spirited proprietor intends sparing no expense in making this publication worthy of its title."—Montreal Transcript.

"A greater variety and display than given by any other magazine in the country."
—Whiteside Sentinel.

CALENDAR CLOCKS.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment; and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notice may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

Our terms are as low as those of any other paper.

THE OLD ALABAMA.—Orders were received at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, on Monday, to finish and launch this old ship of the line, (or 74, as ships of her class were formerly termed) and a large number of workmen will be set at work immediately to execute the order. The Alabama, compared with the beautifully modeled vessels built now-a-days, is a perfect wash-tub in her proportions, but, nevertheless, will make a good vessel for the purpose for which she is designed, viz., a storeship. Her keel was laid in June, 1819, and she was completed as far as caulking in 1826. Since that time, nearly twenty years since, an examination of her condition was made, and she proved to be rotting in a number of places; accordingly, to preserve her from further decay, her lower planking was taken off, to allow a free circulation of air thro' her timbers, in which condition she was left until the present time. At the time this work was performed, Charles W. Stimson, now master carpenter, was employed as an apprentice, and at the time her keel was laid, Samuel Hart was constructor. All the masts, spars, sails, boats and other equipments, were then made for her, but have since been used for other ships: consequently her fit-out will be entirely new. *

☞ No doubt this Chronicle should have acknowledged, ere this, the obligations which the proprietor is under, to our friends of the "Ballot" and the "States and Union," for their kind interest manifested concerning our being drafted, and kindred matters But even now, we may be allowed a word of rejoinder, perhaps.

First. "L.," of the "Ballot," was disposed to be a little merry, that we should actually for a time take him to be the Bob O' Lincoln, whom "our local reporter" of that paper said he was; but then "L." should have kept in mind that these law-yers (alias ——) will deceive the very elect, (drafted); and besides, he allows that we "liquidated" that responsibility at Nate Thacher's soda fount.

L. is also in error in putting us down as one of the directors of the Hand Organ Company; for Sise, Melcher and Hackett have full charge of that concern—the latter doing the blowing.

Then the "States" stated, or mis stated—that the proprietor hereof said he should report for duty if drafted—the which he never said; and the 'local reporter' before referred to, reported (privately, to be sure) with much bathos, but no truth, how we were arrested for a deserter, for delay in response at the P. M.'s office; and (publicly in the Ballot) what terrible trials and tribulations we experienced in getting our substitute. For all which deep interest manifested in our affairs, we trust, (when we are foolish enough, and can't get cash) we are truly grateful—especially to the nice, intelligent fellow who (for a reasonable consideration of about $500) represents us in the ranks, and who, we feel sure, will do us and the Union cause no discredit.

And, finally, the "States" editor (it comes hard for us to put Union to his name) says of us:—

The Chronicle names several drafted men who came forward and reported for duty, without claiming exemption at all, and calls them "patriotic and sensible."—We suppose the Chronicle means for the public to understand that its own proprietor, who was drafted and did not report for duty, but claimed exemption, is unpatriotic and senseless. We don't see any chance for an argument there.

Well, we have for some time ceased attempting "argument" with copperheads at all—but will for this once say, that to some folks circumstances do alter cases; and that, considered merely as a matter of business, a man who cannot earn as much elsewhere, may certainly be called sensible, as we presume he will be allowed to be patriotic,—who accepts a liberal bounty for "going" himself, instead of paying some one else to go for him. For instance, we presume that the excellent substitute to whom we paid $500, never had so much money before, and will, probably, "fare" as well in the army as at home, or better; while to us and many others, it would be a great sacrifice of money and comfort. Of course, here comes in the cry of the poor man doing all the fighting, &c., &c.; but, this man had for years been in military service before, and knew to what sort of an entertainment he was invited. He also was fully aware that the copperheads are the worst enemies of the Union and its soldiers.

CLOCK ON THE TOWER OF THE NEW DEPOT.—Messrs. Editors:—It is now being discussed in the neighborhood of the railway station in this city—the propriety and utility of having a clock on the tower above the bell. The propriety and utility of it would seem beyond dispute, but how it should be paid for, is another question, not beyond argument. It would seem not only a great benefit to the company but to the neighborhood, and so it would further seem that both should bear as near as may be their proportion of the cost; and we doubt not if some energetic one should start a subscription paper, that the neighbors that are on the look out for their own convenience and interest would readily subscribe a reasonable amount for so desirable an object, if the company will as readily bear their proportion, and by unity both they and the travelling public will be benefitted.

☞ The U. S. ship Alabama, (not the old frigate now on the stocks here, nor yet the rebel pirate of that name—but the steamer late from the Southern blockade, sent here to get rid of the yellow fever on board) is now lying at quarantine in our lower harbor, flying the yellow flag. Numerous deaths occurred among her officers and crew before she came here; and as no engineers could be induced to run her round from Brooklyn Yard, she was towed by another steamer. The most absurd stories have been told about the unfortunate craft—about men dying on board, infected clothing and other articles thrown overboard, &c.; but of course this was all nonsense, as the Health Officers had charge of her, and they know their business and duties in the premises. The fact is, that from the first there were but five men on board, when she arrived here; and our citizens and neighbors have been in no more danger from her than from her older namesake in the shiphouse.

POLICE COURT, Saturday.—Julia Haley, for being drunk, was committed to the House of Correction,—not paying a fine of $3, and costs $3.86, which had been imposed.

Monday.—William Putnam, for being a common drunkard, was sent to the house of Correction for 30 days, and ordered to pay costs, $5.74.

——, for being drunk, was fined $3 and costs.

—— —— pleaded guilty to a charge of being drunk and was fined $3 and costs.

Daniel Hayes, same offence, fined $3, and costs $2.92.

John Roney, same offence, fined $3, and costs $2.09.

☞ It will be seen that Dr. Burleigh advertises a novel exhibition at the Temple, this evening.

☞ Perham advertises one of his cheap Excursions to Boston, for Wednesday next. Tickets less than half price, including also admission to the splendid "Mirror" exhibition at the Melodeon. Get your tickets in season, for of course everybody will want to go.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, impotency, Scrotula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D., devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for the business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capotes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints of long standing, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials bel ow given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is still pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be assured of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in addition to his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Daily Morning Chronicle

VOL. 23. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. WEDNESDAY SEPT. 23, 1863. NO. 72.

The Chronicle.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

The leading Copperheads in N. Y. city are in a feverish state of excitement in consequence of the defeat of their fraternity in Maine, and the spiking of their guns by the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus. They had organized an association, collected funds, and matured plans to prevent conscripts filling up the wasted ranks of our armies. Arrangements had been completed to secure the escape of non-resistant Democrats by an appeal to the courts. Offices had been hired, attorneys had been engaged, judges had been dined and wined, and conscripts had been chosen for the experiment, when, like a clap of thunder from a clear sky, came the proclamation of the President, and shook all their plans into chaos. Now, they cannot redeem the pledge they have made to withhold the drafted men from the ranks. One condition on which votes had been promised to them by the conscripts and their friends, has been forfeited. Their disloyal zeal was not sufficient to make them conspicuous traitors, and they fear the wrath to come. In vain they invoke the interference of Gov. Seymour, for he is in the hands of men whose policy like water suits itself to the inequalities of the channel through which it flows. In this dilemma they collect on the street corners and in the liquor saloons, and in undertones swear against the Government, and express the hope that foreign intervention will soon give relief to their unfortunate brethren in the Confederacy.—Tribune.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

The news from Gen. Rosecrans' army is more encouraging. The enemy attacked him on Sunday at 9 o'clock in great force, and the battle raged fiercely all day. Up to 8 o'clock Sunday night, two, and only two, of Gen. Rosecrans' divisions had given way, and from 8000 to 10,000 of these had been rallied and got back to their places, while the remainder of the army had not given way or retreated, and at that hour were driving the advance of the rebel army back.

Sunday was marked by a series of terrible battles, some of which are referred to as having no parallel in the history of that army. The loss on both sides was very heavy, and is thought to be nearly equal.—What the loss is in prisoners and material cannot now be reported. Our killed will reach 1200; our wounded will amount to 7000—most of them having slight wounds. Gen. John H. King is reported wounded and a prisoner. We have captured Gen. Adams, of Texas, and 1300 of his men.—The N. Y. Tribune says the general summing up of Gen. Rosecrans' official dispatches is, that after two days of severe fighting, in which Gen. Rosecrans, with greatly inferior forces, bore the shock of 140,000 (?) rebels, comprising the armies of Bragg and Johnston, half of Lee's army and all of Pemberton's scattered troops that could be gathered together, he deemed it prudent to fall back on Chattanooga, which he did in good order. At last accounts he had established communications with the cavalry of Gen. Burnside. [Burnside is reported to have been on Sunday within 30 miles of Rosecrans, and would reach him the next day.] It is believed that Rosecrans will soon be put in a position to resume the offensive. In the meantime he is thought to be strong enough to hold his ground. Every effort is being made to increase his strength by reinforcements from more than one direction. It is asserted that it was not the Government's fault that he was not sooner reinforced.

A St. Louis dispatch states that the steamer Marcella was boarded and plundered on the 15th inst. at Dover Landing, Lafayette county. The soldiers of the 5th State Militia, returning home on furlough, were taken two miles into the woods and shot. The boat was burned.

A portion of Buford's cavalry has crossed the Rapidan without opposition; many think that but a feeble force of rebels intervenes between Meade and Richmond: indeed, some, since the news of the Chattanooga battle has begun to arrive, seem to think that Rosecrans is fighting the whole Southern Confederacy.

Ould, the rebel Commissioner, has notified our officers that 12,000 prisoners paroled by Gen. Grant had been returned to the field in exchange for the same number of our prisoners delivered at City Point.—This is only another example of rebel perfidy. Not a man of ours has been returned for those 12,000, who are doubtless to-day fighting against Gen. Rosecrans.

Heavy firing was heard off Charleston at 3 o'clock on Sunday morning.

☞ A dispatch from Louisville, Monday night, states that the military authorities there do not believe that any very seriously disastrous results have occurred to Gen. Rosecrans' army. There were rumors in that city that a large part of Gen. Grant's army was rapidly marching forward to aid Rosecrans. Western papers of Thursday and Friday last say that, in view of Bragg's being reinforced from Virginia and Alabama, great effort was being made to forward troops from Kentucky and portions of Tennessee to the aid of Gen. Rosecrans.

☞ The Lewiston Me., Journal records a rare case of patriotic devotion; that of a man who took the place of a friend who was drafted and could not leave his family consistently, and before leaving making his will, in which he gives $700 to the America Bible Society.

☞ Some fiend in human shape lately entered a churchyard in Maine, and battered and distorted the headstone over the grave of a child buried there, out of spite to its parents.

☞ The Portland Press speaks of a young lady who never fails to make obeisance to a soldier, whenever or wherever he may be met, because he is a soldier.

☞ Gold receded in New York on Tuesday under the effects of the more favorable news from Chattanooga, and sold as low as 36 7-8 premium at 1:30; at 3 P. M., 37 7-8.

☞ The "no confidence in the government" motion in the Canadian Parliament, on Saturday, was lost by only three votes.

☞ The first bale of cotton of the growth of 1863 was received in New Orleans, on the 7th inst.

☞ Six colored men in the town of Machias, Me., voted the Democratic ticket.

News from Japan.—A private letter from the American Minister (Mr. Pruyn) dated Kanagawa, Japan, Aug. 10, says that the prompt resentment of the outrage upon our flag has resulted most favorably. The Wyoming, with six guns, destroyed a Japanese steamer, barque and brig, mustering 22 guns, besides engaging six batteries. The accomplishment of so much with so little means astonished the government and people of Japan, and, what is strange, the Government is obliged to us.

Other advices of the same date say the British fleet had gone to Satimer's dominions to demand $25,000 and the surrender of the murderers of Mr. Richardson. If the money is not paid, a considerable campaign would be inaugurated against the Damios.

Naval.—Side-wheel steamer Conemaugh, from Port Royal 14th inst., arrived at Philadelphia on Saturday.

Screw steamer Sachem, 5, captured by the rebels at the late disaster at Sabine Pass, was an old propeller, built at New York in 1840, rebuilt in 1854, and sold to the government early in the war.

Side-wheel steamer Clifton, 8, disabled in the same disaster, was a Staten Island ferry boat, and was purchased by the Department early in the rebellion. She rendered excellent service in the naval fight below New Orleans, and afterwards became noted for her exploits on the coast of Texas.

☞ The Portland Courier has returns on which it can rely, by which it appears that E. W. Stetson, Esq., the Union candidate, is elected Senator from Lincoln county, Maine, by fourteen majority. Mr. Stetson ran ahead of the Union vote for Governor. This result secures a unanimous Union Senate.

Per contra, the Portland Argus of Wednesday asserts that full returns from all the towns in Lincoln county show that Hon. Joseph H. Smith, Democrat, is elected Senator by 30 majority, and the county ticket is elected by 100 majority.

☞ Judge Nelson, of the U. S. District Court, has decided that a board of enrollment which, under the provisions of the conscription law, has once made a decision in the case of a conscript, exhausts its powers, and cannot revise or reverse any decision they may have made. This is important.

Effects of the Gale.—Several canvass awnings were stripped into fritters.—Portland Courier.

We know Down East was a great place for "fritters," but we should think if they were made of canvass it would raise a gale among the boarders.

☞ The editor of the Bath Times expresses the wish that as "the New York money writers say everybody can obtain all the money they want there," some of his subscribers (non-paying, of course) would go there.

☞ It is reported that the rebel Major General Marsh Walker was mortally wounded on Sunday the 6th inst., in a duel with the rebel General Marmaduke, at Bayou Metaire, near Little Rock, Ark.—The difficulty was occasioned by Marmaduke's jealousy of Walker, who had recently been promoted from the subordinate to the ranking General.

☞ Any number of newspapers may be sent by mail under a two cent stamp, provided they do not exceed four ounces in weight. This fact, it appears, people will not remember, although it has been frequently published.

☞ The new correspondent of the London Times sent out to this country is a Mr. Mariotti, who has previously lived here, but more recently in Italy, of which country he is a native, having figured formerly as a revolutionist, and lately as a member of the Italian Chamber of Deputies and Times correspondent.

☞ A Californian, who was riding in Newton, Mass., with a man who was wounded at Gettysburg, handed him a $5 bill, saying that he made it a custom to give $5 to every wounded soldier he met, and should do so as long as his money lasted.—Loyalty and generosity thrive in California.

The turnkey of the jail, Robert Pennell, was assaulted a few evenings ago by James Kelley and Thomas Butters, two of the crew of the Tacony, who were confined in one cell. They are said to be desperate characters, and the assault was probably made with a view to their escape.—Portland Argus.

☞ It is reported that our Minister in Paris, Mr. Dayton, has telegraphed to all the American Consuls now in Europe, to send any American vessel-of-war happening to be in European harbors in the direction of Brest, for the purpose of giving chase to the Florida; and bets have been made in Paris in favor and against the chances of escape of the rebel privateer.

☞ A Miss is said to be as good as a mile, but we notice that a young lady in Haverhill eleven feet high. It makes a good shade tree.

☞ Tom Thumb's private fortune is now estimated at $250,000.

☞ The horse Buckstone has been sold in England for £4,500 ($22,500).

☞ It is announced, in a despatch from Washington, that "the magnificent steamship Niagara, of 5000 tons burthen, and with an enormous battery, is now ready for sea at Boston, where she has remained so as to be conveniently near to those patriotic fishermen who have so long manifested an earnest desire to enlist in the Navy. The early departure of the steamship is desired, in view of the apprehension of the advent of John Laird's rebel rams. The enlistment of the fishermen has been retarded owing to an unusually successful fishing season and the advance of the price of fish. In view of rich prizes it is supposed that the business of recruiting for the Navy will be additionally stimulated."

☞ A new tuber from Peru, called the Poire de terra Cochet, from the name of M. Cochet, its introducer, has been cultivated successfully for two years in France. It is said to be more nutritive and wholesome than the potato, and an acre will yield sixty tuns, while it contains more sugar than beet root. Somebody should get specimens and try them here.

☞ The Newburyport Herald says that the flesh of the leathery turtle was supposed to be poisonous, until Agassiz proved to the contrary, by an entertainment given to his friends in 1848; when it was shown that properly cooked, its flesh was not only nutritious but agreeable to the epicure.

It is supposed that this was the species used by the ancients in the early construction of the lyre.

☞ Private advices from Virginia City, Nevada Territory, say additional subscription to the amount of $9600 has been made there for the sanitary commission. The money is to be forwarded in silver bricks, of about $1000 each.

☞ Cubas, the celebrated danseuse, is lying dangerously ill at the Girard House, Philadelphia.

☞ A Somersetshire (England) farmer and his wife recently wound up a long course of cruel torture inflicted upon an elderly woman servant by forcing into her mouth a piece of honeycomb full of bees, inflicting great agony from the stings of the angry insects.

☞ A new cure for consumption is talked of—a cream diet. Eat as much pure sweet cream as the stomach will digest (and as you can get), and the effect, it is said, will be quite as apparent as from the use of the best cod-liver oil.

Our port is more than usually crowded with vessels at the present time—there being about 175 sail in the river and stream. The demand for lumber, and consequently for vessels, is brisk.—Bangor Whig.

☞ In Terre Haute, a few days ago, young Master Brown shot Master Callings dead with a pistol for calling him a liar.—He was immediately acquitted upon the plea of justifiable homicide.

☞ Dr. Anson Hooker of Cambridge has been sent by order of Gov. Andrew to look after the Massachusetts soldiers in the Western Department, and see that they are properly cared for.

☞ The Shakers of Union Village, near Cincinnati, have announced their determination to give to that city, for the benefit of the poor, from 1000 to 10,000 cords of wood, free of charge.

☞ Unofficial notes received by the Assistant Secretary of the Navy from Adm. Dahlgren state that no disagreement has arisen between Gen. Gilmore and himself.

☞ The crop of walnuts this year will be large, and probably the price will be low. Beechnuts are also abundant in the country. Chestnuts will not be plenty.

☞ The abundant cranberry crop this year will make up for any falling off in apples. Cranberries never yielded so well as this year.

☞ The best sharpshooters at Charleston are said to be negroes. Five of them, recently captured, were splendidly armed.

☞ Edmond About proposes to stock all the canals in France with eels. The London Spectator says the French don't like fish.

☞ Five more rooms have been uncovered at Pompeii. Bread wrapped in napkins was found—the issue of the latter in a perfect state of preservation.

☞ The potato crop in Ireland promises well this year. No complaints of disease in the plant have been heard.

☞ The friends of Gen. Banks in Massachusetts intend to present him with a sword, to commemorate the taking of Port Hudson.

☞ A lady who drowned herself for love near Pawtucket was recently borne to her grave on a bier carried exclusively by women, and one hundred other women followed in procession.

☞ A boy twelve years old, was taken to the station house in Hartford, laboring under an attack of delirium tremens.

☞ The Essex Banner tells of a dahlia in Haverhill eleven feet high. It makes a good shade tree.

☞ Tom Thumb's private fortune is now estimated at $250,000.

☞ The horse Buckstone has been sold in England for £4,500 ($22,500).

CALENDAR CLOCKS.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment; and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, BILIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and Bowels, and as a Family Pill. spno

THE MILITARY MUSTER.—In view of the Muster that is to come off in this city next month, would it not be well for the citizens here to form one or more companies to represent Portsmouth? We presume the National Guard will make a move in the matter, but shall we not have other companies in the field? Who will start the ball? Companies from all parts of the State will join in the parade, which is to last three days.

At a meeting of the Amoskeag Veterans in Manchester on Saturday evening, preparations were made to attend the Muster.—Committees were chosen to obtain tents, prepare rations, and make such arrangements as are necessary for the occasion.

☞ Tuesday was a "hummer" of a Fall day, sure, to commence with. Overcoats and mittens were in order, out of doors,—and in the house, a little fire was not uncomfortable. The wind blew a small gale, and the boats in the harbor were put under close reefs. Among the minor accidents, the pleasure sloop-boat "Foam," Capt. Jas. Brown, carried away her mast close to the deck, on her passage between Pier wharf and the Navy Yard, and was towed into the wharf.

☞ The body of the son of Mr. H. N. Danielson (who was drowned with his father in our harbor a few weeks since) was picked up on Tuesday near Duck Island, (the Shoals) by Capt. Richard Winslow, of the schooner Grace Lee, and brought into port. The body was very much mutilated.

☞ Mr. Lear, at his store in Daniel street, has a new assortment of fresh Shell Good, which he pronounces nice—and, judging from our sample, we are inclined to agree with him. Prime dried beef and extra smoked salmon are among the niceties at Lear's, besides all the standard goods at low prices.

LYCEUM LECTURES.—We learn that a movement is on foot to have a course of Lyceum Lectures in this city this winter.—An informal meeting of a number of our citizens was held on Monday evening, and the matter talked over. The folllowing Committee was chosen to attend to the business of the course, and the meeting adjourned to Monday evening, Sept. 28:—

Aurin M. Payson, Samuel Baker, Lewis E. Smith, James H. Head, Alfred C. Hoyt, Edward P. Kimball.

We trust that the citizens will respond to the call. A good course of lectures can be had if the tickets are readily taken up.

☞ The Congregationalist Society at Sanbornton Bridge made an excursion to this city on Tuesday, and as usual couldn't get to the Navy Yard,—this time on account of the high wind.

☞ Perham's cheap Excursion train to Boston leaves the Eastern Depot at eight o'clock this morning—return at half-past six to-night.

Perham also will run an Excursion train from Boston to Portsmouth and Rye Beach on Friday next.

☞ Mr. J. R. Smith, the agent for the Boston Aerated Bread Company, is in this city, at the Franklin House, where specimens of the bread can be seen, and Bakers, Grocers and others interested can consult with the agent as to the sale or manufacture of the Aerated Bread.

LOST OVERBOARD.—Mr. Edward F. Woodwell, of Newburyport, Mass., a seaman on board the schooner Camilla, of Portsmouth, was lost overboard on Saturday morning last near Mount Desert Rock, during the violent gale. Every exertion was made to rescue him, but without avail. He was about 20 years of age.

☞ It is expected that the new National Bank notes will be ready for delivery by the 15th of October. The 5s and 10s are being printed by the Continental Engraving Company, and the 100s and 50s by the American Company.

☞ Another of Jeff. Davis's servants has escaped. He brings wonderful stories of attempts to poison his master—which may be true and then again may not.

MARRIAGES.

THE BEST COOK STOVE
IN THE MARKET,
AFTER ALL SAID,
—IS—
STEWART'S
NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT,
SUMMER AND WINTER
COOKING STOVE,
For Wood or Coal,
—IMPROVED IN 1859.—

The peculiarities of the
STEWART COOK STOVE,
Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, upon the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward moveable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove from the time the article is set in until it is removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR (of copper, with a tin casing) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c.

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire-box; and the fumes, meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

7. By the aid of the perforated metallic linings, or "gas burning arrangement," and application of the full summer dress, the various culinary processes may be carried forward successfully with a single stick of wood at a time.

8. In regard to DURABILITY, the Stewart Stove is made to last, and will last. The structural form is such that the frame work of it can not burn out.

All the plates constituting the original STEWART STOVE, which was brought out twenty years ago, are still made, and sent to different parts of the country, on call.

The price of QUIETNESS, COMFORT and HEALTH secured to a family by the use of a culinary apparatus perfectly adapted to their wants, cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents.

But we can not, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of the STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE

Now in use, which has been widely tested
FOR TWENTY YEARS,

and NOT found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1863 is as superior to that of 1841, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

IT HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED

THE MODEL COOK, AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE, WITH TWO OVENS,
And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, that with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

A FAST YOUNG MAN.—The Saturday Express tells of the rapid exploits of a fast young man in Boston—E. P. J.—who ran a $30,000 yacht, won the heart of an heiress, spent $1000 for bouquets at a single party, bought and got trusted in the most miscellaneous manner, and finally collapsed with a debt of $300,000 on his back. A fleet moving and industrious youth, this.

☞ A letter from the rebel Army of Northern Virginia says that Ex-Brig-Gen. Roger A. Pryor and all the members of his Staff, are now in the ranks of the Third Virginia cavalry, of Fitzhugh Lee's brigade. Says the writer: "Gen. Pryor was put on double duty, not long since, for missing 'roll-call.' Lieut. Col——, of a Virginia regiment, is also a private in the Third Virginia. This war has conclusively shown that distinguished politicians do not always make successful warriors."

THE peculiar taint or infection which we call SCROFULA lurks in the constitutions of multitudes of men. It either produces or is produced by an enfeebled, vitiated state of the blood, wherein that fluid becomes incompetent to sustain the vital forces in their vigorous action, and leaves the system to fall into disorder and decay. The scrofulous contamination is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered digestion from unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children." The diseases it originates take various names, according to the organs it attacks. In the lungs, Scrofula produces tubercles, and finally Consumption; in the glands, swellings which suppurate and become ulcerous sores; in the stomach and bowels, derangements which produce indigestion, dyspepsia, and liver complaints; on the skin, eruptive and cutaneous affections. These, all having the same origin, require the same remedy, viz., purification and invigoration of the blood. Purify the blood, and these dangerous distempers leave you. With feeble, foul, or corrupted blood, you cannot have health; with that, "life of the flesh, healthy, you cannot have scrofulous disease.

is compounded from the most effectual antidotes that medical science has discovered for this afflicting distemper, and for the cure of the disorders it entails. That it is far superior to any other remedy yet devised, is known by all who have given it a trial. This it does combine virtues truly extraordinary in their effect upon this class of complaints, is indisputably proven by the great multitude of publicly known and remarkable cures it has made of the following diseases: King's Evil, or Glandular Swellings, Tumors, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches and Sores, Erysipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Coughs from tuberculous deposits in the lungs, White Swellings, Debility, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Syphilis and Syphilitic Infections, Mercurial Diseases, Female Weaknesses, and, indeed, the whole series of complaints that arise from impurity of the blood. Minute reports of individual cases may be found in AYER'S AMERICAN ALMANAC, which is furnished to the druggists for gratuitous distribution, wherein may be learned the directions for its use, and some of the remarkable cures which it has made when all other remedies had failed to afford relief. Those cases are purposely taken from all sections of the country, in order that every reader may have access to some one who can speak to him of its benefits from personal experience. Scrofula depresses the vital energies, and thus leaves its victims far more subject to disease and its fatal results than are healthy constitutions. Hence it tends to shorten, and does greatly shorten, the average duration of human life. The vast importance of these considerations has led us to spend years in perfecting a remedy which is adequate to its cure. This we now offer to the public under the name of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, although it is compounded of ingredients, some of which exceed the best of Sarsaparilla in alterative power. By its aid you may protect yourself from the suffering and danger of these disorders. Purge out the foul corruptions that rot and fester in the blood, purge out the causes of disease, and vigorous health will follow. By its peculiar virtues this remedy stimulates the vital functions, and thus expels the distempers which lurk within the system or burst out on any part of it.

We know the public have been deceived by many compounds of Sarsaparilla, that promised much and did nothing; but they will neither be deceived nor disappointed in this. Its virtues have been proven by abundant trial, and there remains no question of its surpassing excellence for the cure of the afflicting diseases it is intended to reach. Although under the same name, it is a very different medicine from any other which has been before the people, and is far more effectual than any other which has ever been available to them.

AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL,
The World's Great Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

This has been so long used and so universally known, that we need do no more than assure the public that its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do all it has ever done.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove. Numerous families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this very valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This difficulty so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 30 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the dome can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great numbers of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber,

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.

1st. It is stronger and lighter than any known material.
2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.
3d. When the arch is irregular we can by building out the depressions—which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.
4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.
5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a saucer, as when finished the work presents one whole piece.
6th. While in all ways it is better, save in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

DR. A. P. STEVENS, Surgeon Dentist,
No. 5 Daniel St., Portsmouth,
Has had four years of practical experience in working this material, and will guarantee satisfaction in all cases entrusted to his care.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

☞ During the recent bombardment of Fort Wagner from the New Ironsides, it was found impossible to drive balls through the sand and cotton of which the works are made, or to elevate the guns so as to throw the shot in as from a mortar. The gunners resorted to the expedient of depressing the pieces, whereby the balls striking the water about fifty yards from the beach, bounded upward and over into the fortress. This was remarkably successful. "These are what I call billiards," said the captain, watching the firing. "They carom on the bay and beach, and pocket the ball in the fort every time."

☞ A New York paper states that at one of the city banks, on Saturday last, a person rushed in, handed the teller a package, and remarking "another to come," left. The teller stated to a bystander that it was the second deposit made that day by a stock brokerage firm; the amount of it was two and a half million dollars! This little incident shows how enormous must be the stock operations in New York at the present time.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made no twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Gilmore's preparations for shelling Charleston are so far advanced that he can commence at any time. Eighty cases of the Greek fire shells have arrived for his use.

The N. Y. Herald's Morris Island letter of the 19th states that a severe gale raged with great fury on the Wednesday and Thursday previous, doing considerable damage to the camps. Our vessels in the roads rolled and pitched violently, and many of them dragged their anchors, but fortunately none of them went ashore. Gov. Bonham, in a proclamation, calls out all the arms-bearing population of the State, over sixteen years of age, not in, or liable to the Confederate service, for State defence, for six months' service. The Charleston Courier states that the rebel steamer Sumter was sunk a few days ago between Sumter and Moultrie, but it does not state in what manner.

A rebel dispatch from Charleston, 20th, states that the Monitors and Ironsides were within the bar, unhurt by the gale.

137 non-commissioned officers and privates arrived at New York on Wednesday, furloughed by Gen. Gilmore for bravery in the trenches and the attack on Wagner.

The N. Y. World's Washington dispatch says Gen. Halleck has ordered the Army of the Potomac to move forward. It is estimated that Lee's whole army is now composed of A. P. and D. H. Hill's corps, (the latter having evacuated Richmond lately to reinforce Lee,) Hood's division of Longstreet's corps, with Stuart's cavalry, making an aggregate, probably, of 40,000 men.

Official advices from Gen. Rosecrans show that an attack by the enemy upon Gen. Thomas' corps on Monday afternoon was handsomely repulsed, and his forces marched quietly to the position they were about to take when assaulted. Gen. Rosecrans had concentrated his troops before midnight on Monday, in a strong defensive position. We lost one General Officer—Gen. Lytle: Bragg admits his loss in officers to be very heavy. Bragg's official report states that by two days' hard fighting he had driven our forces, after a desperate resistance, from several positions, but they still confronted him. The losses on both sides were heavy, especially in rebel officers. He had taken, he says, 20 pieces of artillery, and 2500 prisoners. The Richmond Dispatch of the 22d says Rosecrans had been heavily reinforced by troops from Gen. Grant's army.

☞ The Boston Journal states that Judge Woodard, the opposition candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania, has been convicted, on the strongest authority of having publicly declared in the spring of 1861 that if these States are to be separated he hoped Pennsylvania would go with the South, which was then about to take arms to break down the government.

☞ The London Times has again expressed itself in favor of detaining the two suspected steam rams on the Mersey, even though legal proofs are wanting, and does not think the Ministers would be justified in defending them. It is suspected that two clipper ships building at Nantes are intended for the rebels.

☞ The Liverpool correspondent of the American Associated Press is authoritatively informed that Earl Russell has given written assurance to Mr. Adams that the steam rams in the Mersey should not be allowed to depart. The public journals also confirm this.

☞ The N. Y. Post says a letter has been received from one of the crew of the U. S. steamer Vanderbilt, dated Rio Janeiro, August 22, at which time the ship was anchored at that port. Consequently, there need be no fears as to her safety.

☞ Late news from Alabama and Southern Mississippi shows that the rebels are in great fear that Mobile will soon fall into Union hands. Many hope instead of fear, according to accounts.

☞ A German, confined in the Tombs, New York, escaped on Sunday morning, by forcing himself between bars only 6 1-2 inches apart.

☞ A New York firm purposes to remove the obstructions in Charleston harbor in sixty days for $250,000.

☞ M. M. Peyser & Co., importers and dealers in worsted goods, have opened their new store, No. 33 Winter street, Boston.

☞ The Republicans of Vermont have chosen 192 members of the House, and the Democrats 19.

☞ "Frozen water melon" is just now the rage in private circles in Washington. It is said to be a most delicious discovery.

☞ The Clyde-built steamer Jupiter has been captured while attempting to run the blockade at Savannah.

DIED AT GETTYSBURG.

The following beautiful extract is from a funeral sermon preached in Maine, over a brave young Volunteer who fell there. It reminds us of our townsman Richards, and others, who died there, for us, for the country, and for humanity.

"We esteem it an honor that one brave, young life has, from this congregation been yielded up in so great, so holy a cause.

We esteem it an honor (sore, unutterable grief though it be) to those parents who have been called to give up their first-born, the object of their love and their hope to God and their country, to the whole race whom Christ came to save!

Died at Gettysburg! no prouder epitaph need any man covet. Whoof all who have occupied these houses, and tilled these fields—building, planting, reaping and returning to the dust whence they were taken—who of them all has earned a nobler memorial? Who of all who now dwell here, will merit a more affectionate, honored remembrance than the young volunteer who, from this community, went forth to fight, and as the event proved, to die for his country?

Died at Gettysburg! Do you know what it means? It means "Died to chasten the insolence which had grown inordinate through a series of successes." It means "Died to restore courage and hope to an army saddened and despondent through long continued disaster." It means "Died to turn back the torrent of invasion and pillage, and wide spread devastation." It means "Died to still the panic fear which filled all hearts in the great cities of our land." It means "Died that mothers might put their children in security to their night's rest." It means "Died that insurrection and riot, theft and robbery, conflagration and red-handed murder might not rage at will,—not in New York and Boston alone, but in every city, every town, every village in the land." It means "Died that you might assemble in this house without fear that your homes will be plundered and burned in your absence—that you yourselves might fall by the shot or stab of the assassin."

For all that has been experienced in New York is but a small sample of what must, in all probability, have been experienced throughout the North, had the men who died at Gettysburg faltered when desperately assaulted by a proud, outnumbering foe.

Died at Gettysburg! It means, "Died that the best government on which the sun ever shone might not be bound and powerless, calling in vain for the succor which would not come—as our government, in all seeming, would have been, had not God, in his mercy, interposed for us, saving us by those who, at Gettysburg, opposed their breasts as the bulwark of our defence, against the enemy who thought to tread us into the dust!

Died at Gettysburg! It means "Died for the land's salvation; died for the opening of the prison-doors to them that are unjustly bound; died to proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord, and the day of vengeance of our God, to the oppressed nations of the earth; died that men might still hope and struggle upward to life and liberty, civil and religious; died that a field for missionary enterprise might be opened in our own land, more wide-spread and more important than any of which we have yet taken possession; died that Christians might not, broken-hearted, retire from the effort for the world's conversion; died that God's kingdom might come, that his will might be done, on earth as it is done in heaven.

That's what it means—Died at Gettysburg!"

"WAGES FOR LABOR."—Wilkes' Spirit of the Times, in an able article on the labor question says:—"We suggest to the working Democracy of the North, whom their office-broking leaders are endeavoring to dragoon into the service of the Southern aristocracy, a battle-cry for the next political campaign. Let the text of the campaign be, "Wages for labor;" and let them bear in mind that the moment this principle is fully recognized, a vast region will be opened to them, which has hitherto been usurped by the negro and his lordly master. We want the Southern country opened up to white labor, and the only way to accomplish this is to secure wages to all labor. The lordly idlers who live upon the work of other men will then gladly employ the labor which is most profitable and the best. Let the true Democrat, therefore, rally to the cry of "wages for labor." It is the only one which is worthy of their name and principles, and it will do more, by its very sound, to defeat the Northern miscreants who are endeavoring to mislead them to the support of Southern aristocracy and treason, than all other arguments combined. The opposition to the text will come solely from aristocrats and traitors—therefore, it will prove the best touchstone for the separation of the Democratic masses from their infamous leaders, that could be applied. "Wages for labor."

There are women who, without the gift of genius, fill our vase with wine and roses to the brim, so that the wine runs over and the house is filled with perfume.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Mr. Jeremiah Sanborn, of Epsom, on Wednesday last shot an American Eagle, weighing 12 1-2 lbs., which measured 6 feet 10 inches between the tips of the wings; 2 feet 10 inches in height; 6 1-4 inches around the leg, and 7 inches between the extremeties of the toes.

—— The shop of Capt. Joseph Noyes, in Plaistow, was broken open on the night of the 12th inst., and a valuable chaise-harness and buffalo robe stolen therefrom.—Hardly a week passes, it is said, without the perpetration of some petty theft in this or the adjoining towns. Poultry-houses and clothes-lines most frequently suffer.

—— The Court of Inquiry in the case of Paymaster Henry McFarland, U. S. A., have exonerated him from any blame for the loss of the money stolen by his clerk, and ordered him to report for duty. This will be gratifying news to the friends of Mr. McFarland.

—— A cow in Exeter, which had gone to a bush or shade, —while brushing the flies away, got her caudal appendage so entangled that she was unable to extricate herself, and remained tied up all night.

THE CHATTANOOGA BATTLES.—The Washington Star gives an account of the battles on Saturday and Sunday, apparently derived from official sources. On Saturday, the attack which the rebels made in strong force, seems to have been repelled by Gen. Thomas, with the advantage on our side. On Sunday morning, about 10 o'clock, the fight was renewed, Gen. Thomas, who held the left, being most violently assaulted. About noon he was forced to retire to the second line; and, besides others, McCook's whole corps, which had been on the right, and as a reserve in the centre, was sent to his assistance, their place being supplied by others. But the rebel fire, which had previously slackened, now burst out in immense volleys upon the centre. In about twenty minutes the right was seen to give way, although in tolerable order; and soon after the two centre divisions of Sheridan and Davis broke in disorder, borne down by the enemy's columns, which are said to have consisted of Polk's corps.—These two divisions were the only divisions thrown into much disorder. Davis and Sheridan, late in the day, succeeded in rallying about 8000 of their forces and joined Thomas.

Gen. Thomas, finding himself cut off from the right, brought his divisions into position for independent fighting, his line assuming the form of a horse shoe, along the crest of a wooded ridge. He was soon joined by other divisions, and with these forces he firmly maintained the fight until after dark, at every onset repelling the enemy with terrible slaughter. Gen. Thomas seemed to have filled every soldier with his own unconquerable firmness; and Gen. Granger, his hat torn by bullets, rode like a lion wherever the combat was thickest.

Every division commander bore himself gloriously. Gen. Turchin charged through the rebel lines with the bayonet, and being surrounded, forced his way back again.—Parker, forming his men in one line, made them lie down till the enemy was close upon them, when suddenly they rose and delivered their fire with such effect that the assaulting column fell back in confusion, leaving the ground covered with the killed. When night fell, this body of heroes stood on the same ground occupied by them in the morning, their spirits being unbroken. Their losses are not yet estimated.

Gen. Thomas telegraphed on Monday forenoon that the troops were in high spirits. He brought off all his wounded. Of the sick and wounded at Crawford Spring, including our main hospital, nearly all had been brought away. The number of prisoners taken by the enemy will hardly surpass 2000, besides the wounded, of whom not more than 1000 could have fallen into their hands. Of the rebel prisoners we have sent 1300 to Nashville. Most of our losses in artillery were occasioned by the killing of all the horses. Gen. Thomas retired to Rossville on Sunday night after the battle had closed. Gen. Rosecrans had issued orders for all of his troops to be concentrated with the forces at Chattanooga. In the last two assaults our troops fought with bayonets, their ammunition being exhausted.

A poor-law guardian in the north of Ireland lately addressed his audience: Mr. Chairman, and gentlemen of the board, the eye of Europe is upon us—the apple of discord has been flung in our midst—and if it be not nipped in the bud—it will burst into a conflagration—which will deluge the world!"

ON TWO CONTRACTORS.

To rob the public two contractors come;
One cheats in corn, the other cheats in rum.
Which is greater, if you can explain,
A rogue in spirit or a rogue in grain?
—Exchange.

☞ A new method of shoplifting has just been discovered in Paris. An elegant lady enters a store, accompanied by a nurse carrying a baby dressed in rich embroidery. On leaving, they are supposed to have taken laces, jewelry, &c., as the case may be, and are arrested. An examination proves that the baby has a wax-work face, and a hollow paste-board body which serves as a hiding place for the stolen articles.

☞ A despatch from Quebec states that the steamer Bowmanville went to sea on Monday night, clearing for Havana, but it was expected that she would take a cargo from Nova Scotia and run the blockade. The steamer Caledonia would leave the next day on similar business.

HEAVEN gives us enough when it gives us opportunity.

"Light, Sweet, and Nutritious!"
THE BOSTON
AERATED BREAD CO.
Call the attention of the intelligent public of Portsmouth to the NEW PROCESS OF BREADMAKING, now in full and successful operation at 1010 Washington St., corner Concord, by which they have supplied to them an ABSOLUTELY PURE BREAD,
made entirely by machinery, without the use of yeast, or any chemical or deleterious agent.
FERMENTATION
destroys from TEN to FIFTEEN per cent. of the constituent or nutrition elements of the flour, and deteriorates the whole, by the chemical change necessary for the production of the "Carbonic Acid Gas," which is the agent that makes ALL bread light.—Fermented bread is often more or less sour, and always injurious to the digestive organs, while the process is so uncleanly as to disgust the taste.
Unfermented Bread
is made wholly by machinery, by a process which preserves all the SWEETNESS, NUTRITION and AROMA of the wheat, NEVER BECOMES SOUR, and will keep moist and fresh for many days. It AGREES WITH THE MOST DELICATE STOMACH, even when eaten hot from the oven, and is recommended by the Medical Profession in America and Europe as a CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA!
☞ Bakers, Grocers, Hotels, &c., in Portsmouth, will be supplied regularly every day.

CALENDAR CLOCKS.
These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of time movement only, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.
Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.
Any person desirous of purchasing a clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment; and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, JAUNDICE, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and Bowels, and as a Family Pill. spno

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notice may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

Our terms are as low as those of any other paper.

Local.

☞ Newburyport has a free public library, the gift of various liberal citizens and friends of the old place; and it having outgrown the room assigned it in the City building, a special building is to be put up for it, by subscription. Four gentlemen have subscribed a thousand dollars each, and four others five hundred each, making six thousand dollars, under the agreement that the whole sum, which is put at ten thousand, shall be subscribed during the year.

Where are the rich friends of Portsmouth, to give funds to build Putnam Free Schools, establish City Libraries, lay sidewalks, plant trees, &c., as has been done in Newburyport? There is plenty of chance for bequests, to build a City Hall, and lay out a Common—which would be a very uncommon thing here.

☞ Wednesday was the last day for the appearance of drafted men from Strafford County, for examination, &c. Their exemption by procuring substitutes, &c., we suppose will be about completed this week. Next week comes on the draft for Carroll and Belknap,—which will be comparatively short and small affairs.

☞ "Major," the wide-awake Portsmouth correspondent of the Boston Herald, says "the operations of the draft in this district are progressing with all due diligence, and it is thought that the business of this office will be finished considerably in advance of those in other districts. Captain Godfrey, when a Quartermaster, always carried things through with far less cost to the Government than any other officer of like rank, and he seems determined to economise the time and money of the country in this particular instance. Surgeon Harvey Brown, U. S. A., Medical Inspector of Boards of Enrollment, visited the office of the Provost Marshal last week, and seemed highly pleased with the manner in which business is conducted here."

☞ We notice by the Ohio papers, that Gov. Tod has re-appointed William H. Hackett, Esq., of this city, a Commissioner for the State of Ohio, to take acknowledgements of deeds, &c., to be recorded in that State.

☞ A wag says that the "Leathery Turtle" which was caught near our harbor last week, was doubtless on his way to Portsmouth, when captured, to visit some of his drafted Barrington friends, many of whom were in town during the week.

☞ All our citizens will be glad to learn that Mayor Dearborn is slowly recovering from his long and very severe sickness.

TRUE.—"Major," of the Boston Herald, well says that "every one here regrets the removal of Naval Constructor Isaiah Hanscom, who has recently left Portsmouth Navy Yard, and been stationed at the Norfolk yard. Educated to his business upon the Piscataqua River, (celebrated for its Naval Architecture, both naval and mercantile,) with a singular fitness for his profession and a knowledge of the business such as is possessed by few, he showed his capabilities in the various ships that have been constructed under his direction. He was always ready for any work the Department required to be done and had it completed always before the specified time.—He left nothing undone towards bringing up the character and reputation of the Yard as a place where work could be well done, and his loss will be felt by many on both sides of the Piscataqua.

He is succeeded by Samuel M. Pook, Esq., who was constructor here many years ago."

☞ The Com. of Arr. for the Singing School, request us to remind all interested, that Mr. Davis's new Classes do not commence till next week; and that there will not be any meeting of the School, this afternoon or evening. Also, that the paper for subscriptions to another term, is now open at Mr. Head's store, where all particulars may be learned.

THE LILLIPUTIANS.—The levees of Tom Thumb and wife, Minnie Warren and Commodore Nutt, commenced yesterday at Tremont Temple, and attracted crowds of astonished and delighted visitors. This is the first appearance of the entire quartette in this city, the little Minnie having never been on exhibition here before. The entertainments given by these diminutives beings are now more pleasing by far than when they appeared singly. Tom deports himself with the dignity of a family man, while Mrs Thumb and her charming sister Minnie win every heart by their beauty and grace. The Commodore abounds in witty sayings and extemporaneous jokes.—The party appear in a great variety of funny and intensely interesting performances. The petite Commodore, he takes the comic role, and he sustains it admirably, for he is a capital comedian. No matter what character he appears in, he is sure to put the audience into a roar of laughter. He is a regular Burton in miniature.—[Boston Jour.

Our citizens will have a chance to see the great little folks, on Saturday next.

☞ The second company of artillery, which has been recruited in this State for the defence of Portsmouth harbor, and to be commanded by Capt. Barton, arrived in this city on Wednesday morning. They numbered 150.

☞ A correspondent informs us that eighty-six members of the U. S. Invalid Corps in this city, will join the Portsmouth Division Sons of Temperance, on Monday evening next. This organization is doing a vast amount of good in our city.

☞ It is generally supposed and stated, that the war in which we are now engaged is the bloodiest that has been waged in modern times. This is an error which it may be as well to correct by a reference to statistical facts. It appears from the best historical testimony, that of one million, two hundred thousand men enrolled in the armies of France in 1813, only one hundred thousand were alive in 1814; and that the loss of the Allied Powers in the wars with Napoleon, was, according to the London Times, not less than "ten millions of men in the prime life."—France in the same period lost about six millions.

☞ An old writer says that to make an entirely beautiful woman, it would be necessary to take the head from Greece, the bust from Austria, the feet from Indostan, the shoulders from Italy, the walk from Spain, and the complexion from England.

An enraged parent had jerked his provoking son across his knee, and was operating on the exposed portion of the urchin's person with great vehemence, when the young one dug into the parental leg with his venomous little teeth. "Blazes! what are you biting me for?" "Well, who begined this ere war?"

☞ The author of Guy Livingstone—a broken down "swell" named Lawrence—is safely back in England after his imprisonment here for trying to run our pickets.—They put him through a severe course of sprouts in Baltimore.

☞ Rev Mr Gage, who has supplied the pulpit of the Whitefield Church, Newburyport, during the absence of Dr Spalding, will close his services with that congregation next Sunday.

☞ The gunboat Sacramento, from the Wilmington blockade, has gone to Norfolk for repairs.

☞ The New York City Council is a dignified and honorable body. At a meeting on Monday evening, Mr. Sandford, in the course of debate, stated that a member had declared that certain gentlemen of the Board were d—d fools for not voting with the majority, at the same time boasting that he (the said member) had received $1500 for a vote on a certain measure.

☞ The Charleston Mercury, when Gen. Gilmore began his approaches to Charleston, said that "either they (the rebels) must drive the Yankees from Morris Island, or the Yankees wo'd drive them from the city."

☞ Rev. B. F. Eaton is to preach at East Kingston next Sunday.

Rev. T. H. Miller is to preach at Nottingham Square next Sunday.

☞ Mr. J. R. Smith, the agent for the Boston Aerated Bread Company, is in this city, at the Franklin House, where specimens of the bread can be seen, and Bakers, Grocers and others interested can consult with the agent as to the sale or manufacture of the Aerated Bread.

It is supposed by some that the Prince of Wales visited this country in part to obtain a package of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus. Whether he did or not, it would do honor to the Queen's table to have as nice light Biscuit as that article always makes. If any one has any doubts on the subject, go to your Grocer and get a paper immediately, and find of a truth that there is nothing like it. Everybody sells it.

For a Medicine that will cure
COUGHS, INFLUENZA,
TICKLING IN THE THROAT,
WHOOPING COUGH.
Or relieve CONSUMPTIVE COUGH, as quick as
COE'S COUGH BALSAM.

OVER FIVE THOUSAND BOTTLES have been sold in its native town, and not a single instance of its failure is known.

We have, in our possession, any quantity of certificates, some of them from who have used it in their practice, and given it the pre-eminence over any other compound.

It does not dry up a Cough, but loosens it, so as to enable the patient to expectorate freely.

☞ Two or three Bottles will invariably cure TICKLING IN THE THROAT. ☜

A HALF Bottle has often completely cured the most

STUBBORN COUGH.

And yet, though it is so sure and speedy in its operation, it is perfectly harmless, being purely vegetable. It is very agreeable to the taste, and may be administered to children of any age.

In cases of CROUP we will guarantee a cure, if taken in season. No Family should be without it. It is within the reach of all, the price being

ONLY 25 CENTS!

And if an investment and thorough trial does not "back up" the above statement, the money will be refunded. We say this, knowing its merits, and feel confident that one trial will secure for it a home in every household.

Do not waste away with Coughing, when so small an investment will cure you. It may be had of any respectable druggist in town, who will furnish you with a circular of genuine certificates of cures it has made.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D., devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the mental and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, Fits. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, solfdistrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such habitual sufferers, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your case. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capotes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important!

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted are soon rejoicing in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in this branch of business.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to visit his office.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of a skillful experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FEMALE PROTECTOR. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

THE BEST COOK STOVE

IN THE MARKET,

AFTER ALL SAID,

—IS—

STEWART'S

NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT,

SUMMER AND WINTER

COOKING STOVE,

For Wood or Coal,

IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the

STEWART COOK STOVE,

Embracing the Latest improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it pretends to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, on the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward moveable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus reflecting females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove from the time the article is set in until it is removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent water boiler (copper, with a tin casing) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN OLOSET, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c.

4. Also, by the aid of the TIN COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire-box; and the fumes, meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the experiment instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

7. By the aid of the perforated metallic linings, or "gas burning arrangement," and application of the tall summer dress, the various culinary processes may be carried forward successfully with a single stick of wood at a time.

8 In regard to DURABILITY, the Stewart Stove is made to last, and will last. The structural form is such that the frame work of it can not burn out.

All the plates constituting the original STEWART STOVE, which was brought out twenty years ago, are still made, and sent to different parts of the country, on call.

The price of QUICKNESS, COMFORT and HEALTH is carried to a family by the use of a culinary apparatus perfectly adapted to their wants, cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents.

But we can not, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of the STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE

Now in use, which has been widely tested

FOR TWENTY YEARS,

and now found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart stove of 1862 is as superior to that of 1841, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

IT HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED

yet, as a Family Stove. Here follow the names of a few of the numerous purchasers of the

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and tad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the exception of this, a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, which has continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any Stove. Hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this unique invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. Not so with this Furnace, the combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used.

We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sises, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber.

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.

1st. It is stronger and lighter than any known material.

2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.

3d. When the arch is irregular we can by building out the depressions—which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.

4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.

5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a saucer, as when finished the work presents one whole piece.

6th. While in all ways it is better, save in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

DR. A. P. STEVENS, Surgeon Dentist,

No. 5 Daniel St., Portsmouth,

Has had four years of practical experience in working this material, and will guarantee satisfaction in all cases entrusted to his care.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

"THE SMITHS."—John Smith—plain John Smith—is not very high sounding; it does not suggest aristocracy; it is not the name of any hero in die-away novels; and yet it is good, strong and honest. Transferred to other languages it seems to climb the ladder of respectability. Thus in Latin, it is Johannes Smithus; the Italian smooths it off into Giovanni Smithi; the Spaniards render it Juan Smithus; the Dutchman adopts it as Hans Schmidt; the French flatten it out into Jean Smeets; and the Russian sneezes and barks Jonloff Smittoski. When John Smith gets into the tea trade at Canton, he becomes Jahon Shimmittjff he clambers about Mount Hecla, the Icelanders say he is Jahne Smithson; if he trades among the Tuscaroras, he becomes Ton Qa Smittia; in Poland he is known as Ivan Schmittiweiski; should he wander among the Welsh Mountains, they talk of Jibon Schmidi; when he goes to Mexico, he is booked as Jontil F. Smitti; if of classic turn, he lingers among Greek ruins, he turns to Ion Smikson; and in Turkey he is utterly disguised as Yoe Seef.

A LAWYER ARRESTED AS A DESERTER. Samuel L. Crocker, jr., a member of the Suffolk Bar, was arrested on Saturday as a deserter. He was drafted in the 3d district, and presented a substitute, but failing to comply with the rules of the Provost Marshal, the substitute was not accepted. An appeal was made to the authorities at Washington, and the Provost Marshal was sustained in his decision, and Mr. Crocker having failed to appear, was arrested. On examination by the Board of Enrollment he was found able bodied, and was ordered into the service, but as a matter of leniency he was allowed a furlough until Wednesday, when he will go to camp, as by the decision of the War Department, his privilege to furnish a substitute or pay the commutation money is now cut off.—Traveller.

HEAVY CONTRACT.—We learn the proposal of Messrs. Charles Staples & Son, for furnishing the embrazure irons for the fortifications in our harbor, has been accepted by Government. It is a large job and a heavy one; and for the purpose of speedily fulfilling the contract, and also for doing the heaviest kind of forge work, the Messrs. Staples have leased, for five years, the Casco Iron Works, which will hereafter be known as the Westbrook Forge Company. They are now building a five ton Nasmyth hammer—the whole machine weighing over forty tons, on which the largest kind of forging can be done. They also expect to construct the engines for the monitor now building by Mr. Lawrence.—Portland Press.

A Scotch minister was once busy catechising his young parishioners before the congregation, when he put the usual first question to a stout girl whose father kept a public house. "What is your name?" No reply. The question having been repeated the girl replied, "Nane o' your fun, Mr. Minister, ye ken my name weel enough.—D'ye no say, when ye come to our house on a night, "Bet, bring me some ale!" The congregation, forgetting the sacredness of the place, were in a broad grin, and the parson looked daggers.

☞ They drink tea in Russia as soon as the boiling water is poured on it, whilst we allow it to stand untilit becomes as black as one's hat and bitter as hops. The men mostly drink their tea in tumblers, without milk, sometimes adding a slice of lemon, whilst the women take it in cups, with any amount of cream.

☞ The annual meeting of the American Board of Commissioners for foreign missions, will be held on the 6th of October, at Rochester, New York. More than fifty railroads have reduced their fares one half, to persons attending this meeting.

☞ Horse Railways are being built in all our cities. Salem, Danvers, Lowell, Lynn Portland and other places are preparing theirs, and Lawrence proposes to have one shortly.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

A rebel dispatch from Charleston reports that our forces were building a covered way from Battery Gregg to Wagner; and that their activity continued unabated, although the rebels shelled the working parties with great vigor.

A Washington dispatch asserts that if the repeated orders of the Government had been obeyed, there would be no solicitude on account of Gen. Rosecrans. It is known that he has abundant stores and supplies for many days.

On Wednesday night a considerable portion of our troops were on the south side of the Rapidan. The N. Y. Post's Washington letter says the army is undoubtedly moving on Gordonsville and a battle is imminent. Gen. Meade was in Washington for an hour or two on Wednesday morning, in consultation with the President, Secretary of War and Gen. Halleck, and then promptly returned to the front.

A dispatch from Gen. Rosecrans, Wednesday night, states that he could not be dislodged from the position he then held.—There was no fighting on the 23d.

A Cairo dispatch, 21st, gives a report that Price's army is reduced to 800 men, and is fleeing towards Texas. The number of rebels who surrendered to Gen. Steele is reported to be 7000 or 8000.

Gen. Meade is advancing rapidly, and our cavalry on Monday night occupied Madison Court House, an important position, 97 miles northwest of Richmond.—Lee has been to Charleston within a few days, and it is said that he will probably superintend the final struggle for Chattanooga.

FOREIGN.—Application was made to the Marseilles tribunal of commerce by the owners of some cargo in the ship W. B. Nash, for authorization to seize the Florida at Brest until the claim for 100,000 francs is settled. The authorization was granted. Slidell has gone to Brest to arrange the affair. A Paris letter asserts that the legal decision will be adverse to the claim.

The Tribunal of Commerce of Bordeaux have tried an insurance case involving the question: Is the Alabama a pirate or a privateer? The decision was that the Alabama has not exceeded belligerent rights, nor incurred the reproach of piracy.

A Paris telegram asserts that the Archduke Maximilian has positively accepted the Mexican Crown.

☞ The London Herald of the 12th says that Earl Russell on Wednesday dispatched, by a written missive, a positive order to Messrs. Laird to prevent the ironclad rams leaving their yards without an ample explanation of their destination and a sustainable reference to the owner or owners for whom they are constructed.

It is affirmed moreover that the French ambassador has been appealed to as to the possibility or non possibility of a French subject having ordered vessels of this stamp of an English ship builder; and there is declared to have come a proper official reply from His Excellency that no French subject has any legal right to possess or purchase vessels of war either for himself or in behalf of others.

☞ Gen. Blunt has met with great success in Western Arkansas, as is shown by an address which he has issued to the people. He assures them that the Federal occupation is permanent, all of the Indian Territory and Western Arkansas being under the control of U. S. forces, and all the rebel troops having been driven beyond the Red river, followed by their sympathizers. He alludes to the Union feeling which has manifested itself in the State, and requests the people, if it be their desire to disenthral themselves from the tyranny and oppression to which they have been subject, to organize a civil government under the authority of the United States; and promises them that every facility shall be afforded them to accomplish that purpose.

☞ The Richmond Whig reports that in three days' hard fighting in Northern Georgia the rebel loss was 5000, including many valuable officers. Among the killed are Brig. Gen. Preston Smith of Tennessee, Brig. Gen. Wolford of Georgia, Brig. Gen. Waltham of Mississippi, and Brig. Generals Helm and Dashler. Among the wounded are Brig. Generals Adams, Brown, Gregg Bunn, Preston, Caleburn and Benning.—Maj. Gen. Hood, who was wounded, has since died.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY for October is published by Ticknor & Fields, with a very interesting table of contents. Contributions are furnished from Whittier, Emerson, Trowbridge, Wasson, Whitney, Thoreau, J. P. Quincy, Dr. Hodge, Mrs. Hopkinson, G. B. Prescott, C. C. Hazewell, Charles Sumner, and others.

☞ Capt. Henry Walker has been ordered to the command of the screw sloop Sacramento.

HOW I GOT OFF.

SQUEDUNK, Sept., 1863.

Mr. Editor:—I've had my trials and tribulations, like most people, and, as a general thing, have managed to grin and bear them, even under the most severe afflictions; but a little the roughest, toughest, and most aggravating circumstance that ever did occur to me, was my being drafted on the 11th day of August, 1863, into the service of these United States, &c.

As the man said, when he lost his wife, "I never had anything cut me up like this."

It wasn't the draft, however, that hurt me so much, for I am thoroughly loyal, and knew that I should be exempted,—for last year, induced by a laudable design to reduce the quota of Squedunk, I paid Dr. Lollypop fifty cents for a certificate that the pericardium of the left ventricle of my dexter patella was so tuberculated as to prevent procrastination without elongating the phalanges of the metatarsal scaphoid of the varicose vox populi.

So I went to Portsmouth with a light heart and a firm determination to stand by the old flag while life lasted, and as much longer as I should be able to retain any vitality.

I didn't meet with any serious accident, (owing, perhaps, to the absence of the police) until I arrived within forty rods of the Old Custom House, when I suddenly came into collision with a mass meeting of substitute brokers, each and every individual of whom assured me, confidentially, of course, that he had the last and only acceptable substitute in the market, and that said substitute could be engaged at from $475 to $550—ten per cent of which sum was to be paid to the substitute, and the balance to the broker.

Knowing that I should be exempted, I made my way, with much difficulty, to the door of the building, where I was very kindly received by Mr. Bailey, who very politely, I might say affectionately, wrote my name on a card, and told me to get off the door-step and wait till my turn came.

In about two hours and forty minutes my turn did come, and I was invited up stairs into the presence of Mr. Legro, who took my dimensions, which were as follows:—Height, four feet and sixteen inches; hair, ruddy; eyes, auburn; complexion, light blue.

After a few moments of breathless suspense, I was ushered into the presence of the Board; which consisted of a long table, a patch curtain, a writing desk, a settee, a wash-stand, and several other gentlemen, besides Chancellor Kent, who, I am told, is a veracious narrator of anecdotes and a voracious devourer of broiled tripe.

Advancing toward the Board, I made the remark, "Gentlemen and ladies; friends, fellow citizens, and selectmen of various towns here present, it becomes my painful duty with the greatest pleasure to inform you that, were it not for the fact that I am so prostrated by disease as to be entirely unfit for military duty, I should claim the right to shoulder a musket and march to the field of gory strife, to offer myself as a sacrifice for my country's good, but alas, gentlemen, that document is too true, and I am compelled to forego the pleasure of shedding my blood for the cause of shrieking freedom."

Here I paused, while the doctor examined the certificate. With a look of incredulity, he muttered, "don't see it," and ordered me to go behind the curtin and divest myself of my apparel.

"But," said I, "there is no occasion for that, for I am the only son of a widowed mother-in-law, on whom I am entirely dependent for support."

Here the Chancellor stepped forward, and taking me by the shoulder, remarked, "Twon't do, young man, you must be examined."

"Hold on," said I, "the exposure will be indecent, and I'm the father of fatherless children."

"That won't do," replied he, "take off your dry goods."

Finding resistance useless, I stepped behind the curtain, and, in a few moments, presented myself to the surgeon in a state of perfect nudity. After a few thumps in the ribs and a kick in the bowels, by that amiable gentleman, I was pronounced sound in wind and limb, and kindly offered a ticket for a new suit of clothes, which I politely declined, preferring a short furlough to procure a substitute, for "the government want men and not money,"—(that's what the substitute brokers said, at any rate) and the citizens of Squedunk had voted to pay $300 to every man who went or furnished a substitute. So I determined to furnish an able-bodied substitute to fill my patriotic boots.

Capt. Godfrey very kindly granted my request, and I departed.

And here, Mr. Editor, my real troubles commenced.

Forcing my way into the crowd of brokers, I made inquiries for a substitute.

Seven different individuals grasped me firmly, and proceeded to drag me in seven different directions, each claiming to be the sole proprietor of the very man I wanted.

With a desperate effort I shook off six of them with the greater portion of my best coat, and proceeded to negotiate with the remaining one; who had me by the nape of the neck, and wore a small pewter plate on his left breast, which I took for a reward of merit, for (as he represented) the best sub in the city—young, healthy, sound and anxious to shed his last drop of blood in the good cause.

After some talk about the price, I contracted for the youthful hero at $400—$100 to be paid to him, and the balance to pewter-plate as soon as I received my exemption certificate.

I confess that I was somewhat disappointed when I beheld the individual for whom I had bargained, for he appeared hardly so young as I had been led to expect. His hair was exceedingly gray, his teeth entirely gone, and his face very much wrinkled, but all this, I was told, was only the effects of a "bit of a spree" indulged in the night before. So I, with the least possible delay, presented him to the Board for examination. Before entering that august presence, however, Mr. Legro very politely inquired if my substitute had the consent of his mother to enlist.

As he claimed to be twenty-one years of age, I considered the question rather impertinent, but I forgive Mr. Legro and harbor no ill-will against him, for I know too well that it is the easiest thing in the world to be mistaken. In verification of this fact I may mention that the Board rejected him as being too old; the doctor asserted that he would never see seventy-five again, and the Chancellor said that he knew his great-grandchildren when he was a boy. Somewhat disgusted at such shabby treatment on the part of the Board, I departed with the promise of an early hearing on the next day.

Bright and early on the following morning I was alert, and, from a very gentlemanly individual, I procured a substitute who was warranted thirty-six years old, with jet black hair and sound teeth. Making my way into the presence of the Board, I presented my man. "Hello," exclaimed the Chancellor, "you here again?" As this remark was addressed to the sub, I was somewhat astonished, but the Chancellor soon explained the matter by demonstrating that my sub was no other than my man of the day before, with his hair dyed, his cheeks painted, and a new set of teeth made of orange-peel.

With an admonition not to play that game again, I left with the determination to be more successful the next time.

After several hours' haggling with brokers, I at last found a person who I thought would answer the purpose. I procured him from one of the "pewter-plate fraternity" for $595—$400 of which was to be paid to the broker.

On presenting him to the Board, Capt. Godfrey inquired of him, "How old are you?"

"Johannes Sauerkrautuntlagerbier."

"What is your name?"

"Nein ut swannig."

"How long have been in this country?"

"Yaw!"

After several interrogatories and replies of a like nature, and a "personal examination" by the Surgeon, he was accepted, and I was told to take him below and have him enlisted.

Allow me, Mr. Editor, here to acknowledge the kind treatment I met with from the clerks in the office, who very courteously assured me that it was next to impossible for any one of them to fill out more than five sets of papers at one time; also, that it was against the rules of the office for either principals or substitutes to hold conversation through the broken windows with persons in the street; furthermore, if it suited my convenience, they would be gratified if I would do any business, not connected with the office, otherwheres than on their tables.

As they furnished me with a liberal supply of stationery, I could not find it in my heart to disregard their very modest request, so I wrote a town order, a power of attorney, my will, and several letters to intimate friends, on a large box marked, "110 Sack Coats, lined."

After several hours' delay, my substitute was "sworn in," and I was permitted to depart, not in peace, but rather in pieces, for, on emerging from the building I was assailed by a crowd of brokers, every one of whom demanded pay for my substitute.

After some pulling and hauling I compromised the matter by paying nine of them sums varying from $5 to $25 each, and after settling with the broker who did furnish the substitute, I managed to get home in a somewhat dilapidated condition. Affectionately yours, Q. KUMBER PICKLES.

P. S. Please present my kind regards to "the Board."

N. B. Also recollect me to Esquire Hack ift, for kindly offering to make out my papers, providing I remunerated him therefor.

THE BOSTON

AERATED BREAD CO.

Call the attention of the intelligent public of Portsmouth to the NEW PROCESS OF BREADMAKING, now in full and successful operation at

1010 Washington St, corner Concord,

by which they have supplied to them an

made entirely by machinery, without the use of yeast, or any chemical or deleterious agent.

FERMENTATION

destroys from TEN to FIFTEEN per cent. of the constituent or nutrition elements of the flour, and deteriorates the whole, by the chemical change necessary for the production of the "Carbonic Acid Gas," which is the agent that makes ALL bread light.—Fermented bread is often more or less sour, and always injurious to the digestive organs, while the process is so uncleanly as to disgust the taste.

Unfermented Bread

is made wholly by machinery, by a process which preserves all the SWEETNESS, NUTRITION and AROMA of the wheat, NEVER BECOMES SOUR, and will keep moist and fresh for many days. IT AGREES WITH THE MOST DELICATE STOMACH, even when eaten hot from the oven, and is recommended by the Medical Profession in America and Europe as a CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA!

CALENDAR CLOCKS.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to secure at 12 the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment; and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS.—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, BILIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and Bowels, and as a Family Pill. spno

☞ The steamer Shawmut, at the Navy Yard, is to be taken out of the dock the latter part of this week, or the first of next, to give place to the Nipsic, which is to be docked to receive her new propeller. All of her stores, guns and ordnance have been, or are being taken out, which, together with the delay occasioned by the breakage of her propeller, renders the accident very unfortunate. We trust the old adage, "A bad beginning augurs a good ending" will be realized in the case of the Nipsic.

☞ The gunboat Agawam, recently built at Portland and now lying there, will not be able to come around to the Portsmouth Navy Yard for her armament as soon as was expected,—the Portland Argus says, in consequence of certain alterations to be made to her hull. Her machinery has all been taken aboard and put in place, and she will be ready to get up steam next week. According to the contract she must run 72 hours alongside the wharf, before leaving port.

SUNDAY SERVICES.—Rev. Dr. Lamson will preach in the Middle Street Church next Sabbath.

The jury were discharged and the accused remanded to prison. How he could commit murder in the second degree by administering poison, does not clearly appear.

—— James Mason, Paymaster, U. S. A., announces that 'all soldiers belonging to either of the nine months' regiments in New Hampshire, now mustered out of service, who were sick at the time their regiments were paid and unable to appear for their pay, and are still unable to apply to him personally for the same, will have their claims promptly attended to, provided they are properly mustered on the pay rolls, if they will notify him at Portland, Maine, through the mail, of their post office address, in order that he may send them blanks for their signatures. No expense need be incurred by employing agents to collect their claims. Such as have description lists are requested to forward them, that he may compare them with the rolls.'

—— The Ballot states that the wife of George Rooney, a young Irish resident of Exeter, was on Monday night safely delivered of triplets—two boys and a girl—all apparently healthy children, and, with the mother, "doing well."

—— Another prisoner, one Luther Austin, escaped from Exeter jail on Wednesday morning, by sawing off two bars in the door of his cell. He took to the woods, but the officers very soon re-took him, and put him in irons.

—— A Washington dispatch states that Governor Gilmore of this State left that city on Tuesday night for home, carrying with him a draft upon the Treasury for a quarter of a million of dollars, to pay the State's advances to troops.

☞ Camp meetings were first held in the year 1799 by two brothers by the name of McGee, on the banks of the Red river, in the state of Kentucky.

☞ Mr. J. R. Smith, the agent for the Boston Aerated Bread Company, is in this city, at the Franklin House, where specimens of the bread can be seen, and Bakers, Grocers and others interested can consult with the agent as to the sale or manufacture of the Aerated Bread.

It is supposed by some that the Prince of Wales visited this country in part to obtain a package of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus. Whether he did or not, it would do honor to the Queen's table to have as nice light Biscuit as that article always makes. If any one has any doubts on the subject, go to your Grocer and get a paper immediately, and find of a truth that there is nothing like it. Everybody sells it.

A WOMAN'S LOT.

I sit in the shaded quiet
Of the summer afternoon;
While the birds and the wandering breezes
Are blending their plaintive tune.

There are mists on the golden meadow,
And clouds on the azure sky;
Like a vision of angel garments
They glisten and pass me by.

While my fingers ply the needle,
My thoughts, upon soundless wings,
Fly over the broad creation,
As Fancy her story sings.

For the love of the brave and absent,
I, too, would be glad and brave;
But tears come over my vision,
And fall on a soldier's grave.

Ah! this is the lot of woman,
To dream, and to pray, and wait;
She measures all human ills,
Its knoweth the saddest fate!

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, No. 2 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, he has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND GLEETS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrotula, Syphilis, Seminal losses, pains in the loins, regions of procreation, inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible s. mptoms resulting from the clap, or Gleet, are made to become as harmless as the simplest siliings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr Dow devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which so prostrates the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capsules, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important!

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 1 & 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

P. S.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

In all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 2 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH PREVENTIVE. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

THE BEST COOK STOVE

IN THE MARKET,

AFTER ALL SAID,

—IS—

STEWART'S

NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT,

SUMMER AND WINTER

COOKING STOVE,

For Wood or Coal,

IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the

STEWART COOK STOVE,

Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, up on the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward movable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove from the time the article is set in until it is removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accomodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR (of copper, with a tin casing) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The portion of the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit to ripen, &c.

4. Also, by the aid of the Tin Cover, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a Brass Oven prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire-box; and the fumes, meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A Novel Plan of Ventilation is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

7. By the aid of the perforated metallic linings, or "gas burning arrangement," and application of the full summer dress, the various culinary processes may be carried forward successfully with a single stick of wood at a time.

8. In regard to Durability, the Stewart Stove is made to last, and will last. The structural form is such that the frame work of it can not burn out.

All the plates constituting the original STEWART STOVE, which was brought out twenty years ago, are still made, and sent to different parts of the country, on call.

The price of QUINTESSENCE, COMFORT and HEALTH secured to a family by the use of a culinary apparatus perfectly adapted to their wants, cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents.

But we can not, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of the STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE

Now in use, which has been widely tested

FOR TWENTY YEARS,

and now found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made its improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1862 is as superior to that of 1841, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and and iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objection urged by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some producing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The communicating pipes allow more than the air, passed off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gasses, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and be turned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the best in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the best generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces are equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber,

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.

1st. It is stronger and lighter than any known material.

2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.

3d. When the arch is irregular we can by building out the deficiency—which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.

4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.

5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a saucer, as when finished the work presents one whole piece.

6th. While in all ways it is better, save in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

The Chronicle.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every law fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The ladies of the Second Parish Exeter, will hold their Annual Fair at the Town Hall on Thursday evening of next week.

—— Secretary Stanton has decided that no town of New Hampshire is to be exempted from the full effect of the draft, under the Conscription act, on account of any excess of volunteers that such town may have furnished over and above its proportion.

—— On Monday as a man named Jeremiah Sullivan, of Manchester, was at work on the new mills being erected at Franklin, he fell a distance of 20 feet and dislocated his shoulder, broke two ribs and had a pick axe stuck through his leg.

—— Persons in passing through the Cemetery in Exeter had worn a foot path across a private lot, in which repose the remains of a gentleman, whose heirs, for the protection of the premises, put around it a temporary wooden fence, intending soon to replace it by an iron one. This fence has been torn up, posts and all, and travel resumed over the lot as before. The person who tore it up would do well to go to Timbuctoo, to find congenial company that the beautiful town, now disgraced by his presence, does not afford.

—— B. B. Ockington, Esq., of Stratford, has six sons—one, a resident of Georgia, is in the Confederate Army; one is in the U. S. Dragoons in Oregon; and the draft at Lebanon took the remaining four—one a resident of Lancaster, and three of Stratford.

—— Hon. B. F. Whidden, U. S. Commissioner for Hayti, left Lancaster last week to return to his post. His health has greatly improved during his absence from the Island.

—— Geo. R. Hickborn, Esq., auctioneer, of Boston, sold the Prescott farm at Hampton Falls, last Tuesday, owned by F. W. Atkins, and containing 100 acres of land, to Thomas Brown of Hampton Falls, for $2950. There was quite a large attendance.

THE MCCLELLAN MEMORIAL.—A circular is going the rounds of the army of the Potomac at the present time, proposing, on the part of many officers of Gen. McClellan's old army, to raise a subscription in order to present him with some mark of their respect which would serve as a memorial of the relations which have existed between them.—All are solicited to aid the subscription, which according to recommendation, assesses privates ten cents each, sergeants twenty-five cents, lieutenants one dollar, and so on up to Major Generals, whose assessments are severally twenty dollars.

☞ Cyrus W. Field returned to this country from England in the steamer China. Before his departure everything was in perfect trim for laying the cable next summer. Glass, Elliott & Co's contract binds them to the successful performance, and they had commenced manufacturing the cable. Policies covering all risks, even to the working of the cable, have been issued on moderate terms.

JEWS.—Twenty years ago ten Israelites, above the age of confirmation, forming a Minian, assembled in a private house and had divine worship for the first time in Boston. Now there are four synagogues and about five hundred families in Boston.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1863.

THE REBELLION

After Gen. Buford drove the rebel pickets on Tuesday through Madison Court House, he encountered a strong rebel cavalry force three miles beyond. After a spirited fight, he forced them to retreat, and drove them across the Rapidan at a point where the Gordonsville pike reaches the river. Our casualties were 1 killed and 20 wounded. We took 150 prisoners, among them Lieut. Col. DeLong, of Cobb's Georgia Legion. Gen. Buford destroyed a large amount of property valuable to the rebel army, and brought away with him a long train of army wagons filled with rebel stores.

It is not true that any of our forces, except cavalry, have crossed the Rapidan.

On Tuesday a body of rebel cavalry crossed into Upper Maryland, about four miles from Rockville, and had not proceeded far before they were met by a portion of Scott's nine hundred, and some infantry. A fight ensued, and 34 rebels were killed and wounded. Among the killed was Capt. Frank Kilger, commanding the rebels, who retreated on discovering that they were contending with a superior force.

The guerrilla chief Kinchelve, and fifteen of his men were recently captured on the Southern side of the Potomac, and have been sent to the Old Capitol prison.

Rumors were rife at Newbern on the 16th that fighting was going on in Raleigh, N. C., between the Unionists and rebel troops. It was reported previously that 3000 deserters, conscripts and Union refugees were a few miles north of Raleigh, ready to advance to the assistance of their friends.

The Savannah News says that the prisoners taken in the assault on Fort Sumter have been lodged in jail in Charleston.—So they will hardly be placed on the parapet of the fort.

The official reports of the disaster at Sabine Pass do not differ materially from those previously published.

A Mobile paper reports that on Saturday last the Union forces heavily shelled Grant's Pass, the rebel batteries making no reply. This pass is a channel between the main land and the island on which Fort Gaines is situated, and is the old steamboat route to New Orleans. This movement was regarded as the precursor of an early attack on the city.

Telegrams from Gen. Rosecrans, 24th, give additional assurance that he can be assailed only by a regular siege. His purpose seems to be to resume offensive operations; while, apparently, the rebels are concentrating and fortifying in Chattanooga Valley. The Richmond papers, after all, speak dolefully of the results of the recent battles. For example, the Dispatch says that "the people but too well remember Murfreesboro', and how the glorious promise of one day was turned to sorrow by the dispatch of the next. They see Chattanooga in all its strength directly in front of Bragg, and they wish to see it return to his possession before they give way to joy." It also speaks of the capture of East Tennessee as the hardest blow to them since the beginning of the war: two-thirds of their nitre beds, and a large proportion of the coal which supplies their foundries, are there; and it abounds in the necessaries of life.

A Mr. Shank, correspondent of the N. Y. Herald, gives an account of the battle of Chattanooga, in which he talks up Gen. Thomas, and indirectly talks Gen. Rosecrans down, as if he wanted to make it out the greatest victory to the one and the greatest defeat to the other possible.

Col. Straight and all his officers and men have been removed from Georgia dungeons to Richmond, and are now treated as other prisoners of war. This change has been wrought by retaliatory measures adopted by our government. John Morgan will be held for exchange for Gen. Neal Dow.

☞ The Journal de St. Petersburg, of Sept. 9, denies the rumors published by the foreign press, concerning the new arrangements by Russia relative to Polish and German affairs. Speaking of the alleged radical reforms and new alliances, it says:

The conclusions drawn from these pretended advices are as false as their premises. In Poland the Emperor, whose sentiments on the Polish question are unchanged, considers his first duty to be the establishment of solid and material order, founded on the ground subverted by anarchical passions.—From a diplomatic point of view the government remains determined to fulfil its international obligations, and at the same time to maintain the rights of Russia within the limits of treaties. As regards German affairs, Russia sympathizes with the union of the strength of Germany, based on the interests of all the states of which that country is composed. Russia has no more reason to provide against the dangers which might result to her from Germany, than Germany has to put herself on guard against dangers coming from Russia. The rumors which are circulated have, therefore, no foundation whatever."

☞ Bayard Taylor's sister was married in New York last week to a Swiss Chancellor of State.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Three hundred drafted men and substitutes from the camp in Concord, arrived in Boston on Thursday, and were sent to Long Island.

—— The following New Hampshire soldiers from South Carolina came home on Thursday on furloughs:

Sergt. J. Sullivan, Co. C. 3d Regt., of Manchester; Sergt. Samuel H. Reynolds, Co. A, 4th Regt., of Manchester; Sergt. Knowlton, Co. D, Corp. Hume, Co. E, and Sergt. Saccous, Co. E, 4th Regt.; Sergt. E. Sturtevant, Co. I, 7th Regt., of Manchester.

—— A general court martial, to try deserters and others amenable to military law, convened at Concord on the 22d inst.—The court is composed of the following named persons: Col. Hawkes Fearing, 8th regiment, President; Maj. R. E. Cross, 5th; Capts. R. F. Clark, 3d; W. A. Crafts, 5th; A. W. Hayes, 6th; John H. Ricker, 5th; Thomas J. Little, 1st Battalion Mass. Heavy Artillery; Lieuts. V. M. Hodgson, Invalid Corps; Judge Advocate, Capt. J. M. Chase, 7th N. H. The court was ordered by Gen. Dix, Commander of the Department of New England and New York.

MAINE ELECTION.—The Augusta Journal gives the result of the vote in 476 cities, towns and plantations, from the official returns of the vote, by which it appears that the majority for the Union Candidate for Governor, Samuel Cony, is 17,533. Coburn's majority in the same towns last year was 5,639. The total vote last year was 87,639. This year, 118,299. The Senate stands 30 for the Union to only 1 opposed. The House of Representatives stands 120 for the Union to 31 opposed.

The seats of 2 opposition Representatives are to be contested;—that of Henry K. Bradbury of Hollis, and F. O. J. Smith of Westbrook, both on the ground of fraudulent voting. The seat of Joseph E. Smith, as Senator from Lincoln county, will also be contested on the same ground.

☞ Gen. Scott is in good health, and writing without aid of spectacles a history of his campaigns.

☞ The President has issued a proclamation declaring Alexandria open to loyal trade.

☞ Blessed old Izaak Walton is to have a monument erected to his memory by the anglers of Stafford, Eng.

☞ Snow fell to the depth of an inch, at Michigan City, Indiana, on the night of Sept. 18, and great damage to the crops was apprehended.

☞ General Grant has recovered from the injuries he received by falling from his horse in New Orleans, and has gone to Vicksburg.

☞ The 100th Anniversary of the Old South Church of Worcester, Mass., was celebrated on Thursday last, on which occasion a sermon was preached by Rev. Leonard Bacon, D. D.

☞ One of the Boston Banks a day or two ago presented each of its clerks with $200, as a mark of appreciation for the faithful discharge of their duties for the past year.

☞ A big negro burglar broke into a little Frenchman's lodgings in New York a night or two since, and, while helping himself to plunder, was stabbed to the heart by the little Gaul, whose wife handed him a huge carving knife for that express purpose.

THE NOYES EMBEZZLEMENT. — One hundred and twenty thousand dollars is now said to be the amount of the defalcation of the Superintendent of the Maine Central R. R. The amount has increased amazingly since the first disclosures.

☞ The Amesbury, Mass., Villager, complains that "a portion of the public continue to insist that the post office is a place instituted for the "fellers and gals" to congregate in and laugh and chat and smoke and spit tobacco juice." These certainly are bad practices for the "gals."

LARGE LAW SUIT.—The heirs-at-law of Mrs. Croxswell, an early settler in Belvidere, N. J., are about commencing suit, in the United States Supreme Court, to recover the property owned by the Croxswells in that place, which was entailed to Mrs. Croxswell from her father during her life, by deed, and after her death to heirs. The property claimed embraces the business portion of Belvidere, including the water power of the real estate, whereon are erected the mills, the Court House, all but one of the churches and three hotels, embracing altogether about five hundred acres of land. The decision will rest upon the construction placed upon the law in regard to entails.

☞ The N. Y. Tribune's Washington correspondent says:—

Letters from Europe contradict the rumor that the Provisional Government of Mexico has sent a special agent to Richmond to establish friendly relations. The pretended departure of Vice President Stephens to bargain Texas and Louisiana for armed intervention of France, is also a canard. Not the least credit is to be given to rumors of the recognition of the South by France. The French government positively disclaims any such intention, and the subject has never been introduced in Cabinet council.

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

Collected and Collated — By UNCLE TOBY.

Indian War, 1720–23.—Gov. Shute leaves for England.

The aurora borealis, or northern lights, was first noticed in New England on the 11th of December, 1719. The appearance was very remarkable, and struck the minds of the beholders with surprise. The corruscations were distinctly heard, and the northern hemisphere seemed to be on fire.

In 1720, the Indians committed so many acts of hostility that several persons were obliged to leave their habitations and remove to more settled parts of the country. Scouting parties were sent out, which kept them under some restraint.

All the mischiefs perpetrated by the Indians were attributed to Ralle. He had them so absolutely under his control, that they undertook no expedition without his direction, or consent. It was thought that if he could be arrested and brought off, they would be peaceable; but how to accomplish this design, was attended with difficulty. They could not expect to effect it by surprise; an open force would meet with opposition, and war had not yet been declared by either party.

A conference was held in 1721 at the garrison commanded by Captain Penhallow, on Arrowsic Island, between him and the Indians, at which Ralle and two other missionaries were present; but it ended without coming to any friendly conclusion.—The English attempted to have another conference with them, without the presence of the French priests, but did not succeed.

In the winter, a party commanded by Colonel Thomas Westbrook were sent to Norridgewolk to seize Ralle. They approached near his house undiscovered; but he had sufficient notice of their intention to escape from them, and conceal himself in the woods. They searched his house and found his trunk, which was of a curious construction, covered with brass plate and secured with two locks. It contained a secret apartment, which was not easily discovered even after the trunk was opened. In this apartment were found the letters from the Governor of Canada to Ralle, requesting him to excite the Indians to war, and promising to supply them. Disappointed in the principal object of their expedition, they returned home without doing any other injury than bringing off the trunk and papers.

March 26, 1722, the town "voted, that the village of New Portsmouth be divided amongst the inhabitants of the town of Portsmouth, according to their town-rate in the year of 1721; and no man be accounted an inhabitant but those persons who have been rated the four years last past."

Ralle highly resented the attempt to make him a prisoner, and excited the Indians to avenge the insult. They became more active in their attacks upon the defenceless inhabitants, took several prisoners whom they sent to Canada, and at length destroyed the town of Brunswick. Upon this the Governments of Massachusetts and New Hampshire made a formal declaration of war against them, which was proclaimed in this town on the 25th of July. Every necessary precaution was adopted for defence against their inroads. The garrisons were well supplied with provisions and military stores, and scouting parties were kept on the alert to check the progress of the enemy. Lieutenant Governor Wentworth exerted himself to have every preparation for the service made in season.—He visited the garrisons in person, encouraged the soldiers to a faithful discharge of their duty, and made every provision in his power for their comfortable subsistence and prompt pay. The General Court acknowledged his unremitted attention to the interests of the province, and made him frequent grants of money.

The right of ferriage between the town of Portsmouth and Kittery had always been claimed by the town, but their right was not founded on any legislative or legal grant. This year they chose a committee to sue for and get the ferry, and to let out the same by lease, for five or seven years.

The administration of Governor Shute had given satisfaction to the inhabitants of this province, but in Massachusetts there was a violent opposition to him, which kept him in a continual state of uneasiness and perplexity. He obtained leave to return to England, and sailed on the 1st of June, 1723. He was naturally of a humane, obliging, and friendly disposition; but impatient of contradiction and easily irritated. His departure was unexpected, and Lieutenant Governor Wentworth became Commander-in-chief.

In the course of the summer the Indians appeared in several of the neighboring towns, killed a number of persons, and took a few prisoners; but they did not visit this place.

☞ The Farmington, Me., Chronicle says, ice formed in that town on Tuesday evening.

☞ The Charleston Mercury hopes the rebel Generals will "sweep through the Northern cities, leaving only the blackened chimneys standing."

THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION, for the State of Massachusetts, met at Worcester, on Thursday, in very large numbers.—Gov. Andrew was nominated for re-election, and so was the entire State Ticket, each candidate by acclamation.

THE BOSTON

AERATED BREAD CO.

Call the attention of the intelligent public of Portsmouth to the NEW PROCESS OF BREADMAKING, now in full and successful operation at

1010 Washington St, corner Concord,

by which they have supplied to them an

made entirely by machinery, without the use of yeast, or any chemical or deleterious agent.

FERMENTATION

destroys from TEN to FIFTEEN per cent. of the constituent or nutrition elements of the flour, and deteriorates the whole, by the chemical change necessary for the production of the "Carbonic Acid Gas," which is the agent that makes ALL bread light.—Fermented bread is often more or less sour, and always injurious to the digestive organs, while the process is so uncleanly as to disgust the taste.

Unfermented Bread

Is made wholly by machinery, by a process which preserves all the SWEETNESS, NUTRITION and AROMA of the wheat, NEVER BECOMES SOUR, and will keep moist and fresh for many days. It AGREES WITH THE MOST DELICATE STOMACH, even when eaten hot from the oven, and is recommended by the Medical Profession in America and Europe as a ☞ Capt. George Frank Towle, Co. F, 4th N. H. Regiment, after the capture of Morris Island, was appointed by Gen. Gilmore, Inspector-General of the 1st Brigade, and has, therefore been detached from the regiment since that time. Capt. Towle is confessedly one of the best,—perhaps the best line officer in the regiment, and it would gratify his friends here in his native city, while it would be merely an act of justice to him, if he were promoted to a field appointment. He is an educated soldier, having graduated at the Military College of Tennessee, at a time when it was second only to West Point. At the time of the rebel attack on Fort Sumter he was engaged in surveying in Texas, and was compelled to leave that State on account of his unflinching loyalty to his country. He, therefore, started one night on a horseback ride of 900 miles, to Kansas,—a ride occupying fifty days, and attended with much danger and hardship, and many narrow escapes. He passed through them all, however, safely, and returned finally to this State, just in time to join the 4th N. H. regiment, as Lieutenant. Since then he has shared its fortunes. He has maintained a high rank in the regiment as an officer, both as regards efficiency and discipline.

At the capture of Fernandina, Fla., Gen. Wright selected him for Provost Marshal of that place, although he had but just been promoted to the position of Captain in the regiment. At St. Augustine he was selected for the same position, and while there, he conducted a boat expedition, comprising 40 men, 20 miles through a hostile country, and captured a schooner trying to run the blockade.

As stated above he is now Inspector General of the 1st Brigade, at Morris Island.—Should any change be made in the field officers of the regiment, by promotion or otherwise, as now seems probable, we trust that Capt. Towle will be advanced to such a position as his efficiency, courage and loyalty entitle him to receive and fit him to occupy.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, on Thursday evening, the committee to whom was referred the subject of paying the bounty of $300 to such enlisted men at Fort Constitution as were drafted, reported the opinion of the City Solicitor that they were not entitled to said bounty; which report was accepted.

The committee to whom was referred the communication of the Provost Marshal, presented a lengthy written report, which was accepted.

The Building Committee of the Hook & Ladder House reported that the building was finished, and were authorized to turn it over to the Engineers.

LEVEES OF THE LILLIPUTIANS:—Of course every body will go to see the little folks at the Temple to-day, and of course every body will be delighted. The Boston Post recently, in speaking of their levees in Boston said:—

The levees of the Lilliputians commenced at Tremont Temple yesterday. As we anticipated, the spacious hall was thronged, and by delighted crowds. The General's little wife looked charming, and was the observed of all observers. She is as pretty as a Venus and as graceful as a Queen. Minnie her sister, is hardly less attractive, while the General and the Commodore are as entertaining as ever. All things considered, they are the most extraordinary persons that have ever yet appeared before the public. The Commodore's performances delight everybody. He is a sort of universal genius—can sing, dance, make speeches, &c. The whole troupe appear in a variety of costumes, and make themselves as agreeable and entertaining as possible.

THE WAY OF THE TRANSGRESSOR, &c. A man who gave his name as Wm. Holden Howes enlisted at the Provost Marshal's office, in this city, as a substitute for John H. Brown, of Seabrook, and was duly forwarded to Concord. After being there a few days he deserted. On Thursday information was received that he was seen in Boston. Mr. Kent, of the Marshal's office, left here in the 11 o'clock train in pursuit of him, and safely lodged him in Jefferson Hall in the evening. Deserters from this district have to be pretty sharp to keep away long. His true name is S. L. Lymon.

☞ A friend in Kittery informs us that Jeremiah Ilsley has been appointed Superintendent of the work on Fort McClary, vice Thomas Woodfall, removed, to the great joy of loyal men, who rejoice that the copperhead dynasty has ceased to rule over the workingmen there.

☞ Paymaster Charles H. West, of Concord, recently returned from a two years' cruise in the U. S. Schooner Jas. S. Chambers, blockading the eastern coast of Florida, has been ordered to the Vandalia, receiving ship at the Portsmouth Navy Yard.

☞ We don't know who the serenaders were about town Thursday night—but the morning stars never sang together sweeter, and the music of the spheres isn't more harmonious. And on such a night, too!"

☞ The Aerated Bread, advertised elsewhere, is a superb article,—well worthy the attention of all housekeepers and others.—Don't fail to try it.

☞ See Auction column for various sales to-day.

It is supposed by some that the Prince of Wales visited this country in part to obtain a package of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus. Whether he did or not, it would do honor to the Queen's table to have as nice light Biscuit as that article always makes. If any one has any doubts on the subject, go to your Grocer and get a paper immediately, and find out for yourself, if there is nothing like it. Everybody sells it.

$100 REWARD!

For a Medicine that will cure COUGHS, INFLUENZA, TICKLING IN THE THROAT, WHOOPING COUGH, Or relieve CONSUMPTIVE COUGHS, as quick as COE'S COUGH BALSAM.

OVER FIVE THOUSAND BOTTLES have been sold in its native town, and not a single instance of its failure is known. We have, in our possession, any quantity of certificates, some of them from EMINENT PHYSICIANS,
who have used it in their practice, and gives it the pre-eminence over any other compound.

It does not dry up a Cough, but loosens it, so as to enable the patient to expectorate freely.

☞ Two or three Bottles will invariably cure TICKLING IN THE THROAT.

A HALF Bottle has often completely cured the most STUBBORN COUGH.

And yet, though it is so sure and speedy in its operation, it is perfectly harmless, being purely vegetable. It is very agreeable to the taste, and may be administered to children of any age.

In cases of CROUP we will guarantee a cure, if taken in season. No Family should be without it. It is within the reach of all, the price being
ONLY 25 CENTS!

And if an investment and thorough trial does not "back up" the above statement, the money will be refunded. We say this, knowing its merits, and feel confident that one trial will secure for it a home in every household.

Do not waste away with Coughing, when so small an investment will cure you. It may be had of any respectable druggist in town, who will furnish you with a circular of genuine certificates of cures it has made.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ Gov. Bradford of Maryland advocates the calling of a convention in that State, to revise the Constitution, so as to remove all obstacles to the abolition of slavery. He thinks the conviction has been slowly but surely maturing in the minds of the people for years past, that the future growth and prosperity of the State demanded a change in their system of labor, and the events of the last two years have only served to show the necessity of providing for that change with the least possible delay.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 BINDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, he has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND GLEET.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrotula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of pubes, inflammation and irritation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this disease, so fully made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D., devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins both mind and body, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Cough, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded, loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, nervous apprehensions, aversion to society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Catholic, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important!

To Females in Delicate Health.

Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other monstrous derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of Diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1835, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Bindicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FEMALE PRUNE. Order by mail. Price $1 and a red stamp.

GOLDEN SHEAF WHISKEY.

The subscriber, having been engaged for the last twenty years in the importation and sale of Wines and Spirits, now finds from this experience that our

Pure Bourbon Whiskey,

General Selling Agency for a large Distillery in Bourbon County, Kentucky, and in future will sell, under the brand of

"Golden Sheaf,"

This celebrated Whiskey will be put up in cases containing one dozen bottles each, and offered to the Trade by his Travelling agents throughout the country, and also kept on hand in his warehouse in Boston, in barrels, half barrels and kegs.

Individuals desirous of procuring a pure, reliable article of BOURBON WHISKEY, at a reasonable price, have only to inquire of any respectable Grocer or Druggist for "GOLDEN SHEAF WHISKEY," or to send their orders for any quantity required to the General Depot for its sale, 91 Washington St., Boston.

THE BEST COOK STOVE

IN THE MARKET,

AFTER ALL SAID,

—IS—

STEWART'S

NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT,

SUMMER AND WINTER

COOKING STOVE,

For Wood or Coal,

—IMPROVED IN 1859.—

The peculiarities of the

STEWART COOK STOVE,

Embracing the latest improvements, briefly stated, are as follows:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, upon the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward movable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove from the time the article is set in until it is removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a patent Reservoir (of copper, with a tin casing) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c.

4. Also, by the aid of the FOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DOVER OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire-box; and the fumes, meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

7. By the aid of the perforated metallic linings, or "gas burning arrangement," and application of the full summer draw, the various culinary processes may be carried forward successfully with a single stick of wood at a time.

8. In regard to DURABILITY, the Stewart Stove is made to last, and will last. The structural form is such that the frame work of it can not burn out.

All the plates constituting the original STEWART STOVE, which was brought out twenty years ago, are still made, and sent to different parts of the country, on call.

The price of QUIETNESS, COMFORT and HEALTH secured to a family by the use of a culinary apparatus perfectly adapted to their wants, cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents.

But we can not, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of the STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE

Now in use, which has been widely tested

FOR TWENTY YEARS,

and not found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made its improvements, so that the Stewart Stove of 1863 is as superior to that of 1841, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

For the Chronicle.

The Dying Soldier to His Mother.

I'm dying, mother, dying;
Life's blood is ebbing fast;
The comrades round me lying
Have ere dy gone to rest.
I soon shall join the number
Of patriots, true and brave,
Who now so calmly slumber
Within a soldier's grave.

But grieve not, darling mother,
'Tis not so hard to die!
And though you're alone now, mother,
There's yet a God on high!
Who guards each little sparrow,
And shields each helpless worm—
Will surely heal your sorrow
And keep you from all harm.

Forgive each harsh word spoken,
Forgive each unkind thought;
The worldly spell is broken—
A heavenly change is wrought.
I'll be in spirit near thee,
Will whisper words of love,
Until the angels bear thee
To the bright realms above.

There we shall see each other
Again, to part no more.
In Heaven I'll meet thee, mother,
To love thee evermore.
My eyes grow dim and, closing,
Death's messenger thy hail.
I go—In death reposing,
Say "Mother dear, farewell!" P. W. E.

☞ The rebels wish for victories in the field, that the copperheads may be victorious at the polls—knowing that both these events would strengthen the rebellion, weaken the government, and they hope destroy the Union and establish the Confederacy. In proof of this, read the following item:—

Richmond papers of the 22d have been received. The Enquirer, in a letter headed "Victory in Georgia," says:—"Charleston and Chattanooga are the only places where the enemy present the least appearance of fight. Defeated at Chattanooga and driven back upon Nashville, the Vallandigham men would carry the election in Ohio with little difficulty. The peace men in the United States would once more assert their manhood and speak out as they did before the late disasters had checked their utterances. But it is not among the peace men of the United States that a victory at Chattanooga would most tell upon the cause. Here at home its effect will be the greatest. It will reanimate our people."

Let every loyal man, who, for the sake of any party attachment would vote for Vallandigham, or such as he, consider that he thereby helps the rebels, and so prolongs the war, sheds more blood and wastes more treasure.

☞ On Friday last Andrew Felt, son of Mr. Andrew Story of Essex, Mass., met with a serious accident. He and his father were at work mowing, and the son having laid down his scythe, accidentally stepped on the snaith which brought the point of the scythe upward; he then fell on the scythe, the point entering the left thigh, near the groin, making a horrid wound and cutting to the bone. He was taken to the nearest house, and medical aid procured and his wounds dressed, but such were the injuries he received that he died the next day.—He was sixteen years of age, and greatly beloved by his associates.

EASTERN STOCK RAISING.—The Bangor Whig says the droves of cattle from the east-ward—from Aroostook County and the adjacent parishes of New Brunswick—have been numerous there for the past few weeks. Droves of from 100 to 400 head have passed through the city for the west as often as two or three times a week.

A NEW FLANNEL FACTORY.—We learn that a company has been organized in this village to engage in the manufacture of flannel, the capital stock for which has already been taken up. Patten's Tannery has been purchased for the location of the mill, and a brick building is soon to be erected. The machinery will be run by steam. Many of our most successful business men have taken stock in the enterprise.—Amesbury, Mass., Villager.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

A dispatch from Gen. Rosecrans says he made a reconnoissance along the enemy's lines on Thursday afternoon and found him in force. The enemy did not resist the advance of our reconnoitering column, which returned to its quarters after having accomplished the object of the movement, which proved to be of considerable importance.

The N. Y. Times' Washington dispatch states that Gen. Rosecrans, in his dispatches, imputes the loss of the battle to disobedience of orders on the part of Gen. McCook, who failed to occupy an important position assigned him.

The Nashville Union says: "Gen. Burnside has reached the point where he was expected to prevent the flank movement of the enemy."

Col. Wilder, of Gen. Rosecrans' cavalry, has arrived at Nashville. He reports that matters in front are much more favorable than is believed at the North.

The Washington Republican announces glorious news from Gen. Rosecrans, but declines to give details. It is based upon dispatches which left Rosecrans on Friday noon.

119 prisoners, captured recently south of the Rapidan, reached Washington on Friday. A large number of them were taken within 7 miles of Gordonsville. They include several officers.

The whole army of the Potomac was in motion on Saturday; and a large number of transports were loading with great activity at Alexandria. Richmond is said to be almost defenceless.

The Government has taken possession of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, and no more travel for civil purposes is allowed.

A Washington dispatch states that Gen. Hooker has been assigned to an important command.

WHAT CHATTANOOGA IS.—The Richmond Whig of the 23d in an editorial claims a victory in Northern Georgia for Gen. Bragg, but says: "We suppress exultation at the thought of what yet remains to be done, and the possibility of losing all that has been gained by failing to complete the work. Situated as Rosecrans is, the victory that does not disperse or capture his whole army is a lost opportunity. If he is permitted to hold Chattanooga, then our victory will be without profit, and we have to mourn that so many brave men have died in vain, and chiefly that the gallant Hood has sealed his faith with his blood. Rosecrans must not only be beaten in battle, but he must be destroyed or driven from East Tennessee; otherwise the battle had not as well been fought.

If this stronghold is not wrenched from him now, it will hardly be hereafter. If he holds it he holds a point d'appui from which he may at any moment strike at the very vitals of the Confederacy. He holds a region pestilent with dissatisfaction, that needs only the presence of a Yankee army to ripen into full treason. He holds the country that must supply meat for our army, nitre for our powder-mills and coal and iron for many of our manufacturing establishments. The possession of that country is of indispensable necessity to us; it is the prize for which Bragg is contending until he has won it. We can but rejoice with fear and trembling over what he has done. If he win, it will be the most superb achievement of the war."

☞ The British prize steamship Juno was captured Sept. 22, off Wilmington, North Carolina, by the gunboat Connecticut, after a four hours' chase, in which the gunboat Connecticut fired about thirty rounds of shell and solid shot. The Juno hove over-board part of her cargo of cotton. She is a side-wheel iron vessel, ten years old, with engines of 400 horse power, and was built at Bristol, England. Her cargo consists of 200 bales of cotton, three tons of tobacco, and a small quantity of turpentine, which, together with the vessel, is valued at $100,000.

☞ Gen. Burnside, the Washington Republican says, tendered his resignation not on account of any personal or political grievances, but from a desire to attend to his private affairs. Having finished his campaign in Tennessee, he thought he might be relieved from service. The President thought otherwise; and at his request Gen. Burnside has patriotically consented to remain at the head of his command.

A FIZZLE.—The Tribune says that on Thursday night R. S. Tharn of Alabama undertook the extraordinary task of demolishing Chas. Sumner's oration on Our Foreign Relations at the Cooper Institute, New York. His audience was one female and forty-seven men, and the orator refused to waste his breath on such a very small number of hearers—so Sumner still lives.

☞ The Lewiston Journal says a deserter who was converted at the Camp meeting at Northport, went immediately to the military authorities and confessed his sins.

☞ A correspondent of the New York Tribune says the Texas expedition set sail for another point on the Texas coast immediately on its return.

17TH N. H. REGIMENT.

CAMP 2D REGT. N. H. V.,
Point Lookout, Md., Sept. 22.

Messrs. Editors:—On Tuesday last those members of this regiment who were transferred from the 17th N. H. V., left our camp for Concord, to be mustered out of the U. S. service. As it may be of some interest to their friends to know how well they performed their duty while with us, I send you a copy of an order issued by Col. Bailey, and read to the regiment on the morning of their departure. C. E. P.

HEADQUARTERS 2D REGT. N. H. V.,
Point Lookout, Md., Sept. 22d.

General Order, No. 14.

Soldiers of the 17th N. H. V.,

You are about to part with your comrades of the 2d for the more peaceful and happier atmosphere of your domestic firesides. Aroused by the necessities of your country, you assembled under a gallant and accomplished leader, with justly high hopes to lead with him a brilliant career, carving bright honors from the field of battle, with which to wreathe the proud banners of your regiment; but these cherished anticipations were not to be realized. After months of uncertainty, in obedience to orders from the Hon. Secretary of War, the 17th and 2d N. H. regiments were consolidated on the 16th day of April, since which time you have labored patiently and harmoniously. You had no choice in your disposition. You were not the electors of place; yet though not sent to battle under the most favorable circumstances you have comported yourselves as men should, and have secured the respect and friendship of your companions and officers.

Your term of service, though short, has been eventful. You will return to the quiet of your pleasant homes with the proud satisfaction that your career has embraced participation in one of the most arduous campaigns, and the hardest fought and most glorious battle, in its results, of any of this war. Called to sustain a part which tested your patriotism and valor, the ordeal prepared for you was the occupancy of the most exposed position; during that terrible contest you stood firmly shoulder to shoulder with the familiars of fifteen battles, fighting as valiantly. Ten of your comrades sleep where no sounds shall awaken them, till the reveille of the angel band summons them to join the ranks of that host of hosts, whose enlistment is forever and ever. I would thank you for the brave, prompt and efficient performance of your duty, your respect and cheerful obedience of all orders, which has marked your conduct uniformly during the period I have had the honor of being connected with you in the capacity of commander. You return to your homes with some pleasant reminiscences mingled with your recollection of toil, hardship and danger; ere long to be followed by your remaining comrades, who I trust are soon to witness the death of that Hydra, Rebellion, and be permitted to assume the garb of peace.

ED. L. BAILEY, Col. 2d N. H. V.

☞ At the Massachusetts Republican State Convention at Worcester on Thursday, Mr. Dana, in his speech, said:—

We do not go into this canvass to see who is going to be Governor, or to elect Gov. Andrew; but we go for the purpose of counting up as many myriads of a majority as we can, and of conveying the strongest rebuke to the enemies of our institutions that it is possible for us to do.

The resolutions, adopted with cheers, pledge the meeting to the continued support of the National Government in putting down the rebellion, and that they have "no apprehension whatever that in a contest like this, between slavery and liberty, any of the rights of the citizen will be lost, or any of the old landmarks of personal freedom destroyed."

Resolved, That we express our hearty thanks to the soldiers and sailors of the Union for their services; we congratulate them on their successes, and promise them our sympathy, encouragement and support in their heroic hardships and sufferings.

The resolutions also approve of the Emancipation Proclamation as a military measure of good results; disapprove of peace negotiations with rebels, but welcome Union men of the South; and approve the employment of colored soldiers.

Resolved, That the secession of a State under our political system has no legality and no legal meaning whatever. It is but another name for rebellion; and rebels are not entitled to the privileges of the Union, while they are still liable to all its obligations and duties. And inasmuch as slavery was the sole cause of the revolt, and as while slavery exists there can be no permanent peace in the Union, it is the duty of Congress and the Executive to insist that the practical extinguishment of slavery throughout the rebel confederacy shall follow as fast as possible upon its legal and official death. Let the restored nation be made prosperous and glorious by a union of free States, under a republican form of government which is guaranteed to them by the Constitution, and with which experience has proved the existence of slavery is wholly incompatible.

The resolutions make no mention of the republican party, and it is scarcely alluded to in the published speeches.

☞ The Charleston papers have already stated that the steamer Sumter was sunk in Charleston harbor, but they did not state in what manner. The Burmuda Gazette states that the Sumter, alias Gibralter, was fired into by Fort Moultrie, the rebels probably mistaking her for a Federal man-of-war.—The same authority says there were 630 persons on board at the time, all but 20 of whom were saved.

☞ Gen. Halleck's grandfather, Jabez Halleck, has recently died at Western New York, at the ripe old age of one hundred and three years.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Edward Nelson, aged 14, suspected of having fired buildings in Hopkinton, has been committed to the House of Reformation, as a vagrant. There was not sufficient evidence to convict him of incendiarism.

—— The Statesman says that whatever feeling other than of an amicable nature arose upon the displacement of President Lord, it has passed away, and that the new President will realize in his predecessor as cordial a friend in his new sphere, as he was found to be to him when a student in the institution over which he is now called to preside.

—— The 6th and 9th N. H. Regiments have been relieved from field duty. These regiments became much shattered from the severity of the Vicksburg campaign, and will now have an opportunity to recover from its hardships. The 6th is at Frankfort, the capital of Kentucky, doing provost duty, where it will probably remain some time. Maj. Phin P. Bixby commands the Post. The 9th is at Paris, Ky., guarding the railroad.

—— Col. J. H. Potter of the 12th, has been promoted to Major of the 19th U. S. Infantry, his commission dating back to July 4th. Col. Potter was captured after being wounded at Chancellorsville, was released on parole and has not yet been exchanged. He still retains his position as Colonel of the 12th.

—— A correspondent of the Manchester American mentions two recent cases of elopement in this State, which at least are somewhat deplorable. One occurred in Plymouth and the second in Holderness.—He gives the circumstances as follows:—

A few days ago, Mr. Greely, one of the landlords of the Pemigewassett House, had occasion to make a business visit to Concord, and for the purpose took some $2000 belonging to various individuals and to the firm.—About the same time a lady boarding at the Hotel, a Mrs. Holmes, whose husband does a travelling business in this section of the State, started on a journey to Vermont, to pass a few weeks with relatives in that State. The former went away with only a carpet-bag in hand, but soon after his departure it was discovered that his entire stock of clothing had been spirited away. The lady managed to get her wardrobe into three or four trunks, and being privileged thus to take her all, excited little attention. Suspicion was aroused too late to ascertain the whereabouts of the eloping pair. Mr. Greely was a bachelor, and for some time scandal has associated him with Mrs. Holmes in not too reputable intimacy. The affaire naturally creates much talk and no little surprise, considering the social position of the parties, in which respect it is only equalled by the elopement of Mr. Smith, a member of the Legislature, and proprietor of the well known Whiton place just over the river in Holderness, with the daughter of a neighboring farmer, who had been his hired girl. It took place immediately after the adjournment of the Legislature.—During the session, the girl was a table waiter at the Eagle in Concord, and greatly astonished her associates with the number and richness of her silks and satins.

☞ On the evening of Aug. 29 there was a meeting of the Union Association of New Orleans, at which Hon. Rufus Waples delivered an address. The Era says he entertained and delighted the assemblage, as was evidenced by the frequent bursts of applause which interrupted him throughout the entire length of his address. As a specimen of the sentiments he advanced, we quote the following:—

In regard to the cause of the war, he claimed that slavery was the main cause, although there were minor ones, and in order to effectually put it down, the cause must be eradicated. He then argued that slavery, viewing it in a moral light should be abolished, and his audience was of the same opinion, as they sufficiently proved by their enthusiasm. He then took up the legality of the question, and asserted that it never, constitutionally, existed in any State. In no State constitution was there a clause authorising slavery. It only existed by force—by mob law. Its advocates argue that it is right by custom—usage.—It had been so long recognized that it became a right. But it was in direct opposition to natural law, and nothing could become a right by usage, that was opposed to natural law—to the natural rights of mankind, and slavery was, in the very strongest sense.

The speaker believed that the revolted States should be held as Territories, and not admitted to their powers as States until they knocked at the Union and asked to be re-admitted, and were willing to come in under that clause of the Emancipation Proclamation in regard to Territories. Then the cancer of secession would be totally destroyed.

He closed by asking only that his words might be remembered, and that time be allowed to determine the truth of what he had advanced. He expected his sentiments would be unpopular, he said, but we are sure they were not so with his audience.

After he had taken his seat, a unanimous vote of thanks was tendered him.

☞ Considerable has been written about counterfeits of the postal currency, but all of them are wretched imitations. Out of two millions of postal currency that have been cancelled and burned, not two hundred dollars were counterfeit.

☞ The Marietta (Ga.) Rebel says that "President Davis was heard to exclaim in a circle of friends at the capital that he would snatch Tennessee from the clutches of the Abolitionists if it took the united armies of the South to accomplish it."

THE DYING SUMMER.

Dying Summer's gently gliding
Into Winter's frigid grave;
While the falling leaves are hiding
Beauties that around her wave!

Still, are gems of beauty glowing,
As the grove she tenenates,
With the floral wonders growing,
Wonders that her life creates!

Rich and gorgeous is the pillow
Where she lays her dying head,
'Midst gold-fruit ripe and yellow,
And the flowers blue and red.

Happy Summer, bright and airy,
Brilliant, transient—linger still;
With thee, life and fay and fairy
Vanish all from mount and rill!

Roses sweet, with dew-drops weeping,
Woo thee lingering to stay;
Stilly streams and cascades leaping
Bid thee not in haste away.

Laughing hours of sunny gladness,
Fall-winds still will blow away;
Leaving leaves to sigh in sadness,
As they wither day by day.

While the sultry Autumn's breathing
Perfume from each dewy flower,
Summer's hand is gently wreathing
Garlands for her parting bower.

Youthful June and July glories,
With their beauties pass away;
Serve but as memento mories
Of all pleasures bright and gay!

Notice is hereby given that the Draft for the First Congressional District of New Hampshire will be resumed on TUESDAY, the 29th day of September, at the Office of the Provost Marshal in Portsmouth, N. H.

The Draft for Belknap County will be made on Tuesday, the 29th, and for Carroll County on the 30th of September, 1863.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

EYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1863. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our home in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. mav26o

"Light, Sweet, and Nutritious!"

THE BOSTON

AERATED BREAD CO.

Call the attention of the intelligent public of Portsmouth to the NEW PROCESS OF BREADMAKING, now in full and successful operation at

1010 Washington St., corner Concord,

by which they have supplied to them an

made entirely by machinery, without the use of yeast, or any chemical or deleterious agent.

FERMENTATION

destroys from TEN to FIFTEEN per cent. of the constituent or nutrition elements of the flour, and deteriorates the whole, by the chemical change necessary for the production of the "Carbonic Acid Gas," which is the agent that makes ALL bread light.—Fermented bread is often more or less sour, and always injurious to the digestive organs, while the process is so unclean as to disgust the taste.

Unfermented Bread

Is made wholly by machinery, by a process which preserves all the SWEETNESS, NUTRITION and AROMA of the wheat, NEVER BECOMES SOUR, and will keep moist and fresh for many days. IT AGREES WITH THE MOST DELICATE STOMACH, even when eaten hot from the oven, and is recommended by the Medical Profession in America and Europe as a

CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA!

☞ Bakers, Grocers, Hotels, &c., in Portsmouth, will be supplied regularly every day.

The Agent of the Company is at the FRANKLIN HOUSE.

CALENDAR CLOCKS.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment; and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—To make a Cough Remedy thorough for all Throat and Lung Complaints, and to rid the mind of Climatic causes, when the great error has been the introducing of components which debilitate, and by such to restrain the greatest freedom of use, as the only true theory by which such complaints can be effectually cure, was the point made in this valuable preparation. Local.

☞ The examination of substitutes and the exemption of drafted men, from Strafford County, was concluded at the Provost Marshal's office in this city, on Saturday.

The Draft for Belknap County is ordered here, on Tuesday; and for Carroll County on Wednesday.

Among the various dodges attempted by drafted men here, was that of Dudley P. Bickford, of Durham, appearing instead of his son of the same name, and claiming exemption on account of age. But he wasn't "old" enough to come that here, at any rate; and was brought up with a round turn, and a threat of arrest for himself and son, for desertion and aiding the same.

We believe that but a single man of the 150 or more drafted from Dover, reported personally for duty. From Portsmouth, five or six went. In all, from Rockingham and Strafford Counties, about 35 reported for duty—and about 600 substitutes were sent.

☞ From the statement of the condition of the several Banks in New Hampshire, on the first Monday of September, as appears from the returns made to the office of the Secretary of State, we take the following in regard to the Portsmouth Banks:—

Bank of New Hampshire—Capital Stock actually paid in, $90,000; amount of debts secured the bank by pledge of its stock, $500; amount of all debts due the bank, $240,083.49; amount of specie in the vault, $5,340.06; amount of bills of other banks, and checks, $2,008; amount of deposits in the bank, $63,186.95; amount of deposits in other banks for the redemption of its bills, $1,711.43; amount of the bills in the bank then in circulation, $89,170.

Mechanics & Traders' Bank—Capital Stock, $98,700; debts secured by pledge of its stock, none; debts due the bank, $220,894.28; specie, $22,606.35; bills of other banks, $9,998; deposits, $105,595.11; deposits in other banks, $60,607.52; bills in circulation, $102,350.

Piscataqua Exchange Bank—Capital Stock, $100,000; debts secured by pledge of its stock, none; value of real estate belonging to the bank, $400; debts due the bank, $300,650.46; amount of debts due from Directors, $3,800, on interest; specie, $3,330.75; bills of other banks, $8,057.24; deposits, 137,866.71; deposits in other banks, $31,088.28; bills in circulation, $99,945.

Rockingham Bank—Capital Stock, $200,000; debts secured by pledge of its stock, none; real estate, $5,000; debts due the bank, $442,730.21; specie, $10,551.69; bills of other banks, $9,618.70; deposits, $133,539.07; deposits in other banks, $57,977.19; bills in circulation, $146,937.

SKATING PARK.—In a few weeks we shall have cold weather—frost, snow and ice. Now is the time to make arrangements for forming a Skating Club, and laying out the plans for a Skating Park. Shall we have such an institution this coming winter? All other large cities and towns have entered into this amusement, and have fine parks, clear of snow, on which young and old enjoy themselves through the winter. The South Pond is very available.—Works for flooding the ice can be soon erected. A small shed with seats to put on skates should be built, and a snow-plow, with a few men, will keep the ice clear.

This can all be done by a small donation from each one who participates in the amusement. Will some make a move in the matter?

LYCEUM.—An adjourned meeting of those desirous of having a course of lyceum lectures in this city, the coming winter, that the young folks and others may have some suitable entertainment, with instruction, on long evenings, will be held at No. 5, Congress street, this (Monday) evening, at 7 1-4 o'clock. All who feel interested, or have views to express, either regarding debating, an amateur legislature, or relative to what kind of lectures would be most desirable, are cordially invited to be present. S. B.

☞ The Portland Argus makes the following assertion:—

The average of the recent draft is one soldier out of twenty conscripts.

And in the same column it publishes the following:—

Government will realize 60,000 men from the 450,000 conscripted.

Putting this and that together, a slight discrepancy in the statements is apparent. Under certain circumstances, it is desirable for persons to have good memories.

There have been reports of the failure of the Alfred Bank, Me., but they are untrue. Owing to some paper held by the Bank which was not satisfactory to the Bank Commissioner, the President and Cashier have resigned, and S. C. Adams, of Newfield, and Wm. H. Conant, of Alfred, have been elected to the respective offices.—Their bills are received by our banks.—Biddeford Journal.

☞ The sum which Mr. A. T. Stewart, of New York, paid as 5 per cent on his income was $245,000, for which he drew his check. So states "Burleigh," the correspondent of the Boston Journal.

ATHLETICS.—At the 7th annual gathering of the New York Caledonian Club, Sept. 9, at which all the celebrated national games of Scotland are engaged in, the greatest achievements were the following:

The Heavy Stone, weighing 22 lbs., was thrown 25 feet, 8 inches.

The Light Stone, 16 lbs., was thrown 30 feet 9 inches.

The Heavy Hammer, 22 lbs., was thrown 71 feet 9 inches.

The Light Hammer, 16 lbs., was thrown 90 feet 4 inches.

The longest running jump was 16 feet 4 inches.

Longest standing jump, 9 feet 6 inches.

Vaulting with the pole—pole 12 feet in length—8 feet.

Standing high leap, over a horizontal bar, 4 feet 3 inches.

Running high leap, over horizontal bar, 5 feet 1 inch.

The hop, step and jump, 37 feet 2 inches.

The Club would be pardoned if they felt somewhat ashamed of the standing and the running jumps.

☞ The Aerated Bread, advertised elsewhere, is a superb article,—well worthy the attention of all housekeepers and others.—Don't fail to try it.

It is supposed by some that the Prince of Wales visited this country in part to obtain a package of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus. Whether he did or not, it would do honor to the Queen's table to have as nice light Biscuit as that article always makes. If any one has any doubts on the subject, go to your Grocer and get a paper immediately, and find of a truth that there is nothing like it. Everybody sells it.

☞ See yon fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (see the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below will prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and that SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

He also has the extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in due form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable talent and such untiring assiduity on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, to the BOARD OF, in which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

SINGING.—It is known to most of our citizens that by request of lovers of music in this city, Mr. Davis, of Concord, has opened a Singing School here, at Mercantile Hall. The first term of his two classes, closed last week; and the occasion was one of much interest and pleasure. The Hall is a very neat and appropriate place for the purpose, and was liberally decorated with beautiful bequets; while the piano used is a superb instrument, and was very skilfully played by Mr. Morey of Concord.

The singing was much enjoyed by the classes, and their friends present. Several of our practiced vocalists, who had too long hung their harps upon the willow, have found much enjoyment and improvement, in attending the evening class, even in so short a time; and one of our best singers remarked, that the performances of the children were remarkably fine, and that he had never heard a Juvenile Class so prompt and accurate in time.

At the close of the exercises, the assemblage was called to order by James P. Bartlett, Esq. and Frank W. Miller was called to the chair; when, after some remarks, the following resolutions were offered by Mr. Bartlett, and heartily adopted:—

Resolved, That it has afforded us great gratification to listen to the singing, this evening especially, of the children—their prompt and accurate time, and excellent tone, showing how much improvement is possible, even in twelve lessons.

Resolved, That the thanks of the parents and children are heartily due to Mr. Davis, for his indefatigable labors, which have so signally succeeded; and we hope he will continue the work he has so well begun in Portsmouth.

In response Mr. Davis stated, that he would, as desired, resume his Schools here, on the 30th Sept., and it will accordingly be seen, that his new Classes for children and adults, will open on Wednesday evening of next week. And we commend the opportunity to all parents and others who appreciate singing, as one not to be lost, to place their children or youth in charge of so competent and faithful an instructor.

THE LOSS OF A WIFE.

In comparison with the loss of a wife, all other bereavements are trifling. The wife! she who fills so large a space in the domestic heaven; she who buried herself so unwearingly for the precious ones around her; bitter, bitter is the tear that falls on her cold clay! You stand beside her coffin and think of the past. It seems an amber-colored pathway, where the sun shone upon beautiful flowers, or the stars hung glittering overhead. Fain would the soul linger there. No thorns are remembered save those your hands may unwillingly have planted. Her noble, tender heart lies open to your inmost sight. You think of her now as all gentleness, all beauty, all purity. But she is dead! The dead heart that had upon her bosom, rests in the still darkness upon a pillow of clay. The hands that have ministered so untiringly are folded, white and cold, beneath the gloomy portal. The heart whose every beat measured an eternity of love lies under your feet. The flowers she bent over with smiles bend now above her in tears, shaking the dew from their petals that the verdure around her may be kept green and beautiful.

There is no white arm over your shoulder, no speaking face to look up into the eye of love; no trembling lips to murmur, "Oh, it is too sad!"

There is so strange a hush in every room; no light footstep passing around. No smile to greet you at nightfall. And the old clock ticks and strikes, and ticks—it was such music when she could hear it! Now it seems a knell on the hours through which you watched the shadows of death gathering upon her sweet face.

And every day the clock repeats that old story. Many another tale it telleth, too—of beautiful words and deeds that are registered above. You feel—oh, how often—that the grave cannot keep her.

THE LEATHERY TURTLE.

We last week stated that the weight of this monster of the deep was 1209 lbs. It was so stated on the poster for his exhibition; but we afterwards heard that he had not then been weighed. On Saturday, before leaving for Newburyport, he was weighed by a sworn weigher, and his actual weight was found to be 980 lbs. As he had then been captured three days, and bled perhaps forty or fifty pounds, his actual weight was over a thousand pounds.

The Turtle had a "good run" at Salisbury Beach, on Wednesday, the receipts from his exhibition reaching $125.

LOOK OUT FOR BURGLARS.—The counting room of Messrs. Barker, Adams & Co., was broken open on Thursday night. The burglar first broke open the outer door, but finding the counting room door locked, he took a crow bar from the inside, and made entry through a window on the outside. The safe was not molested. The drawers of the desk were generally ransacked, but nothing of any value is missed.

The most extensive Furniture establishment in Boston, is probably that of Beal & Hooper, on Haymarket Square. The rooms present a flooring an acre in extent, in which in systematic order are displayed a rich variety of the latest fashions. Mr. Hooper being a Portsmouth man, of course takes a particular interest in the calls of purchasers from this section.

TAX ON SLAVERY.—We yesterday saw a check signed by a gentleman of this city for his income tax, filled as follows, "Pay tax on Slavery" 89 dollars and 30 cents. This is calling things by their right names.

Mr. Pierce and his coadjutors ought to look upon the rum they have helped to make and to warmed. But they will not. They are still playing the same game, and with the same hands as of old.

PRESENTATION.—Rev. Mr. Gage, who this week closes his ministry in the Whitefield Church, was the recipient on Wednesday of a beautiful and appriate present, consisting the new American Cyclopedia. The note accompanying the volumes was comprehensive and happy.—Newburyport Hd.

CITY OF PORTSMOUTH.
IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, Sept. 3, 1863.

The following Resolution was passed:

Resolved, That the citizens be requested not to have a BELLS TOLLED for FUNERALS at 12 o'clock; and to limit the tolling at the time of the funeral to five minutes.

A true copy from the record.
MARCELLUS BUFFORD, City Clerk.

THE BEST COOK STOVE
IN THE MARKET,
AFTER ALL SAID,
—IS—
STEWART'S
NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT,
SUMMER AND WINTER
COOKING STOVE,
For Wood or Coal,
IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the
STEWART COOK STOVE,
Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, viz:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will burn and smoulder and char, upon the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward moveable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving Season of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in Summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove from the time the article is put in until it is removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR (of copper, with a tin casing) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread yet to rise, fruit dried, &c.

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire-box; and the fumes, meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

7. By the aid of the perforated metallic linings, or "gas burning arrangement," and application of the full summer dress, the various culinary processes may be carried forward successfully with a single stick of wood at a time.

8. In regard to DURABILITY, the Stewart Stove is made to last, and will last. The structural form is such that the frame work of it can not burn out.

All the plates constituting the original STEWART STOVE, which was brought out twenty years ago, are still made, and sent to different parts of the country, on call.

The price of QUIETNESS, COMFORT and HEALTH secured to a family by the use of a culinary apparatus perfectly adapted to their wants, cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents.

But we can not, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of the STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE

Now in use, which has been widely tested
FOR TWENTY YEARS,

and not found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1863 is as superior to that of 1841, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.
There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.
The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.
For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.
We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.
The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable furnace, would invite those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.
For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, there is no tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.
The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.
To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some at great outlay, in improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other furnaces, is obviated in the
MAGEE FURNACE.
The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through perforations, which enter them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.
No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.
This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus smothering, while it increases the surface of radiation.
These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.
For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.
They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:
Samuel Cleaves, Esq., — Albert R. Hatch Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, — Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, — John Sise, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber,

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.
1st. It is stronger and lighter than any known material.
2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.
3d. When the arch is irregular we can by building out the depressions—which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.
4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.
5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a saucer, as when finished the surface presents one whole piece.
6th. While in all ways it is better, save in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

DR. A. P. STEVENS, Surgeon Dentist,
No. 5 Daniel St., Portsmouth,
Has had four years of practical experience in working this material, and will guarantee satisfaction in all cases entrusted to his care.

Daily Morning Chronicle

VOL. 23. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. TUESDAY SEPT. 29, 1863. NO. 77.

The Chronicle.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

☞ "The man who hesitates to support his government," says the Portland Press, "lest slavery shall be destroyed, affords convincing evidence that his devotion to slavery is stronger than his reverence for liberty." That is as true as the gospel of St. Mark, and such a man deserves the severest censure that can fall upon him. And it is equally true, if we reverse this, and say—"the man who hesitates to support his government lest slavery should not be abolished, affords convincing evidence that he loves the negro more than the white man, and abolition more than the country, and he is no better than a 'copperhead.'"

☞ There has been some talk in the papers and elsewhere, about fishermen's not enlisting in great number in the U. S. Navy. One writer says:

Were it not for the "contrabands," who have enlisted in large numbers since the commencement of the war, the Navy Department could not keep its present force afloat, setting aside the placing new vessels in commission.

The Boston Journal says:

"It is a fact that our fishing vessels are now mostly manned by foreigners, the American fishermen having in large numbers entered one or the other branch of the public service. Gloucester, our largest fishing town, has eleven hundred men in the army and about six hundred in the navy, comprising the flower of her population.—With such a record we submit that the insinuendoes which have been thrown out that our fishermen have not fully come up to their duty, do gross injustice to this large and truly patriotic class of the community."

Something like this is true of the smaller fishing towns.

☞ The Minnesota papers declare the Indian troubles in the Northwest to be serious, notwithstanding our recent victories A correspondent of the St. Paul Press, writing from the frontier, says that there are indications in every direction of the presence of hostile Indians; that they are bolder, more daring, and more desperate than ever; and that in spite of the punishment inflicted upon them, we have only "scotched the snake, not killed it."

☞ The number of carriages at Salisbury Beach on Wednesday, was about 1500.—Some less than last year, but all to be bad. Horse hire in Newburyport went up to $1.50 per mile, that day, and ox teams were used to carry passengers.

THE PEOPLE have declared for the Union in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Delaware, Kentucky, California and Nevada, since last fall, and the other loyal States will soon come into line.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as the cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicines failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named. ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may30

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Hooker left Washington on Monday, for active service.

Gen. Gilmore was still erecting siege guns on Friday. Boisterous weather interfered with active naval operations.

Rebel troops are moving in large numbers southward through Richmond, and deserters say the whole of Lee's army is going south.

A Memphis letter of the 23d says that a formidable expedition against Mobile, in which the iron clads from the Mississippi are to assist, is being inaugurated. The same letter says Sherman's corps is on its way to Gen. Rosecrans, and gives a rumor that McPherson's corps is also en route in the same direction. The two corps amount to some 40,000 men.

Advices from New Orleans represent military affairs as active. The expedition of Gen. Herron had been heard from. He has cleared the country between Red river and Port Hudson of the guerrilla parties who have been firing on our transports, and driven Gen. Green west of the Atchafalaya with considerable loss. Among the prisoners captured was a gentleman from the rebel government with important papers. An officer of the command states that Gen. Herron is quite sick and will be taken to New Orleans.

Our troops are doing considerable fighting in the Indian Territory, with uniform success. On the 19th, Col. Cloud, with 500 Kansas cavalry and a battery, attacked 2000 rebels under Gen. Cabell, in a strong fortified position, between Fort Smith and Perryville, where Gen. Blunt defeated the rebels under Cooper and Smith. The rebels were routed with considerable loss. At Dardonville on the 9th Cloud attacked 1000 rebels under Col. Stirman and defeated them, capturing their camp and a large quantity of commissary stores. Over 2000 Unionists had joined Cloud's command, anxious to serve in defense of their homes. From ten to fifty deserters reach Little Rock daily, who take the oath of allegiance and are then released.

Gen. Burnside was at Knoxville on Friday. He is said to be entirely safe in his present position, and by concentrating at Cumberland Gap he can repel any force.—His supplies are abundant and not liable to be cut off. Washington dispatches assert that he disobeyed the peremptory orders of the Government to reinforce Gen. Rosecrans, replying that he would aid him as soon as he had occupied Jonesboro'. But a Louisville dispatch states that the military authorities there say that he did not know of the impending battle between Rosecrans and Bragg until after it had been concluded, and that he could not have reinforced Rosecrans if he had known of it.

It is said that the Washington Chronicle's "good news from Gen. Rosecrans" was that reinforcements had reached him.

Q. M. Gen. Meigs, after examining Gen. Rosecrans' defences, declares that nothing but a siege can take them; and the enemy had made no movement in that direction up to Sunday afternoon.

The Government has requested newspaper editors to refrain from publishing at present any intelligence which may come to their knowledge of important army movements. It is enough that stirring events are close at hand.

☞ John Morrissey, the ex-prize fighter, while at the Troy House, recently, put a package of $7000 in bills under his pillow, slept on it, and forgot to take it away in the morning. The chambermaid discovered the treasure, and for her honesty in returning it John gave her $500.

A resident of Newport, a very poor man, found a wallet containing the sum of $300. He sought for the owner, and found him in the person of a well-to-do farmer from Narragansett, who was so delighted with his good luck in recovering his money, that he gave the poor man the extraordinary sum of five cents!

☞ Speaking of the bombardment of Charleston, and the destruction of Sumter by our guns the while Wagner lay between our batteries and that fort, and the shelling of Charleston from five miles' distance, the London Telegraph says:

"If the Americans are vain of being 'big,' why not do them the justice of confessing that they attain that adjective, in their contentions, their sufferings and their engines and methods of warfare? Twice in the course of this two years' struggle they have altered the complexion of the science of destruction—once on the water and once by land.

FALL ELECTIONS.—Fall elections to come off are as follows, and on the days designated:—

Ohio	October	13.
Pennsylvania	"	13.
Massachusetts	November	3.
New York	"	3.
Wisconsin	"	3.
Delaware	"	10.
Iowa	"	10.
Minnesota	"	10.

☞ It is a fact that secession is a Virginia notion, hatched, doubtless, in the noddle of some degenerate scion of one of the "first families." The following paragraph is printed as it appeared in a Virginia paper of 1795:—

"NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that in case the treaty entered into by that arch-traitor, John Jay, with the British tyrant, should by ratified (by the Senate) a petition will be presented to the next General Assembly of Virginia, at their next session, praying that the said State may recede from the Union, and be left under the government and protection of one hundred thousand free and independent Virginians."

What do the independent Virginians think, now that they have receded and seceded from the Union, and are enjoying the government and protection of Jeff. Davis and his hordes?

☞ The proposed testimonial to Gen. McClellan by the Army of the Potomac meets with opposition in the 60th New York regiment. The officers and men of this regiment have adopted resolutions characterizing the movement as a scheme for the political aggrandizement of Gen. McClellan, whom they do not believe to be deserving of political pre-eminence. They believe that history will do justice to the really deserving, think the project should be frowned upon by every soldier, and construe it as implying that Gen. McClellan needs such an expression to sustain him in the estimation of the people; and in view of Gen. McClellan's political associates among whom "Fitz John Porter is painfully conspicuous," they deem the circular an insult to both officers and men.

AN APPROPRIATE PRESCRIPTION.—A few days since a well known physician of New Orleans was met on the street by a friend of one of his patients, who informed him that the patient was getting worse, and asked for a new prescription. The doctor felt in his pocket for a piece of paper whereon to write the prescription, and failing to find any, he turned and pulled down a funeral notice from an awning post and wrote the prescription on that. As might have been expected, the patient was a corpse forty-eight hours afterwards. It is yet a matter of dispute whether it was the disease, the medicine or the death notice on which the prescription was written that did the work.

☞ Naval engineers hereafter are to be subjected to a severe test. On their arrival at any port the machinery under their charge is to be examined, and its condition is to determine their efficiency and fidelity in the discharge of their duties. The bad condition of the boilers of the Mercedita and State of Georgia led to the issue of an order of this import, and perhaps it is the only way in which incompetency and negligence can be exposed and punished.

☞ During the height of the great conflagration in Virginia City, Nevada territory, Aug. 28, a large dog rushed into a burning building, seized a woman who was stupefied with fear, and drew her forth into the street. While the spectators were still applauding his heroism, the brave dog ran into the house again, doubtless to make another rescue, but the ravenous flames closed in around him and he was seen no more.

☞ It is rumored that Maj. Gen. Howard, of Maine, is about to tender his resignation. We trust the rumor is unfounded, as Gen. Howard is one of the high-minded, energetic, loyal Generals whom it would be disadvantageous for the country to lose.—It is also said that Gen. Slocum, commanding the 12th army corps, has tendered his resignation.

☞ The Government has now on hand, in the arsenals, 700,000 stand of arms, 500,000 of which are effective, and the number is rapidly increasing. There are also on hand 2400 twenty-four and thirty-two pounder smooth bore cannon, which are rapidly being converted into effective guns by the rifling process.

☞ A marriage of a remarkable character took place at Alcester parish church recently. The bride, "Peggy Paine," found her way to the church on crutches, and was met at the church by the bridegroom, Geo. Smith. Their united ages amounted to 130 years. They were married in due form, and on leaving the church departed to their respective homes by different routes.

☞ The store of Curtis Stevens, at Gouldsboro', Me., with its contents, including quite a large stock of goods, the mail matter in the Post Office, and the papers belonging to the Custom House, were entirely destroyed by fire on Monday morning last. Supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

☞ The report that the Government has taken possession of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, is incorrect. The Government has not interfered with the regular through trains for either passengers or freight.

☞ The 1st of July there were 92,789 deserters from all the armies. Since the establishment of the Bureau of Deserters over 15,000 have been returned to their regiments.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— James Smith, a drafted man from this State, while being taken with a detachment in the cars to Boston, on the 14th, jumped out of a window and injured himself so severely that he died.

—— About 50 soldiers, formerly of the 17th regiment, arrived in Concord on Friday night, from the 2d regiment, their time having expired.

—— As an interesting item, we copy from the News Letter the fact that the weight of the triplets, with which Mr. and Mrs. George Rooney, of Exeter, were blessed last week, was exactly 13 pounds and 2 ounces.

—— The following are among the non-commissioned officers and private soldiers lately furloughed by Gen. Gilmore, for distinguished bravery in the trenches before Fort Wagner:

Seventh New Hampshire.—E. Sturdevant, F. W. Spencer, D. Merrill, E. W. Arling, W. F. Spurling, J. W. Cardwell.

Fourth New Hampshire.—F. W. Longee, J. H. Mead, N. Hascomb, R. Hance, E. D. Parsons, A. Knowlton, S. R. Runnells.

Third New Hampshire.—J. M. Parker, Thomas Entwistle of Portsmouth, G. Gilman, W. H. Hill, J. P. Brown, J. Sullivan, M. L. Holt, F. Hosmer, G. H. Giddings, L. George.

—— Burglars entered the Souhegan Bank, at Milford, on Sunday morning by means of false keys, blew off the iron front of the safe, and stole $100 in mutilated bills of the bank, and about $12,500 in notes and U. S. bonds, deposited there for safe keeping. The money of the bank was in the inner chamber, the door of which was not forced. $1000 is offered for the conviction of the burglars.

THE RUSSIAN FLEET AT NEW YORK.—The arrival of a fleet of Russian war vessels in New York harbor has caused quite a sensation among the Gothamites, who are greatly pleased by the event. Some of the papers attach special significance to this unusual demonstration. It is said that the fleet is to visit the Gulf of Mexico. The frigates are all large, well built, and nearly new. Their names are Alexander Nevsky, (flagship,) Peresvick, Osliaba, Variack, Vitease, Almaz, Izoomrood and Gemstook. The last three, however, are yet to arrive.

PRICE OF APPLES.—The highest figures in New York are $2 65 per barrel. Many farmers have contracted their apples in Orleans county, for from $1 to $1 50. It is thought that the winter fruit will be worth $1 50. A few days ago agents were perambulating some of the apple growing districts and offering three dollars per barrel for that fruit. It was noticed that they offered much more liberally than they bought.

☞ The Troy Times chronicles the death of quite an eccentric personage, Abel Brownell, in that city, Sunday last. During a long life he has never eaten an oyster and never touched a clam. Although he sold liquor he never drank anything stronger than sweet cider. He never visited a show. His travels too, were very limited. He had never been south of Troy or west of Schenectady. The great metropolis was known to him only by hearsay. Located in Troy with $45, he loaned $40 and took a mortgage upon some property which he retained until his death.

☞ H. Kaufman, whose son, aged seven years, was kicked on the head by a vicious horse on the 18th of August, publishes a card of thanks in the New Orleans Picayune to Drs. Schuppert, Smith and Zehner, who removed twenty-one splinters from the skull, and treated the patient so skilfully and successfully that he is now entirely out of danger.

CATS.—In August, 1801, a German, whose name we forbear mentioning at the request of our informant, left this city as a volunteer, leaving behind him a wife and a house cat he thought much of. He made his wife promise that whenever his favorite cat had kittens she would not kill them, but keep them and their increase until his return. Faithfully the woman has kept her word, and this forenoon, as we saw ourselves, has about her house in the Third ward, in which she lives, in a shed adjoining, and racing about the premises, the old cat and her children, grand children, great grand children, etc., etc., to the number of two hundred and nine cats, cattets and kittens.—La Crosse Democrat.

☞ The custom of smoking by women has lately been introduced in England, and, according to the Court Journal, is likely to "become very prevalent." That authority says: "Fashion holds such a tyrannic sway over society that we need never be surprised at seeing the most astounding changes of manners, customs and dress brought about through its magic influence."

☞ Stockings to "suit the feet" are now sold in London. They are, like shoes, "rights and lefts." The inner edge of each is quite straight to the extremity of the great toe, while the outer is rounded off to the shape of the foot. Thus plenty of room is insured where the great toe requires it, without such unnecessary largeness in other parts as to create creases in the stuff, and to gall the foot.

☞ The regular army of the United States consists of 2423 commissioned officers and 40,909 enlisted men.

☞ The taxable property of Boston is over half as much as that of New York, though the population is one to five.

☞ An orchestra leader who died in his box in a New York, Theatre, had just arrived at the passage, "I will meet you in Heaven," when a blood vessel broke.

☞ George Sumner, brother of the Senator, is on his death bed in Boston. His death will be a heavy loss to the world of letters.

☞ Judge Holt favors the policy of paying the owners of slaves in Maryland a certain amount on their entering the army, so that when the war is over, they may be free.

☞ The Portland Shovel Manufactory went into operation last week. When in full operation it will turn out two hundred dozen shovels a day.

☞ The Farmington, Me., Chronicle of last week says many farmers have not yet done haying. The barns can't hold all the hay, and many large stacks are seen in traveling through the country.

Beware of the Third Time!

If the two men who gathered the corn in my field on the North Road, on the evening of the 24th inst., and also carried off my hay last summer, do not keep out of said field in future, they will find it rather expensive business. They were seen and known by two other men, to gather and carry away the corn.

CALENDAR CLOCKS.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, leading the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment, and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—To make a Cough Remedy thorough for all Throat and Lung Complaints, and to rid the mind of Climatic causes, when the great error has been the introducing of components which debilitate, and by such to restrain the greatest freedom of use, as the only true theory by which such complaints can be effectually cure, was the point made in this valuable preparation. Wedding, plain, Initial, or Business ENVELOPES, on hand, furnished, or Printed to order—in any style.

All sorts of Cards, Papers, and other stock, furnished for Printing.

CARDS AND BILL HEADINGS are indispensable to the business man, and we would remind all in want of such work, that the Chronicle Office is the place to get it done.

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notice may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

Our terms are as low as those of any other paper.

Local.

STATE MUSTER.—A movement is on foot in military circles to have a muster during the coming month of the New Hampshire State Militia. Gov. Gilmore had partially decided that Portsmouth should be the place of rendezvous, but as matters look now Manchester will be the favored spot.—Indeed, the American of Monday afternoon states that it is determined that Manchester shall be the location, and that the time will be the middle of October. We still hope that no final decision has been made, and that Portsmouth will be favored in this matter. It is stated that there are but ten companies in the State, counting the Amoskeag Veterans of Manchester as four companies.

REPORTED FOR DUTY.—The following named gentlemen (conscripts) from the respective towns mentioned, reported at the Provost Marshal's office on Monday for duty, were properly clothed and will be sent to Concord this morning.

Farmington—Wm. P. Ham, A. P. Watson, and Rufus K. Pearl, (editor of the Farmington Monitor.)

Durham—David O. Davis.

Rochester—Geo. E. Guppy and Ichabod Worcester.

Milton—Wm. E. More, Chas. Hall, John T. Downs, and James F. Place.

Rufus Pearl says in his farewell, "Walk up conscripts, don't be afraid! Let us go to the war like heroes, and get back as soon as we can."

☞ We learn that a young man from Dover, in coming down Piscataqua River on Sunday afternoon in a small boat, ran against the Portsmouth Bridge, breaking the mast and upsetting the boat. He clung to the bridge, and was rescued from drowning by a man who went to his assistance in another boat. His own craft was picked up full of water, some distance down the river.

☞ Tom Thumb and party excited a good deal of interest in this city on Saturday, and drew crowded houses at their levees,—as they do, and as they ought to do, everywhere. Their pony team was a great curiosity for the little folks—and the old folks too; but Com. Nutt made the most fun, and not the least at the Franklin House where they all stopped; and on Monday morning, riding a full-grown horse about our streets, like a veritable monkey. He's a nut, sure.

☞ Agriculture seems to be pursued under difficulties, at Gravelly Ridge, of late. On Wednesday night of last week, seven fine sheep were killed by dogs, out of a flock of eleven belonging to Mr. Chas. Hodgdon; and while watching for the reappearance of the murderous dogs, on Thursday night, his hired men saw some fellows enter a neighbor's premises, and gather and carry off corn, to their liking—as per notice in another column.

☞ Ten or twelve members of the 17th N. H. regiment, residing in this city and vicinity, came home on Saturday evening, having served out their time in the 2d regiment. They return to Concord to-day to be mustered out of service.

POLICE COURT, Monday.—Samuel Kersew, John Quisley and Edward Goodrich, all pleaded guilty to being drunk and were each fined $3, and 3.86, costs.

☞ Mr. Davis' new terms of Singing School, commence on Wednesday afternoon and evening of this week.

☞ To-morrow will be the last day of September,—and closes the month and the third quarter of the year. All persons having accounts with this Chronicle, pro or con, are requested to adjust the same forthwith.

[For the Chronicle.]

IS THE COUNTRY IN DISTRESSING NEED OF TAPE?—Not "red tape," certainly.—But are other kinds of tape so out of the market as to justify the Sabbath desecration which took place at the west end of the town on the last Sabbath.

On Sabbath morning the accustomed quiet of the day was broken by unwonted sounds. We listened with a puzzled surprise. Was the busy hum of yesterday still ringing in our ears? Had we monstrously overslept ourselves, and was it indeed Monday morning? We had heard no factory bells summoning the hands to labor; the big chimney gave no symptom of active life; the farmers and draymen were not on the stir. It was Sunday. But there was the ring of the hammer and the chirr of the saw, showing that there was enterprise at work which knew no Sabbath.—We looked again, and saw a gang of workmen busy at their labors on a new building erected near the Sagamore mill—said to be built for a tape factory.

Who are the proprietors? Who are the contractors of the enterprise that can thus outrage not only christian principle but common respectability? Can we afford to have Sabbath-keeping held at a discount? No close calculator will run the risk of leaving it out of his thrifty economies.

INCHES.

☞ Lean cattle are now conveyed by steamer from Southampton, England, to Charentan, in France, to be fattened in the pastures of that neighborhood, and then returned to the former country to be killed.

☞ Potatoes are said to be rotting badly in the valleys of the Androscoggin. The Ellsworth, Me., American says the rot will destroy more than half the crop in that section of the State.

It is supposed by some that the Prince of Wales visited this country in part to obtain a package of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus. Whether he did or not, it would do honor to the Queen's table to have as nice light Biscuit as that article always makes. If any one has any doubts on the subject, go to your Grocer and get a paper immediately, and find of a truth that there is nothing like it. Everybody sells it.

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pills so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this discovery. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be established by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, BILIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and Bowels, and as a Family Pill. spno

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (see the Act of 1837.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers for Securing Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign patents, to ascertain the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not unrivaled by any other Agency, by which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability in this part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sured having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

MY CROSS.

It is not heavy, agonizing woe,
Bearing me down with hopeless, crushing weight;
Nor any comfort in the gathering gloom;
A heart bereaved, a household desolate.

It is not sickness, with her withering hand,
Keeping me low upon a couch of pain;
Longing each morning for the weary night,
At night for weary day, to come again.

It is not poverty, with chilling blast,
The sunken eye, the hunger-wasted form;
The dear ones pleading their last of bread,
With no safe shelter from the winter's storm.

It is not slander, with her evil tongue;
'Tis not "presumptuous sin" against my God;
Not reputation lost, or friends betrayed;
That cloth is not my cross, I thank my God.

Mine is a daily cross, of petty cares,
Of little duties pressing on my heart,
Of little troubles hard to remove,
Of inward struggles, overcome in part.

My feet are weary in their daily rounds,
My heart is weary of its daily care,
My sinful nature often doth rebel;
I pray for grace my daily cross to bear.

It is not heavy, Lord, yet oft I pine;
It is not heavy, for Thou carest for me;
By day and night, each hour my cross I bear;
I dare not lay it down—Thou keep'st it there.

I dare not lay it down. I only ask
That, taking up my daily cross, I may Follow my Master, humbly, step by step,
Through clouds and darkness, unto perfect day.

BY BEN BRACE.

O, speak not thus of her I love,
And with a love so deep;
In whose glance I live and move,
And yet for whom I weep.

Confess to me thou dost not know
The sacredness of love,
And canst not tell—O, say 'tis so—
What rules those up above.

Julia to me is all that's pure,
Bright, beautiful and good;
I could not think of her as else,
And would not, if I could.

THE BEST COOK STOVE IN THE MARKET,

AFTER ALL SAID,

—IS—

STEWART'S

NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT,

SUMMER AND WINTER

COOKING STOVE,

For Wood or Coal,

IMPROVED IN 1863.

The peculiarities of the

STEWART COOK STOVE,

Embracing the Latest improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, so on the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward moveable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove from the time the article is set in until it is removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR (of copper, with a tin casing) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a DRY CLOSET, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c.

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN prepared in THE TODAY, the 6th day of September, at the Office of the Provost Marshal in Portsmouth, N. H.

The Draft for Belknap County will be made on Tuesday, the 16th, and for Carroll County on the 30th of September, 1863.

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meat can be prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated from the outside, in the HALL, PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT" VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headaches so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off into the flue, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the dome can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

The Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Gold by WM. R. PRESTON, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber,

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.

1st. It is stronger and lighter than any known material.

2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.

3d. When the arch is irregular we can by building out the depressions—which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.

4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect its use.

5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a saucer, as when finished the work presents one whole piece.

6th. While in all ways it is better, save in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

Excellent Wine for Females.

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

As A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

VOL. 23. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. WEDNESDAY SEPT. 30, 1863. NO. 78.

The Chronicle.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined:
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all:
Exalt the right, though every foe fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

☞ Advices from New Orleans report the capture off Ship Island of the rebel steamers Alabama, from Savannah for Mobile, and the Montgomery—blockade runners also the destruction of the rebel steamer Fox. This all occurred in one day, the 12th inst.

☞ As a Tennessee lady was entering Memphis with a couple of bales of cotton, she was stopped by three guerillas who benevolently offered to relieve her of her burden by burning it. She demurred and produced a revolver, intimating that if the guerillas did not go off the revolver would. There was no occasion for shooting.

"Cheek" is thus defined. Cheek is a rare union of fun, impudence, readiness, perseverance, and intelligence, endowing its possessor with the power of walking quietly over social obstacles, which form an impassable barrier to the rest of mankind.

☞ Very few of the Democratic papers have alluded to the secession letter of Frank Pierce. The Boston Post refers to it very gingerly, as "a private, personal and hasty letter to an old friend and official associate."

☞ The steamship McClellan, which sailed from New York on Saturday for New Orleans, took out a smooth bore gun, weighing 49,550 pounds, throwing a 400 pound solid shot.

☞ The N. Y. Herald's Washington correspondent says it is rumored that the resignation of Gen. Burnside has been accepted, and that Gen. Hooker is talked of as his succesor.

☞ Connecticut can boast of having nearly 3,000 industrial establishments, and capital to the amount of $46,000,000 invested in manufacturing business, giving employment to 60,000 hands.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for successfully obtaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered from elsewhere. The Testimonials below prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of the skill and ability in his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their case, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

A Cairo dispatch to the Chicago Tribune says that rumors from below report that Gen. Steele is falling back on Helena, leaving a garrison at Little Rock. A Memphis dispatch to the same paper states that arrivals from New Orleans report that the further prosecution of the Texas campaign is abandoned. Both statements are doubtful.

New Orleans advices to the 20th state that the rebel blockade runner steamer Alice Vivian had been captured by the De Sota. Another female bread riot occurred in Mobile, Sept. 4. The 17th Alabama regiment, ordered to put down the disturbance, refused to do duty. The Mobile Cadets were defeated and forced to fly by the women. Peaceful measures finally quieted the famine stricken wretches. The paroled Vicksburg prisoners at Mobile are suffering the greatest hardships for want of care and food, and declare if they are ever forced into the field they will leave in the first battle.

A Washington dispatch gives a statement that Rosecrans had been reinforced by about 18,000 men up to Saturday.

The N. Y. Post's Washington letter says another draft is probable,—for 300,000 men. Those States which can raise their quotas by volunteering will be permitted to do so, the Government paying $300 bounty.

The Richmond Enquirer of the 26th is despondent, because after two distinct efforts for the recapture of Chattanooga, the Federals are still in possession of that strongbold, and fortifying it.

☞ The Russian fleet in New York attracts considerable attention. Already five men-of-war have arrived, and three more are daily expected. They are all steamers, and the largest, the flag-ship, is 4000 tons burthen, and is a first class 50-gun frigate. She has a crew of seven hundred seamen, besides sixteen officers and twenty midshipmen. The commanding officers of the vessels now present in New York harbor are, Rear Admiral Lessoffsky, Captain Frederoffsky, Captain Lund, Captain Kopytov, Captain Kraemer, Flag Captain Lakovmir. The board of Aldermen of Boston passed an order requesting the Mayor to invite the Russian Admiral to visit their harbor with his fleet, and partake of the hospitalities of the city.

☞ The United States Christian Commission, having its central office in New York city and branches in Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis, &c., has sent a large amount of stores and about 50 delegates to Chattanooga for the relief of the wounded in the late battles, making more than 60 delegates in all now at work in that Department.

☞ On Monday, at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., the great boat race for the championship came off. Distance rowed, five miles. Hammill, of Pittsburg, Pa., was the victor in thirty-five minutes and fifty-five seconds, beating Ward, of Newbury, N. Y.

☞ The Macon, Ga., Telegraph says: "A traveller tells us there are thirteen blockade running vessels in Wilmington, all laden with whiskey, while the town itself is clean out of provisions, eaten out by the runners and Shylocks who go there to buy and sell goods.

☞ The York County Cattle Show and Fair is being held at Saco,—closing to-morrow. The fast horses have it, this time —for six trotting premiums are offered.— It's no use trying to run them off the track. Where's Mitchell?—Our thanks to Mr. John Hanscom, the Secretary, for a complimentary ticket, which we regret being unable to use.

☞ The Boston Advertiser contains an important opinion of Judge Sprague, of the U. S. District Court. He gives reasons for declining to proceed further in the matter of several writs of Habeas Corpus, which had been issued before the appearance of the late Proclamation by the President of the U. S. Judge Sprague holds that the Proclamation was authorized by Act of Congress, March 3, 1863.

☞ Col. Trusten Polk, formerly U. S. Senator from Missouri, with his wife and two daughters, were captured at Bolivar Landing, Ark., on the 14th inst., and delivered over to Gen. Buford, commanding at Helena. Col. Polk was Holmes' Judge Advocate General, and was with the rebels at New Madrid, Corinth, Iuka and Cold Springs.

☞ A steam boiler exploded in a machine shop at Buffalo, N. Y., on Friday afternoon, demolishing the building, and burying 30 persons in the ruins.

☞ Fifteen thousand dollars' worth of cheese was sold from a dairy in Cazenovia, N. Y., recently.

☞ A bank clerk in Chicago has recovered $10,000 damages for a false charge of embezzlement.

☞ The different papers in New York city, claiming to be of the democratic party, are disputing with each other over the cause of the copperhead defeat in Maine. The News (Ben Wood's paper) asserts that it was because Bradbury was a War Democrat and because the platform was of the same character, as the News asserts that

The defeat of the Democracy in Maine is attributable to the fact that the war measures of the Administration were not denounced as impolitic and destructive of the best interests of the country. Had the Peace party been represented in the proper manner, the result would have shown a triumph instead of a defeat.—While "the New York Herald, The World and other journals of the War Democracy falsely attribute the defeat to the Peace sentiment."

The truth of the matter in regard to the defeated party in Maine is, that it needed a union of its whole force, and tried to secure it, by adopting a sort of half and half platform, and putting on a candidate who tried to split the difference between loyalty and rebellion. Had they adopted Ben Wood's platform, Bradbury would have lost half his votes! On the other hand had Bradbury remained a War Democrat, as he claimed to be a year ago or thereabouts, he might have been elected by the men who have elected Cony, who is a War Democrat.

Every copperhead traitor in the State undoubtedly voted for Bradbury, and with them thousands of good honest men who knew no better than to follow their old partisan leaders, though wishing well to the country all the while.

But the clear headed War Democrats voted the Union ticket, and elected Cony. His election is not a victory of or for the Republican party,—or any party,—but it is a triumph of Union Democracy of the People of Maine, who wish to secure peace and liberty by crushing out the aristocracy that made the war to strengthen slavery.— It is the triumph of thy Working Men of Maine, who are willing that every Working Man, South as well as North, should receive wages for his labor, and own himself.

U. T.

TENNESSEE.—Washington correspondents say that Hon. Emerson Etheridge is, at the instance of prominent Union men of Tennessee, endeavoring to obtain the consent of the Government of the United States for Gen. B. W. Campbell to be inaugurated Governor of Tennessee, on the ground that he was voted for in the various counties on the first Thursday in August last, the day fixed by law for the election of Governor in that State since 1835. It is claimed he received all the votes cast, and in that State a majority of all the votes given elects. A large vote, it is said by these gentlemen, would have been thrown throughout the State had not Gov. Johnson and his advisers opposed the election. They also say that the inauguration of Gen. Campbell would relieve Gov. Johnson from his labors, and the people of the State, having a civil Governor, would have no difficulty in reorganizing the entire State Government immediately.

NEW YORK RIOT CLAIMS.—Upward of one hundred of the claims for damages by reason of the riot in July, which have been examined by the Supervisors' Committee, have been ordered to be paid by the Controller. Among the sufferers who have received the amount of their claims is the wife of Col. O'Brien. The Committee are pushing forward the work as rapidly as possible, and have now under consideration claims as high as $11,000. The riot is a costly piece of business, as well as disgrace; and the damage now paid is a part of the penalty justly assessed on the city for siding with the rebel aristocracy, a year ago in the state election, and for getting up those rioters murders and robberies to aid them this year.

☞ The Missouri delegation at Washington have appointed a committee of one from each Congressional district of that State, in connection with Gen. Paine and A. C. Meader, of Kansas, to draft a memorial to the President, setting forth their grievances arising out of the policy pursued by Gen. Schofield in his administration of affairs in his Military Department.

☞ The best qualities of anthracite coal are selling in Baltimore at $8 a ton for family sizes, and $7 for nut; by the wholesale, $6 65 a ton. Cumberland coals are $5 50 a ton by the cargo, and $6 50 a ton at retail. Lump coal sells at $7. Of anthracite coal there is an immense stock in the city.

☞ The propeller Admiral, recently launched at New Haven, is the largest ship ever built in Connecticut; she measures two hundred and twenty feet long, thirty-six feet beam, and twenty-six feet deep.

☞ "Recent statistics," says the Paris Opinion Nationale, "show that in one of the lunatic asylums of the department of the Rhone one-third of the patients owe their infirmity of mind to spiritualism."

☞ The steamer City of Albany, recently purchased by the Government, was destroyed by fire on Monday afternoon, at Baltimore.

EXEMPTION NOTICE.

List of men examined and exempted at the office of the Provost Marshal of the 1st Cong. District, N. H., September 29:

DOVER.

Samuel D Gilman — In second class.

JOHN S. GODFREY,
Capt. and Provost Marshal, 1st Cong. Dist., N. H.
Portsmouth, Sept. 29, 1863.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as the cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26o

CALENDAR CLOCKS.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers, and can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment; and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar clock no more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

One of Hunnewell's Preparations.
HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—To make a Cough Remedy thorough for all Throat and Lung Complaints, and to rid the mind of Climatic causes, when the great error has been the introducing of components which debilitate, and by so doing to restrain the greatest freedom of use, as the only true theory by which such complaints can be effectually cure, was the point made in this valuable preparation. To prevent asking attention to long stories of great cures, and to long descriptive technicalities, I would add confidence which will be snored, in COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, SORE THROAT BRONCHIAL AND ASTHMATIC COMPLAINTS, to all THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS, which, when neglected, end in CONSUMPTION, and to prove the declarations by true results.

Local.

THE DRAFT for Belknap County was made in this city on Tuesday—the details of which we present elsewhere. It was done "decently and in order," and all concerned are as well as could be expected.

Carroll County is on the docket for today—which will complete the 1st N. H. Cong. District.

☞ On Monday afternoon three men, named Alfred and Albert Leach, (brothers), and Nicholas Weeks, started for Spruce Creek from Kittery Foreside, in a wherry, having a barrel of flour and sundry articles of provisions aboard; and on the way a dispute arose from some cause unknown, to settle which one of the party proposed to go ashore and "fight it out." Accordingly they landed at Mr. Duncan's, near Kittery Point Bridge, and after pounding each other sufficiently to meet the present demands of honor, got into the boat and proceeded towards home. Their insatiate passions, however, were not yet gratified, and they had not gone far ere the quarrel was renewed, and high words produced blows; and a general scuffle ensued, during which the boat was capsized, and all three were drowned! One of the bodies was recovered on Tuesday morning, clinging with a death-grasp to the gunwale of the boat.—They belonged at Kittery Point and vicinity, and were from twenty to twenty-three years of age. They were employed on the Navy Yard, and answered the roll-call Monday morning.

P. S. Since the above was written, we have been informed that there were four persons in the boat, one of whom was saved. The Messrs. Leach were twin sons, aged 19 years; and Mr. Weeks was an only son, of 20 years old.

A FINE ESTATE.—The Messrs. Clement and Charles W. March are, and have been for a long time, making great improvements in their fine patrimonial country seat at Greenland. The great extent of handsome granite wall on either side of the road, near the house, stretching out in all perhaps a mile or so, will doubtless for ages testify to the liberality and enterprise of the present owners. But there are other features less evident to the passer, which prove no less interesting on inspection.

As a great rarity in this country and these times, a portion at least of the grounds have been in possession of the March family for seven generations; and the family tomb, across the road from the house, has inscriptions reaching over more than a century.

The granite so extensively used for the fences, and building stone all about the farm, is singularly and beautifully clouded, and comes from Mr. March's own quarry near Raymond. It is of rare quality, and very handsome, and apparently of great durability. One pretty feature of the grounds is the carriage-way of white seapebbles leading to the tomb—which were laid by the host himself.

Besides greatly enlarging and improving the old family mansion and its immediate surroundings, during the past year, Mr. March is putting up almost any number of large and handsome outbuildings. A new cottage for the gardener, and house refitted for the Superintendent of the farm, with a new stable for the ten or twelve horses kept on the premises, and an octagonal corn-crib or granary, are among the structures completed; while an immense barn is yet in progress, and others will eventually grow up. Mr. Sargent, of Newburyport, is the architect in charge of all this; and his skill and handicraft are apparent everywhere, both in-doors and out.

But among the greatest and most important of all the numerous improvements, are the water-courses being laid, both to drain the lower lands, and also to supply the house and stables with abundance of pure, soft water. A never-failing well furnishes amply for drinking purposes; and two hydraulic rams—those singular little Titans—located at the foot of the hill—by giving them a fall of seven feet, throw to a height of seventy feet, even to the top of the house, a plenty of the water from the spring-fed brook, which never runs dry and never freezes up. This runs through half a mile or so of lead pipe, well sunk below frost and which crosses the road twice in its long course.

The fittings and furnishings of the house, and the bountiful hospitality dispensed, are in good keeping with the fine landed estate, and the ample means of the proprietors—as the little horseback party of Monday has pleasing evidence, in their chance call of an hour. What with the cordial courtesy and attention of the host, and the luxury of grapes from his own vines, and the veritable pure juice of the same from Madeira, and the still greater but cheaper and more common luxuries of the beautiful landscape, fresh air and bright sunshine, and the enlivenment of a brisk saddle-ride, the afternoon passed too quickly away; and the magnificent golden sunset found us just reaching home, with the pleasantest memories of that visit.

POLICE COURT, Sept. 29, Odell, J.—John Barrows, drunk in street, fined $3, costs, $2.92. Julia Ann Barrows, his wife, same offence, and same fine. Both committed.

PROMPT.—The notification to every man drafted on Tuesday, at the Provost Marshal's office in this city, was sent out before Tuesday evening. There were about four hundred and fifty, and the drawing was completed at 4 o'clock.

☞ The body of private Isaac C. Drew, 16th N. H. V., of this city, (whose death we have before chronicled,) arrived home on Monday evening. The funeral services will be held at the Methodist Church, this (Wednesday) morning at 10 o'clock.

☞ Orders are expected soon to launch the Franklin. Her engines, built at the Atlantic Works, East Boston, are finished and waiting for orders.

☞ Mr. Davis' new terms of Singing School, commence this (Wednesday) afternoon and evening.

Communication.

We, as well as "Inches," noticed the pounding, last Sunday, on the new building erected for the manufacture of tape, braid, &c., and, on inquiring, was told that it was necessary, in order to inclose the building, that the fall wind may not take up the top, or otherwise injure it, as it once did the great factory. We thought the reason a proper one, and found our objection removed. We hope that no writers or others will say or do anything tending to disparage or discourage the business enterprise of our city.

The circumstance reminds us of an incident at North Berwick, where we noticed a distinguished "friend," or quaker, making hay on the Sabbath, and asked him if it was according to scripture. He answered yes; when we told him we did not remember the passage. He said,—Does thee not remember when the beast fell into the ditch? We said yes. Well, said broadbrim, it was of no use to get him out unless you had something for him to eat. B.

SKATING.—Mr. Editor:—Allow me to second the motion of your sensible correspondent regarding the skating park.

There is much disposition among our townsmen to secure the pleasure and health resulting from the exhilarating exercise of skating—yet there seems to be no one quite enterprising enough to start the project of flooding and snow-clearing.* Will not my unknown friend take a subscription paper round among our well to-do citizens and allow them the privilege of furthering this scheme? Any man who is fortunate enough to possess three or four children would be glad to make this pastime a certainty, rather than an accident. If "Heaven gives us enough in giving us preparation," let us show our appreciation of it by embracing it.

——The Annual Drill and Parade of the Militia of the State will be held on the 14th and 15th of October.

☞ Potatoes are selling at Bangor for 45 cents a bushel, for shipping.

It is supposed by some that the Prince of Wales visited this country in part to obtain a package of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus. Whether he did or not, it would do honor to the Queen's table to have as nice light Biscuit as that article always makes. If any one has any doubts on the subject, go to your Grocer and get a paper immediately, and find of a truth that there is nothing like it. Everybody sells it.

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

TO-NIGHT.

To-night, to-night a phantom show
Of whirling memories, to and fro,
Pallid ghosts, that have been laid
Buried in my heart and brain,
Rise from out their hiding places,
With their long forgotten faces,
Clasp my hand and kiss my brow.
God, I know them, faithless now.
Eyes so black and eyes so blue,
Come ye here my soul to woo?
Thrill my heart with one mere glance,
Tread with me one mazy dance,
While, within your arms, I whirl
Happy-hearted, laughing girl.

To-night, to-night I reel and swim
Back thro' the past, and kiss the brim
Of many an hour whose golden flow
Made bright my world of long ago.
To-night, to-night my thirsty soul
Drinks deeply from the flowing bowl.
The fragrant draught I've drank before,
The ruby-tinted stream of yore.

Ayer's SARSAPARILLA,

THE WORLD'S GREAT REMEDY FOR

Scrofula and Scrofulous Diseases.

From Sherry Ellis, a leading merchant of Pittsburgh, Penn.

"I have sold large quantities of your SARSAPARILLA, but never have witnessed results so decisive and of the desired effect and full satisfaction to the persons who took it. As fast as my people try it, they agree there has been no medicine like it offered here in our community."

Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Pustules, Ulcers, Sores, and all Diseases of the Skin.

From Rev. Rufus Stratton, Bristol, England.

"I only do my duty to you and the public, when I add my testimony to that you publish of the medicinal virtues of your Sarsaparilla. My wife, daughter, aged ten, had an inflaming humor in her ears and hair of years, which we were unable to cure until we tried your AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. She has been well for some months."

From Mrs. Jane E. Rice, a well-known and much esteemed lady of Charlestown, Mass., writes Dec. 4, 1857.

"My own, and my family's experience with your Sarsaparilla is a marvellous exertion, which was very troublesome during allgalia, and relief until we tried you. Sarsaparilla which alone has effectually cured her."

From Charles P. Gage, Esq., of the widely known firm of Gage, Marsing & Co., manufacturers of enamelled leather, in Newburyport, Mass.

"I had for several years a very troublesome humor in my face, which grew constantly worse until it covered my features and became an intolerable affliction. I tried almost everything in the world of both advertised and medicine, but without any relief whatever, until I took your SARSAPARILLA. It wasted my disease, and I now feel as well and look as much as I might for a time; but in a few weeks the new skin began to form under the blotches, and continued to heal from the head to the feet, and I am without any symptoms of the disease that I know of. It seems perfect health, and without a doubt owes its cure to your SARSAPARILLA."

Erysipelas—General Debility—Purify the Blood.

From Dr. Robt. Severin, Houston St., New York.

"Dr. AYER. I seldom fail to remove Eruptions and Scrofulous Sores by the persevering use of your SARSAPARILLA, and I know just enough of the nature of Malignant Erysipelas with it. No alterative we possess equals the SARSAPARILLA you have supplied to the profession as well as to the people."

From J. E. Johnson, Esq., Wakeman, Ohio.

"For twelve years, I had the yellow Erysipelas on my face and, during which time I tried all the celebrated physicians and spent much and took hundreds of dollars worth of medicine. The doctors were so bad that the cords became visible, and the doctors declared I never could be cured. I at last began taking your SARSAPARILLA. Took two bottles, and some of your PILLS. Together they have cured me. I am now as well and sound as any body. Being in a public place, my case is known to every body in this community, and excites the wonder of all."

From Hon. Henry Moore, M. P. P., of Newcastle, C. W., a leading member of the Canadian Parliament.

"I have used your SARSAPARILLA in my family, for general debility, and for purifying the blood, with very marked good effect, and feel confidence in commending it to the afflicted."

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Sore Eyes.

From Harvey Stether, Esq., the able editor of the Pauldingville Journal, Pauldingville.

"Our only child, when two years of age, was attacked by pimples on his forehead. They rapidly spread until they formed a Rheumatic and exfoliate sore, which burned like fire, and actually blinded his eyes for some days. A skilful physician applied nitrate of silver and other remedies, without any apparent good. Sleep was lost, and we guarded his hands, lest with them he should tear the burning and corrupt wound which covered his whole face. Having tried every thing else we had any hope from, we began to use your SARSAPARILLA, and applying the iodide of potash lotion, as you directed. The sore began to heal when we had given the first bottle, and we had but little more of either the second. The child's eyelashes, which had come out, grew again, and he is now as healthy and fair as any other. The whole neighborhood predicted that the child must die."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

From Dr. Hiram Stout, of St. Louis, Missouri.

"I find your SARSAPARILLA a more efficacious remedy for the secondary symptoms of Syphilis and for syphilitic disease than any other we possess. The profession are indebted to you for some of the best medicines we possess."

From A. J. Pratt, M. D., an eminent physician of Lawrence, Mass., who is a prominent member of the Legislature of Massachusetts.

"DEAR AYER, My dear Sir, I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent remedy for Syphilis, both of the primary and secondary type, and effectual in some cases of Mercurial disease as good as to other remedies. I do not know what we can employ with more certainty of success, where a powerful alterative is needed."

Mr. Chas. S. Fox, Lessee of New Brunswick, N. J., had dreadful ulcers on his legs, caused by the abuse of mercury, or mercurial diseases, which grew worse and more aggravated, despite the skill of the ablest remedy or treatment that could be applied, until the persevering use of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA relieved him. For years he could not walk without crutches and supporting them they, at, it took several dozen bottles to cure him.

Leucorrhoea, Whites, Female Weakness, are generally produced by internal Scrofulous Humors, and there are no other remedies to compare with the alterative of this SARSAPARILLA. Some cases require, however, as aid of the SARSAPARILLA, the stimulant application of Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

From the well-known and widely celebrated Dr. Jacob Morrill, of Charlestown.

"I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent alterative in diseases of females. Many cases of irregularity, Leucorrhoea, Internal Ulceration, and local debility, arising from the scrofulous diathesis, have yielded to it when no other remedy would, and, in fact, I have found it to be the best one, when itself is properly aided by local treatment."

A long, startling to show the publication of his cure, writes:

"My daughter and wife have been cured of a very debilitating Leucorrhoea of long standing, by two bottles of your SARSAPARILLA."

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Neuralgia, which result from a Scrofulous Humor, are rapidly cured by the EXT. SARSAPARILLA.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS

possess so many advantages over the other purgatives in the market, and their superior virtues are so universally known, that we need not do more than to assure the public their quality is maintained equal to the best it ever has been, and that they may be depended on to do all that they have ever done.

THE BEST COOK STOVE IN THE MARKET,

AFTER ALL SAID, —IS— STEWART'S NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT, SUMMER AND WINTER COOKING STOVE, For Wood or Coal,

IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the STEWART COOK STOVE, Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, upon the grate, after the manner of a coal fire; or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward movable or revolving, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove from the time the article is set in until it is removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent REMOVOIR (of any size, with a tin casing) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET, where articles ready for the table may be placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c.

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DOUBLE OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire-box; and the flame, meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other, and the current instituted for his purpose made subservient to answer the purpose of a roaster, with no increase of combustible fuel.

7. By the aid of the perforated metallic linings, or "gas burning arrangement," and application of the full summer dress, the various culinary processes may be carried forward successfully with a single stick of wood at a time.

8. In regard to DURABILITY, the Stewart Stove is made to last, and will last. The structural form is such that the frame work of it can not burn out.

All the plates constituting the original STEWART STOVE, which was brought out twenty years ago, are still made, and sent to different parts of the country, on call.

The price of QUIETNESS, COMFORT and HEALTH secured to a family by the use of a culinary apparatus perfectly adapted to their wants, cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents.

But we can not, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of the STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention, but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE

Now in use, which has been widely tested FOR TWENTY YEARS, and now found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements, so that the Stewart Stove of 1863 is as superior to that of 1843, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

IT HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE,

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for purposes of baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and cod-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water, also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would invite the attention of those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air whicf comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the mucous membrane is not dried, nor does it produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the air, pass it into the flue or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which joins them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large current of air, and not mixing, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world.—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber,

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.

1st. It is stronger and lighter than any known material.

2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.

3d. When the arch is irregular we can by building out the depressions—which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.

4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the acrimony of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.

5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a saucer, as when finished the work presents one whole piece.

6th. While in all ways it is better, save in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

DR. A. P. STEVENS, Surgeon Dentist,

No. 5 Daniel St., Portsmouth,

Has had four years of practical experience in working this material, and will guarantee satisfaction in all orders entrusted to him.

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

VOL. 23. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. THURSDAY OCT 1, 1863. NO. 79.

The Chronicle.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good; be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every firm fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

☞ "When this cruel war is over," a certain class of copperhead politicians and papers will have a hard account to settle with the free States. A paper in Maine, counting itself loyal, yet did all it could to elect Bion Bradbury, tho' it was known his next friend pledged him to withdraw the Maine Volunteers, when Gov. Seymour shall withdraw those of New York!

This same paper, a few days ago, speaking of Gen. Rosecrans's repulse, said,—

It is to be feared that he was not prepared for Bragg with such reinforcements as he has from Lee's army. He had a right to expect that Gen. Meade would keep Lee from sending them, and he doubtless would have done so, but for the fact that the Secretary of War took half of his army away from him and sent them to New York.

The editor who wrote the above quotation could not have failed to see Gen. Dix's correspondence with Gov. Seymour, in which the latter would not promise protection to the U. S. officers, and so Gen. Dix was compelled to have an army there, to prevent the recurrence of the copperhead "insurrection," as Seymour himself termed it.

Thus the copperhead mob, aided by the Governor whose "immediate constituents" they are,—really made a diversion in favor of the rebel armies.—And now, their partisan and ally in Maine coolly turns round and blames the Administration for thisstate of things, which their own copperhead friends and partisans in New York brought about.

A PROPHECY.—General B. F. Butler, in his speech at Oxford, Chester county, Pennsylvania, on Tuesday last, uttered the following prediction:

But to me this contest has a noble and a wider significance than who shall rule in Pennsylvania. In this contest is involved the very life of the nation, now engaged in a struggle which shall give her a proud eminence among the nations of the earth, or sink her deep among the depressed implements which in God's providence has failed to work out that destiny which seemed to be her glory. And why do I say to you that in the contest of Pennsylvania there is such an issue involved? Because, in my judgment, if, to-day, the great State of New York, the great State of Ohio, and the Keystone of the Arch—Pennsylvania—should give back to the South the same sound that far-distant California has given—that Maine, too, has given, in their decided, firm, and out-spoken majority, not for party, but for country—that in ninety days from that date—and I am no son of a prophet—I predict that the rebellion will be ended.

☞ A well known restaurant keeper, named Brown, died in New York recently, aged 74. He was extensively acquainted and very popular, and it is related that, on one occasion, during a disturbance in the Park Theatre, which several citizens had attempted to quell, by addressing the audience, the manager spied Mr. Brown, and, knowing his popularity, requested him to endeavor to allay the excitement. Mr. Brown consented, and stepping before the curtain, exclaimed: "Gentlemen, what do you wish?" and before he could proceed, some one in the pit sang out, "Roast beef, plenty of gravy," "plum pudding, both sauces," "ham and eggs." The cry was taken up by one and another, until a demand had been made for nearly every article on Mr. Brown's bill of fare. The audience shouted and roared with laughter, and finally regaining their good humor, Mr. Brown retired amid storms of applause, and the performance proceeded without further interruption.

THE MAIN HOPE.—Dr. McClintock writes from England that the hopes of the rebels rest upon the action of the leaders of the opposition in this country, and that the failure of these leaders to compass their ends has summarily knocked away the foundations of the aforesaid hopes. He adds:

"One of those leaders told me in Paris, more than a year ago, with his own lips, that they would never allow the southern slaveholders to be put down. That person—a northern man—is now one of the most active and efficient rebel agents in Europe.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

A letter from the Army of the Potomac says Gen. Meade, accompanied by the Mexican General Cortez, reviewed the 5th corps, on Tuesday. The weather was fair and the review satisfactory.

For some days an address has been circulated through the army, soliciting a ten cent subscription for a memorial of esteem to be presented to Maj. Gen. McClellan.—The parties who subscribed had their money returned to them on Tuesday, and were informed that the design had been abandoned.

The cars took to the army 800 conscripts, on Tuesday, from Washington.

The Vicksburg correspondent of the Chicago Times learns from refugees or spies who come into our lines, that Gen. Kirby Smith has been declared Military Dictator of the trans-Mississippi department, that he has given orders for the conscription of every man between the ages of 16 and 60,—and proposes to arm negroes, giving them freedom and land.

The numerical strength of the colored regiments of U. S. troops actually in the field is stated to be over 20,000 men. This number does not include colored men who have been regularly enlisted in the service and now employed as teamsters and in various other capacities by the Government. The number so employed is 25,000.

Sunday, Gen. Meade et al dined with J Minor Botts. He is living quietly on a recently purchased farm near Culpepper.

At a "Union" meeting at St. Joseph, Mo., on the 22d inst., a Col. Hoyt said, in the course of his address, that after the massacre at Lawrence, he and his companions killed all the Butternuts in Jackson county whom they found with new clothes, the clothes of the murdered citizens of Lawrence.

The latest advices from Charleston are to Friday morning. The army under Maj. Gen. Gilmore is hard at work remodeling batteries Gregg and Wagner, and are making rapid progress towards completing the final arrangements for bombarding the city of Charleston and Fort Moultrie.

The N. Y. World's New Orleans letter of the 22d, says:—

The advance to Texas is still an onward movement, and as yet nothing more. For more than a fortnight Brashear city has been the base of concentration for the new movement. Men and supplies have been forwarded as rapidly as possible by railway, while ordnance stores and ammunition in large amounts have been sent by way of the Gulf to Berwick Bay. These ordnance transports have been used to carry across the troops from Brashear to Berwick. Last Saturday nearly the whole of the 19 Army Corps, under the immediate command of Gen. Weitzel, had crossed and camped on the other side. The 13th Army Corps was to follow, leaving, of course, sufficient force to hold the base at Brashear city, while a regiment or two will remain at Thibodeaux. When Gen. Weitzel's men began to cross the bay, Major's men commenced their movement up the Teche. Those who came back from Brashear, Sunday evening, say that the line of retreat along the bayou was was marked by blazing fires; barns and buildings, cabins and farmhouses—a destruction, as was foretold, of everything likely to give aid and comfort to the invading army. Up to this hour we have not heard of the advance of Franklin's army from the west bank of Berwick Bay. We only know that the larger part of the column was safely across, and waiting patiently for the rest, when the march would begin in the track of the retreating Confederates.

The rebels report that the Morris Island batteries were slowly firing at the ruins of Fort Sumter on the 28th, for the first time for several weeks.

Genl Hooker arrived in Cincinnati on Tuesday.

☞ U. S. steamer Connecticut, Capt. Almy, reports that on the 22d inst. she drove on shore and destroyed the Confederate steamer Phantom, loaded with arms, &c., intending to run the blockade at Wilmington. She was built in England, and is supposed to have been intended for a privateer. The Connecticut chased her about four hours, and finding that she was about being captured, her officers run her ashore and took to their boats and escaped.

Commodore Bell, commanding the Western Gulf Blockading Squadron, reports that on the 12th inst., the steamer Fox, captured by the rebels in April last, was chased into Mississippi Sound and burnt. At the same time another blockade runner, called the Alabama, one of the river boats from Mobile, was chased into Chandelier Islands and captured. Of this capture the Commodore says: "On shore they have been deluded into the belief that the vessel is the privateer Alabama, and she may be so publicly announced."

☞ A steamer over 300 feet long, built in England, and fitted out there for a rebel man-of-war, has been captured by the Seminole. It is reported as the most valuable capture of the war.

☞ Senators Hale and Clark were in town on Wednesday.

☞ Another new Hat Factory is about to be started in Amesbury.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Amoskeag Gun Shop, Manchester, has received another contract for 15,000 more Springfield rifles of the improved pattern. This is the fourth large contract that they have had within a short time.

—— Lieut. Col. Fuller (late of the 16th regiment, nine months' men,) is soon to leave for the Department of the Gulf, where he is to take command of a negro brigade, ranking as Colonel. Capt. Rice and Lieut. Cooper, also of the 16th, are to have commissions in the same brigade.

PATRIOTISM.

The Letter of Franklin Pierce, written before the rebellion—a whole year, taken among Jeff. Davis' papers captured in Mississippi, is very unfairly paraded before the public and commented on by the newspapers. It seems from that letter that Mr. Shepley, of Maine, had just called on Mr. Pierce, and said he would rather go into the Presidential election with Davis as a candidate, than any other man. Now Mr. Shepley is with the administration, and did as much to defeat the democrats in Maine as any other man. Nobody would think to charge Mr. Shepley with being a disloyal man and a promoter of the rebellion, because, long before the war he, as a democrat, favored Jeff. Davis. Mr Shepley did not know there was to be an insurrection; nor did Franklin Pierce; nor did Jefferson Davis; indeed it is a well known fact that Jefferson Davis, though he is the guilty head of the rebellion to-day, was one of the last of the leading men of the South to favor it. He was ready to compromise the matter in dispute; and when that failed, he urged the congressional delegation from Mississippi not to secede, taking the ground that they were not only safe in the Union, but if the South remained the administration would be powerless.

It is evident, therefore, that the subject matter of the correspondence was not the means of promoting rebellion, but in friendly correspondence on political topics, they were discussing what the state of the country would be if a disruption which had been threatening for thirty years, should take place: and Ex-President Pierce expressed the opinion that it could not occur without a revolution in the North. Probably nine persons in ten in this country, or among those in Europe conversant with American affairs, would have expressed the same opinion.

The whole progress of events in the last three years has shown that we did not know ourselves. Mr. Pierce was mistaken—very fortunately for us all. On the other hand it would have been equally fortunate if the other party at the North had been as much mistaken, when they first declared there would be no war following the threats of violence; and next, if there was, it would end in sixty or ninety days. That was quite as wide a mistake. All these things only show that events do not always happen as everybody thinks they will—that human opinion is not infallible; but it does not at all affect the integrity of the parties holding these opinions. In evil days of excitement, when our passions get the better of our intellects, we are apt to think that what a man from cool reason predicts, he desires; but that by no means follows in politics more than in natural events. If a farmer has twenty tons of hay in his fields, and on perceiving a cloud predicts rain in two hours, it is not probable that he desires a storm. No more reasonable is it to say when one has his all of property, family, reputation at stake with his country, and the aspect looks threatening, and he predicts in certain contingencies that the republic will be ruined, that he desires that ruin of himself, his house, and his country.

We have known Gen. Pierce personally and politically for a quarter of a century, and believe we have a fair estimation of his character, abilities, and tendencies—not so high as many of his friends, nor so low as many of his opponents place him. Years before he was dreamed of for President we were in politics in New Hampshire, in opposition to Franklin Pierce, and very generally we have differed with him since—always on the question of slavery; and it would take much more than we have ever heard, seen, or read to convince us that Franklin Pierce was a plotter of treason, an enemy to the Union, or filled with hatred to his country and Republican liberty. He may be wrong headed, and easily induced, according to our views, to go astray, but when we knew him no man's heart and soul were more devoted to his country. This was his peculiar trait of character; nor have we reason to think—differing from him as we do now—that he in the least lacks patriotism.—Newburyport Herald.

Fort Sumter.—The N. Y. Commercial says that before the late assault on Sumter, Admiral Dahlgren had satisfactorily ascertained that there were only twenty men left to garrison the fort; but unfortunately he made his preparations for the assault during daylight, which aroused the vigilance of the rebels, who reinforced the garrison immediately after nightfall with certainly not less than a thousand men, and had every preparation made to give the storming party a warm reception.

☞ Mercantile letters from Port au Platte, St. Domingo, positively state that the city had not been bombarded by a Spanish vessel of war, as before reported. A bombardment had been threatened, and the foreign residents had in consequence taken refuge on ship-board, but no demonstration had been made at last accounts. There had been a fight in the vicinity of the city, between the Dominicans and Spaniards, the loss on both sides being about one hundred. Letters represent the country to be in a bad condition.

☞ Count Gurowski is writing a second book upon politics and politicians, as seen from his standpoints.

CALENDAR CLOCKS.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and celebrated combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, and secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment; and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

One of Hunnewell's Preparations.

HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—To make a Cough Remedy thorough for all Throat and Lung Complaints, and to rid the mind of Climatic causes, when the great error has been the introducing of components which debilitate, and by such to restrain the greatest freedom of use, as the only true theory by which such complaints can be effectually cure, was the point made in this valuable preparation. To prevent asking attention to long stories of great cures, and to long descriptive testimonials, I would ask confidence which will be sacred, in COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, SORE THROAT BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC COMPLAINTS, to all THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS, which, when neglected, end in CONSUMPTION, and to prove the declarations by true results.

Local.

☞ The draft for the Counties of Belknap and Carroll was made by Frederick F. Dodge, Esq., of this city, to the entire satisfaction of all present. Whether the "lucky ones," who are indebted to Fred. for their prizes, will appreciate his efforts in their behalf remains to be seen. We would suggest that they present him with a medal bearing on one side a figure of Justice, and an appropriate inscription on the other.

In Wolfboro, a son of Surgeon Hall was drawn—his father being engaged in the drawing. The son has served a year in the U. S. Infantry, as Hospital Steward, being in the last Bull Run and other battles, occurring about that time.

Two dead men were drafted Wed. morning.—There was one man enrolled in Hale's Location. His name was placed with those of Conway, and he was the tenth man drawn.

In Belknap, first town is ordered to report for examination on Tuesday, Oct. 13, the drafted men to come in detachments of 50 daily, until the examinations are completed.

We believe the draft for this State is now finished, except for the cities of Manchester and Nashua.

☞ Mr. James Heath, a carpenter employed on the Navy Yard, inflicted a severe wound upon his foot with an axe, on Monday last. The nature of the wound is such that he will probably be laid up for some time. Mr. Heath met with an accident about a year and a half ago, on the Yard, by falling from a staging on the Ossipee, which came very near killing him. So bad were his injuries at that time, that the doctor deemed it best not to set the broken bones, as he tho't he could not possibly live. Altogether he seems an unfortunate man.

[Communication.]

MR. EDITOR,—Allow me to correct, in your paper, some erroneous statements, which were coined and industriously circulated, about the commutation money paid by one of our respected city pastors who happened to be drafted. 1. The money paid, ($300,) was not properly commutation; for 2. he being over the proper age, he could not have been held by the draft, but would have gone as a volunteer; but 3. his society voted not to consent. And 4. the money which he thus gave to the government, was his own, and was not the gift of the society, nor of the individual members. I know of no reason why it might not have been so done, innocently; but when even professional liars take so much pains to speak evil of the things they know not,—it seems worth while to state the simple facts.

A PARISHIONER.

THE OLDEST AMERICAN NEWSPAPER. The Number of the New Hampshire Gazette which is printed to-day—in all making about Whole No. 5564—completes another volume, and the one hundred and seventh year of its publication. An item went the rounds of the press recently, putting a Newport paper, we think, at the head of the old ones—but the Gazette was started in 1756, and is, beyond all question, the veteran print, but by a few years only.

We will simply say, for the information of any reader unacquainted, that we haven't printed it during all that time—though we believe that one of the present editors has been in the harness longer than any other at present acting editor in the State. The Gazette had for many years been merely an appendage to a party, and must blow hot and cold to suit the leaders—which was not always easy; but latterly it is "bound to no party," and doesn't suit any exactly, and doesn't want to. Until within the last two years, probably, it had not for a long time paid its cost,—but was a hanger-on the Democratic party; but now it runs along with the Chronicle, and is enjoying a vigorous old age.

THE MUSTER.—The training, or three days' encampment, which was first announced to be held in Portsmouth, is without doubt to be held in Manchester. Various reasons are assigned—among others, that a certain public gentleman of this city, stated in Concord that he "didn't hear much said about it in Portsmouth, and guessed the people (here) didn't care much about it." A good deal of dissatisfaction exists here, about the matter—and we have no doubt that most of the officials concerned, including the Governor, as well as the military and the people of the State generally, would prefer to come Portsmouth on the occasion. But Manchester is full of live men—first class, wealthy, business or professional men,—and when there is half a chance of getting up a celebration to benefit Manchester, they are on hand and alert to secure it—as, we regret to say, similar citizens of our good Portsmouth, generally, are not, to such an extent. Such matters here are generally left too much to take care of themselves—though we would by no means be understood as censuring *any*body in particular on this occasion. Only, if it is desirable to secure such entertainments or gatherings here,—then the matter is worthy the attention of all our citizens, and should receive it.

[Communication.]

We learn that the reason why the muster was not held in this city was, that the proprietors of the Elm House, on the Plains, charged too much for the use of the premises for the offices!

☞ Mr. Laws announces this morning that with to-day, October 1st, he commences a new arrangement with his Boston Express—and will hereafter run two trips a day each way, his new messenger, Mr. Albert Chamberlain, jr., leaving Portsmouth at 11 o'clock, and Boston at 5. All Mr. Laws' friends and patrons will rejoice that his increasing business calls for this step, which will so much better accommodate his customers.

LOSS OF THREE LIVES ON THE COAST OF AFRICA.—The Sierra Leone Times of Aug. 5 contains an account of the loss of the Captain, Second Mate and Steward of the bark William H. Randall, Captain Wright, of Boston. The bark, on her way from Jenkins, struck on the banks off Shengai, and the only boat being upset in an effort to get out a second anchor, the captain swam out to recover it. Unfortunately four lines parted in succession, and the second mate (the captain's brother) and the steward, both of whom had gone to the relief of the captain, were adrift. In the meantime, the bark floated off, and there were no means of rescuing either. Their voices were heard for several hours, but as the wind blew strong, the night was dark, and there was danger that the vessel would be a total wreck, nothing could be done for them. Had there been another boat they might easily have been saved. A life buoy was in possession of the second mate, and it is barely possible that he stood some chance of escaping, but the hope is small.

A SALVE FOR EVERY SORE.—When we consider the various diseases to which the skin is subject, it must be an object of importance to have at hand a sure and certain cure for most of them. For recent flesh wounds, obstinate ulcers, troublesome felons, sore breast, ringworm and scald head, and chaffings of the tender skin of infants, as well as for wens and callouses, "Grace's" Universal Salve is a certain and rapid remedy. Every father who goes into the woods should carry a box in his pocket, and every mother of a family should have a 25 cent box in the cupboard. See advertisement in another column.

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. ly.

SYMPATHY.—Sympathy is a lovely and beautiful thing, for it exhibits the angelic part of human nature. We deeply sympathize with those who cannot obtain Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus, for they are deprived of one of the greatest luxuries the world affords. But we have no sympathy with any family who will use any other Saleratus or soda, if this article can be purchased. We see most of our Merchants have it. One trial will convince any one. Their depot is 112 Liberty Street, New York.

DESERTERS.—Some pains is taken to contradict the statement going the rounds of the press that 118,000 men were absent without leave from the Army of the Potomac alone—in other words, had deserted—is incorrect. From figures in the Provost Marshal's office it is ascertained that on the 1st of July last, there were only about 93,000 deserters from all the armies in the field.

The latter number sounds large: but there can be no doubt that some thousands of these ninety three are either discharged, or sick or dead. For example, take this item from the Newburyport Herald:

In the names of Co. B, 25th regiment, published on Monday, Amos H. Geary was reported a deserter. Though it so stands on the books of that regiment, it is not a fact. We have seen his discharge papers, given at the hospital in Alexandria. We have no doubt many others—not of that regiment alone, but in all the corps of the army—are in a like situation.

Ayer's SARSAPARILLA,

THE WORLD'S GREAT REMEDY FOR Scrofula and Scrofulous Diseases.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer, Lowell, Mass.

"I have sold large quantities of your SARSAPARILLA, but never let one bottle which filled of the desired effect and full satisfaction to those who took it. As a testimony of the virtues of your SARSAPARILLA, may be cited the fact that there has never been no medicine like it before in our community."

Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Pustules, Ulcers, Sores, and all Diseases of the Skin.

From Rev. Robt. Stratton, Bristol, England.

"I feel it my duty to bear my humble testimony to the benefit I received from your SARSAPARILLA. My disease, which was of the most distressing character, for years, affected my ears, eyes, and hair for years, which we were unable to cure until we tried your SARSAPARILLA. She has been well for some months."

From Mrs. Jane H. Brown, of Kingston and much esteemed lady of Dr. Brown, Cape May Co., N. J.

"My daughter has suffered for a year past with a scrofulous eruption, which we could not cure. Nothing afforded any relief until we tried your SARSAPARILLA, which soon completely cured her."

From Chester P. Gage, Esq., Agent of the widely-known Gage, Harvey & Co., Manufacturers of enameled papers in Newburgh, N. Y.

"I had for several years a very troublesome humor in my face, which grew worse and worse until it disfigured my features and became an intolerable affliction. I tried almost every thing a man could of both from the medical profession, without any relief whatever, until I took your SARSAPARILLA. It immediately made my face worse, as you told me it might. For a time, but in a few weeks the new skin began to form under the blotches, and continued until my face is as smooth as any body's, and I am without any symptoms of the disease that I know of. I enjoy the best of health, and without a doubt owe it to your SARSAPARILLA."

Erysipelas—General Debility—Purify the Blood.

From Dr. Robt. Corrie, Boston St., New York.

"Dr. Ayer, I cannot tell you how much your Pills and Sarsaparilla Sarsa by the persevering use of your SARSAPARILLA, and I have just now cured an attack of Malignant Erysipelas with it. No alterative we possess equals the SARSAPARILLA you have supplied to the profession as well as to the people."

From J. E. Johnston, Esq., Wakeman, Ohio.

"For twelve years I had the worst form of Erysipelas on my right arm, during which time I tried all the celebrated physicians I could reach, and took hundreds of dollars worth of medicines. The physicians were so bad that the cords became visible, and the doctors decided that my arm must be amputated. I began using your SARSAPARILLA. Took two bottles, and some of your PILLS. Together they have cured me. I am now as well and sound as any body. Being in a public place, my case is known to every body in this community, and excites the wonder of all."

From Hon. Henry Moore, M. P. P., of Newcastle, C. W., a leading member of the Canadian Parliament.

"I have used your SARSAPARILLA in my family, for general debility, and for purifying the blood, with very beneficial results, and feel confidence in commending it to the afflicted."

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Sore Eyes.

From Harvey Seldon, Esq., the able editor of the Tuscaloosa (Alabama) Independent.

"Our only child, about three years of age, was attacked by pimples on his forehead. They rapidly spread until they covered his face, and left ugly scars, which covered his face, and actually blinded his eyes for some days. A skilful physician applied nitrate of silver and other remedies, without any apparent effect. For fifteen days we guarded his hands, lest with them he should tear open the festering and corrupt wound which covered his whole face. Having tried every thing else we had any hope from, we began giving your SARSAPARILLA, and applying the Ointment and Pills to his face, as you direct. The sore began to heal when we had given the first bottle, and was well when we had finished the second. The child's eyelashes, which had come out, grew again, and he is now healthy and fair as any other. The whole neighborhood predicted that the child must die."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease

From Hon. Jos. Lee, Lynchburg, Virginia, Member of Congress.

"I feel for your SARSAPARILLA a more special remedy for the secondary symptoms of Syphilis and Mercurial Disease than any other medicine. The preparation are indeed to you for some of the best medicines we have."

From J. J. Peck, M. D., the eminent physician of Albany, and President of the medical society of the Legislature of Massachusetts.

"DR. AYER. My dear Sir: I have found your SARSAPARILLA a valuable adjunct in the treatment of both of the primary and secondary type, and cases that were too obstinate to yield to other remedies. I have found it when we can employ it more decisively of course, where a power ful alterative is required."

Mr. Chas. S. Vaughan of New Brunswick, N. J., had disfigured with Ulcers on his face, the effects of mercury, or mercurial disease, which grew more and more aggravated for years, in spite of every remedy or treatment. A few bottles of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA entirely cured him.

Two cases can be found more inveterate and discouraging than this, and it took several dozen bottles to cure him.

Leucorrhœa, Whites, Female Weakness, are invariably produced by internal Scrofulous Corruption, and no very other cured by the alterative effect of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. In these cases, however, to aid of the SARSAPARILLA, the skilful application of local remedies.

From the well-known, and widely-celebrated Dr. Hunter, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

"I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent alterative in diseases of females. Many cases of Leucorrhœa, Uterine Ulceration, Uterine Tumors, and local sensitiveness, arising from the scrofulous diathesis, have yielded to its use. There are few that do not, when the cure is properly attended by local treatment."

A very unwilling testimony to the publication of his name, writes:

"My daughter and myself have been cured of a very severe disease, of long standing, by two bottles of your SARSAPARILLA."

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Neuralgia,

when caused by Scrofula in the system, are rapidly cured by the Key. SARSAPARILLA.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS

possess so many advantages over the other purgatives in the market, and their superior virtues are so universally known, that we need not do more than to assure the public their quality is maintained equal to the best it ever has been, and that they may be depended on to do all that they have ever done.

THE BEST COOK STOVE IN THE MARKET,

AFTER ALL SAID,

—IS—

STEWART'S

NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT, SUMMER AND WINTER

COOKING STOVE,

For Wood or Coal.

IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the

STEWART COOK STOVE,

Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, upon the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward movable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove from the time the article is set in until it is removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR (of copper, with a tin casing) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space occupied by the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c.

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a SECRET OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire-box; and the fumes, meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no fear of combustion.

7. By the aid of the perforated metallic linings, or "ash burning arrangement," and application of the full summer dress, the various culinary processes may be carried forward successfully with a single stick of wood at a time.

8. In regard to DURABILITY, the Stewart Stove is made to last, and will last. The structural form is such that the frame work of it can not burn out.

All the plates constituting the original STEWART STOVE, which was brought out twenty years ago, are still made, and cast to different parts of the country, on call.

The price of QUIETNESS, COMFORT and HEALTH secured to a family by the use of a culinary apparatus perfectly adapted to their wants, cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents.

But we can not, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of the STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE

Now in use, which has been widely tested

FOR TWENTY YEARS,

and NOT found wanting in any particular. Yet, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1863 is as superior to that of 1843, as the Moving Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

IT HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED

yet, as a Family Stove. Here follow the names of a few of the numerous purchasers of the

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as thoroughly tested in families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the above celebrated and valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from the smallest fire-pot and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reasons are obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed, a fault so common in other furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 30 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off in large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and that it may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world, and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber,

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.

1st. It is stronger and lighter than any known material.

2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.

3d. When the arch is irregular we can by building out the depressions—which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.

4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.

5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a saucer, as when finished the work presents one whole piece.

This article is in all respects better, save in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

The Chronicle.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though everyism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

☞ The Concord Patriot has not yet published ex-president Pierce's letter to Jeff. Davis: but the Boston Courier publishes it, with an editorial comment of apology, defence and approval. The Newburyport Herald also apologizes for him and the letter. The Patriot, however, may be supposed to understand New-Hampshire politics as well as any body out of the state; and though it may and probably will publish some of these defences by-and-by, yet its studied silence so far, shows that the letter will be likely to displease loyal democrats, and disaffect them to Mr. Pierce, and to the party with which he is now acting. The parallel attempted to be drawn between Shepley and Pierce, does not run very far. True they were both Democrats, and so to speak, Davis Democrats, before the rebellion:—but now Shepley fights both the rebels and the copperheads—while Pierce fights neither; but his Concord 4th of July speech agrees with his letter to Jeff. Davis; and both of them must damage the copperhead cause in New-Hampshire. U. T.

☞ "Where liberty dwells, there is my country," is a fine quotation, says Uncle Toby; and for many years we have acted and spoken in accordance with a desire that liberty for all its inhabitants might not only be proclaimed, but DWELL in OUR country, our WHOLE country. The liberty we desire is not license to run riot and disregard the rights of others; and we have no sympathy with the doctrine that slavery and freedom stand on equal ground, or that christian impartiality requires us to treat robbers as we do honest men. We would rather have OUR country honest, than to call it great; and we know, that a man or a government, which oppresses or enslaves the meanest and weakest, would also be unjust in great things if it had the power and the temptation. U. T.

☞ A Boston paper says "it has a record for a month of thirty-two cases of death by delirium tremens in Boston and the immediate vicinity. This great number of deaths from this one cause, is the result of drinking the vile compounds which are now sold freely as wines, beers, ales, and other intoxicating beverages. Formerly, these worse than useless beverages only stupefied, now they poison: young men, if they wish to prolong their lives, should avoid them; keep away from the places where such drinks are sold; and give them no countenance whatever."

☞ The recherche hat, in New York, is described as of silver colored straw, of exquisite braid and artistic proportions.—Trimmings of short white feathers, mingled together, and slightly overarching the front; clusters of blue velvet convolvulus on the sides, and the same for inside trimmings; strings of white ribbon, edged with ruching of narrow blue velvet.

A TARDY HONOR.—Wm. C. Bryant, editor of the N. Y. Evening Post, was a member of the class of 1813, Williams College, though not a graduate of it. This year the trustees voted to place his name in the catalogue, as a graduate of that year, thus virtually giving him his degree fifty years after leaving college. This is not only a tardy honor, but it might be asked, with propriety, whether it was conferred upon Mr. Bryant or the College.—Dover Star.

☞ There are now about nine thousand rebel prisoners at Fort Delaware. Comfortable barracks have been erected, which are used by the prisoners as well as our own men. A hospital to contain 600 beds, has just been completed.

☞ Twenty ladies have been arrested for disloyalty at Westminister, Va., but they thought the county jail "horrid" in comparison with taking the oath of allegiance, and, having taken the oath and governed themselves accordingly, were set at liberty.
